The Tennessee Genealogical Magazine, "Ansearchin" News, is the official publication of The Tennessee Genealogical Society. All subscriptions begin with the first issue of the year. Non-delivery of a magazine should be reported to the Society within two months of the usual delivery date. There is a $3.00 charge for redeeming and re-mailing any magazine returned for an incorrect address unless we are timely notified of an address change. Subscribers may submit annually without charge one query of fifty words or less; queries received by November 1 will be considered for publication during that calendar year. Contributions of all types of genealogical material will be accepted. We solicit previously unpublished Tennessee connected data, preferably with pre-Civil War dates, all subject to editing for style and to save space. Every effort is made to print accurate material correctly; however, neither The Tennessee Genealogical Society, "Ansearchin" News nor the Editor can assume responsibility for contributor errors. Corrections of proven errors will be published. Contributions are available in the society library for subscriber use. Books donated to our library by authors or publishers are reviewed in the earliest possible issue of the magazine.

OVER THE EDITOR'S DESK

Now that Labor Day is over and schools are back in session, many of us are able to resume our lives on a more regular schedule...or so we suppose. Then there are others of us (and I'm one of these) who say "Where has the summer gone? I'm only on July schedule." We have so many opportunities to further our research, and we fully intend to pursue them, but somehow we never seem to get caught up...or am I the only one in this condition? Perhaps one of the opportunities below will fit your schedule or offer another source of information. Personally speaking, I need a course on time-stretching!

The second annual Genealogy Conference, co-sponsored by the Family History Centers of Memphis, TN (Walnut Grove) and Memphis, TN North, will be held on Saturday, October 29, 1994 at the facilities of the Memphis North group at 4195 Kirby Whitten Rd., Bartlett, TN. This free conference to assist the amateur genealogist at every level, also offers a free syllabus of all classes and a complimentary lunch, if you register before September 30th. Late registration will be honored to the best ability of the hosts. You may call them weekday evenings at (901) 388-9974 or (901) 754-2545.

Another chance for learning comes from our state capital, Nashville, TN. The Middle Tennessee Genealogical Society will be sponsoring a seminar on Saturday, 19 November 1994 in Nashville. The speaker will be Elizabeth Shown Mills, CG, GGL, FASG, editor of the National Genealogical Society Quarterly. For details of place, time and registration, contact Mary Glennie Hearne, 3838 Granny White Pike, Nashville, TN 37204, (615) 383-8989 after 6:00 P.M.

The Newsletter of the Southeastern Jurisdiction Historical Society of The United Methodist Church is edited by the Rev. Joseph W. Lasley, 423 Crum Dr., Lake Junaluska, NC 28745. His June issue carried an article titled "How-To For Genealogists" quoted from Action Memo, Spring 1994. It concerns the availability of United Methodist records, as follows:

"The genealogist is the bane and blessing of most archives! The General Commission (of the United Methodist Church) has prepared a flyer that answers some frequently-asked questions by family researchers, along with definitions of distinctively United Methodist terms. The flyer is adapted from a booklet written by Dr. John Simms, historian of the North Central Jurisdiction and a member of the General Commission on Archives & History.

We are happy to make this flyer available to you. Please send a stamped, self-addressed envelope, legal-size, to Susan Eltscher at the General Commission, P.O. Box 127, Madison, NJ 07940. You may duplicate the flyer as needed. You may adapt the information to suit your archives' circumstances, but we ask that you acknowledge the original authors on copies you distribute."
GIBSON COUNTY, TENNESSEE 1830 LIST OF INHABITANTS

Gibson County is one of several counties formed from the Western District in 1823. This handwritten list had been bound and was in the Trenton Library. In a different handwriting from the list, 1830 was written on the frontpiece. An effort was made to verify the date by comparing the list of names with Mrs. Emily B. Walker’s books of tax lists (see Book Reviews). The names were compared to the 1828 and 1832 tax list, the 1830 census index, the 1836 tax list (printed in "Ansearchin’ News 1978), and the 1840 census index (“Ansearchin’ News 1970). This comparison of names was surprising in that there were many names on each list which were not on the one below. There are names listed below that were not on any of the lists checked. Normally, men between the ages of 21-50 pay a poll tax, and the lack of female names on the list may indicate this is a poll tax, or perhaps a Jury Pool. Could it possibly be the list made prior to Gibson becoming a County in 1823 showing a sufficient number of inhabitants?

"A list of the Free Male Inhabitants of Gibson County State of Tennessee taken agreeable to an Act of the Legislature of said State by John A. Raines Commissioner."

NANCY HAMPTON BIBLE RECORD - Submitted by Diana Mellen, 904 Conestoga Blvd.
Yakima, WA 98908

Mrs. MELLEN found the Bible while clearing her mother's house following Mrs. Bettie McCRAKEN's death. The Holy Bible, Old and New Testaments, was printed in 1852 in New York by the American Bible Society. According to an entry on the fly leaf it originally belonged to Nancy Darthula (HAMPTON) McCRAKEN, daughter of Nancy Jane LONGWITH. John Longwith, probably Nancy Longwith's brother, is entered on a fly page with the placename Dare given (a Bradley Co, TN community). The entries are difficult to read because of aging. Each page is entitled "Family Record". We have attempted to organize this record by family groupings as given in an accompanying letter by Mrs. Mellen.

William Hampton, the father of James M. Hampton Sr, was a Revolutionary War veteran and survivor of the Valley Forge winter. At the time of his death in 1837 he was a member of the Hiwassee Baptist Church in McMinn County. However, there is no present marker for his grave. Undoubtedly, he is buried in the graveyard near the church. Many graves are marked with stones but have no readable inscriptions on them at the present time, if indeed they ever had any. William Hampton's identity as a Continental Army veteran was well known to his neighbors in McMinn County. Any local information concerning the location of William Hampton's grave would be greatly appreciated. Mrs. Diana Mellen is in possession of William Hampton's army pension papers.

James M. HAMPTON, Jr., was in the 36th Regiment, Tennessee Volunteers of the Confederate Army. He died at Knoxville, Tennessee, on March 26, 1862. The story of this unit is a reflection of the divided state of Tennessee allegiances in the Civil War period. Organized in February 1862, this regiment was raised from men in Knox, Bradley, Hamilton, and Marion Counties of East Tennessee. However, when it was posted at the Cumberland Gap, substantial numbers of the men deserted to the Union lines rather than fight against their fellow East Tennesseans who joined the Union forces in Kentucky. The regiment, by April 1862, was regarded by the Confederate command as "disloyal", and in May 1862 was ordered to Savannah, Georgia - a more "loyal" environment. However, by June 1862 the regiment was disbanded and the "loyal" men assigned to other regiments.

Another member of this family group who saw Civil War service was John B. McCracken, the father of Jackson L. McCracken. He, it seems, was in the Union Army, and died in its service during the war. Tennessee, like Kentucky, Missouri, and Virginia [whose western part became a Union state in 1863], contributed men to both sides of the bitter struggle we call the American Civil War, and some of them died in the military service of their respective armies. The Union authorities raised a number of regiments from East Tennessee who fought bravely and well. On several occasions the Confederate and Union regiments from Tennessee met in battle, and the fighting was fiercer between them than it would have been under normal circumstances. All too often fathers and sons, brothers and cousins were in opposing uniforms. [Tennesseans in the Civil War, vol 1 (Nashville: Civil War Centennial Commission, 1964), pp. 251-2.]

CAPTAIN WILLIAM THOMSON—The Man Who Founded "Evening Shade"

Contributed by Mary Twitty Clements, 2303 E. 131st St, Bixby, OK 74008

Captain William THOMSON served in the War of 1812 and commanded a company of soldiers from Smith County in Middle Tennessee. His mother was a cousin of President James Knox POLK. After the war, Captain Thomson brought his family west by flatboat and went to Arkansas, settling 25 miles north of Batesville. First he built a log cabin to shelter his family and then a grist mill and sawmill. As the Thomsons prospered, the log cabin was replaced by a better house. In the 1840s, the settlers who had joined Captain Thomson in this area, petitioned the Federal Government for a post office. The mail for the area had to go to Batesville, and was delivered only every two or three months from Wild Haws in Izard County. Postage at the time was charged according to the distance the mail had to be sent. Naturally, anyone writing to the settlers north of Batesville had to pay more than if they sent a letter to a nearer recipient. It was a surprise to many at the small settlement that the petition for a post office was granted. Perhaps Captain Thomson's kinship to the President had something to do with it. In any case, when the papers arrived it was necessary to fill in a name for the settlement. Captain Thomson then realized that the settlement had never had a formal name. The Captain looked at the tall pine trees, which grow in the area; as they threw a shadow over his mill as the sun set, bringing darkness prematurely. In a flash of inspiration Captain Thomson wrote "Evening Shade" in the blank for the settlement name. This is the town which inspired the television series of the same name.
The value of printing the 1837 tax list immediately after the 1836 list (see Vol 41, #2) lies in comparison of the two. Some names have disappeared from the second list; did he/she die or move away? In the case of a woman who had paid tax on a slave only, the slave could have died, been freed or sold, and the woman would not appear on the list, yet still be living.

New names may appear on the 1837 list. Did a young man just attain majority at age 21, or did a new resident move into the district? If he paid only poll tax, either or both suppositions might be true.

Sometimes changes are noted in the name, a different spelling (a different enumerator also?) or the addition of an initial or second name. Sometimes the acreage changes; did he buy or sell, or did some of us read the figures incorrectly? A change in poll tax payment to non-payment could mean that a man had turned 50 and is no longer charged poll tax, however if he paid tax on anything else, his name would be included.

A lively imagination may help us establish the truth during these non-census years.

Abbreviations: DIST. = District, A = Acres, TL = Town Lot, S = Slave, W = White Poll, and DT = Double Tax, "...not having given in on time according to law."

OBITUARIES FROM THE SOUTHERN STANDARD ARKADELPHIA, ARKANSAS
Contributed by Allen B. Syler, 712 South 22nd, Arkadelphia, AR 71923

JUDGE EAKIN died on Thursday night at the residence of his sister-in-law in Marshall, MO where he had gone only a few days before he was taken ill. Judge Eakin moved from Tennessee to Washington, in this state in 1857. He was recognized as an able lawyer, and was elected chancellor in 1874 in which position he served two terms. In 1878 he was elected associate justice of the supreme court, and his term would have expired next year. His remains were taken to Washington, where he was buried by the Knights Templar. 12 Sept 1885

It is with regret that we chronicle the death of one of our oldest and most highly esteemed citizens, Judge N. H. LOCK. He has been rather feeble for some months, but he was thought to be in his usual health, on last Tuesday when he suddenly fell forward from his chair, dead. It was most likely of the nature of a heart trouble. Judge Locke was esteemed and respected of all his neighbors and acquaintances-- a man though of peculiar disposition, scrupulously upright and straightforward in all his transactions of life, and the embodiment of affection and tenderness in his domestic relations. Judge Locke was born in Tennessee in 1812 and at his death was 73 years of age. He immigrated to this state and county in 1860 and settled in the Terre Noir section of this county; he moved to Arkadelphia just after the war, and has since lived here. 12 Sept 1885

(This concludes Tennesseans in Illinois - White County)
BOOK REVIEWS

by Marion Graves

While this booklet was written as an introductory guide to the novice, it also serves as a directory to the experienced researcher. The "How to Start" section introduces a unique seven-step system for assembling facts, and the "Where to Find More" section provides lists of vital records offices, the branches of the National Archives, and major genealogical libraries and societies. Also a list of 25 genealogy reference books is included. The booklet concludes with sample forms used to keep track of the material which has been collected.

The author is continuing to compile newspaper death notices where she left off in four previous volumes of Marriages and Deaths from Mississippi Newspapers. All 46 newspapers listed in this volume are on microfilm at the Mississippi Department of Archives and History at Jackson, Mississippi. For some newspapers only one issue is available, others cover longer periods of time. The name of the person, the date, place and cause of death are usually given. Some items contain additional information such as place and date of birth, maiden name, and names of relatives.

WAYNE COUNTY, TN. CHANCERY COURT LOOSE RECORDS 1850-1869 transcribed by Nelle J. Berry. 1994. Soft cover, 8x11. Full name index, 189 pp. Order from Nelle J. Berry, Rt $1, Box 190, Iron City, TN 38623. $18.00 plus $2 postage.

The Wayne County Old Records Project began in 1990 as a part of a state-wide effort to make available to the public many old records which were usually stored in courthouses. The originals of these chancery court records are stored in the County Historian’s Office in the Waynesboro Courthouse, but they have been microfilmed for public use and may be purchased from the Tennessee State Library and Archives. Lawsuits, depositions, and estate settlements abstracted for this volume reveal names of persons and their residences, often piecing together entire families. Names are printed in capital letters making them stand out on the page, and the large, clear print is a pleasure to read.

First published in 1930, this volume is a starting point for research into Scottish genealogy. References to about 6500 families are included in this guide to family histories, pamphlets, periodical articles and manuscript collections. Families are listed alphabetically and are distinguished by residences or estates. Citations give the title of a publication, its author, date of publication, volume and page numbers. The first chapter is a 75 page essay on writing family history by Sir James Balfour Paul.

Hardeman county was created from Chickasaw Indian lands 23 Oct 1823, and its will books are extant from that period. This volume contains extracts from Will Books One through Six. Books One through Four contain, in addition to wills, records of administrators bonds, orphans guardians & bonds, inventories, account/sales of estates, widows allowances, and stock marks. Books Five and Six contain wills only. A Master Index is followed by an Index of Witnesses. The format is easy to follow, and the names are in heavy print. (Continued on p. 139)

17-1-1803 Note the repetition of the document number; this second petition bearing the number comes from a different county, Greene, and concerns a different subject.

"We your humble Petitioners of the County of Green...humbly sheweth that we think Ourselves and the Citizens of our County aforesaid aggrieved by some of the Conduct of the Court of Our Said County which Court convened on Monday the 24th Day of January...1803 at Greeneville...the court made an order that there should be the sum of Sixty Dolers of Our Counties Money appropriated to the use of hiring a County Solicitor to Act as such...for one year over and above all his lawfull fees and so proceed to Lay the tax for said year as high as the Law wold permit them, and for proof of our Ascertainment we appeal to the Records of said Court." They ask the court to "direct some other system for the Government of our County"

This computer-printed transcription is an attempt to identify McNairy County residents of the 1890's, and to compensate for the missing 1890 census. The original tax record was found in the McNairy County courthouse basement, and the information copied was selected as that being most useful to genealogical researchers. Arranged alphabetically by surnames, the number of acres or number of town lots, poll tax assessed, total tax paid, date paid, district number and remarks follow. Individuals who owned land in more than one district are listed in each district.

Ms Garrett has dedicated this series to "all our ancestors that lost their home in the forced removal, also known as the Trail of Tears". In this volume she continues to link the Drennen Roll of 1851 and the Guion Miller Applications taken from 1906 to 1910. The two lists are briefly explained and illustrated with maps. Family relationships are identified if possible. Other volumes are planned, and Volume 3 will give Saline District and the 1880 Cherokee Orphanage census.

Created in 1792 from part of Lincoln County, Logan County became the parent of twelve present day counties. The greatest number of settlers came from Virginia, but many came from the Atlantic coast and the mid-west Territories. The Deed Records were filmed by courthouse personnel in Russellville, with help from the Kentucky Archives. From that film, Mrs. Murray has abstracted transfers of property, powers of attorney, bills of sale, Kentucky citizenship papers, relinquishments of dower, deeds of gift, and emancipation certificates. The Index of Places and the Slave Index should be very useful.

GIBSON COUNTY, TENNESSEE VITAL STATISTICS by Emily B. Walker. 1987. Soft cover, 8x11. Indexed, 100 pp. $15.00.

Order from Walker Publishing Company, Emily B. Walker, 731 South College Street, Trenton, Tennessee 38382.

VITAL STATISTICS covers marriages from May 12, 1881 to March 3, 1883. Information includes number of the license, date of marriage, place of marriage, full name of both parties (widow's maiden name), color of both parties, ages, birth place of both bride and groom, residence at time of marriage, groom's occupation, name and official station of person performing the marriage, name and residences of at least two witnesses and the date recorded. Births are covered from April 1, 1881 to September 30, 1881. From these records the information given is: number of the record, date of birth, full name of child, sex of child, color, place of birth, full name of both parents, nativity of both parents, father's occupation, parents' residence, any kinship, and the date recorded. This is an unusual amount of information for records of that period.

COURT MINUTES extracts minutes of the County Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions, Volume A, from January 5, 1824 to September 4, 1828. This court handled appointing local officials, deeds, stock marks, grand jury presentment, maintaining the roads, bridge building, and appointing guardians among their duties. The names of many residents of the county appear as they carry out the business of the county in such duties as jury service and road maintenance. A map of Trenton completes the volume.

NEwSPAPER EXTRACTS contains material of historical and genealogical interest from THE MILAN EXCHANGE for the period from January 7 to December 23, 1875. Marriages, deaths, property sales, church news, and items from other newspapers are included. A picture of the rural community is gained from the variety of material presented, from fines for disorderly conduct to the timing of the first cotton blossom.

LAND GRANTS is an attempt to supply information not available in census records, which are missing for the Western District for the years 1790 and 1800. These grants name owners are settlers, particularly in Gibson County. Items included are the grant number, date of grant, number of acres, name of owner, survey date, warrant number, warrant date, location of grant, and volume letter and page number of original records. Adjoining owners are also mentioned. A map of West Tennessee is included.

This handbook presents aspects of research unique to Wales. First published in 1993 by the Association of Family History Societies of Wales, it is now available in the United States. Among the topics included are archive repositories in Wales, family history societies, parish registers and bishops' transcripts, civil registration and the census, surnames, place names, basic Welch for family historians, the IGI for Wales, estate records, wills and other probate records, education records, emigration, the freeholders, and miscellaneous sources. Each of the twenty three chapters is written by a specialist in that field.

SOUTHERN LOYALISTS IN THE CIVIL WAR The Southern Claims Commission by Gary B. Mills. 1994. Hardback, 6x9, 666 pp. Order from Genealogical Publishing Co., Inc. 1001 N. Calvert St., Baltimore, MD 21202-3897. $45.00 plus postage & handling $3.00. Each additional book $1.00. MD residents add 5% sales tax, MI 4%.

This "master index" of case files of the Southern Claims Commission has consolidated information from existing works. Three were published by the United States government in the nineteenth century. The fourth, published in 1980 by the present writer, was entitled Civil War Claims in the South. The Union invasion of the South caused suffering for Union sympathizers, just as it did for Confederate supporters. In 1871 Congress created a claims commission through which southern Unionists could apply for reimbursement for some of their losses. Southerners filed 22,298 cases. The adjudication of these cases created a vast store of data that is now maintained by the National Archives in Washington. These records are located in five separate record groups. All records can be accessed by using the four-step process flow chart which prefaces this book.

Drawing on many sources, the author traced John Dill, Sr., from Kent County, Maryland, to Greenville County, South Carolina. Dill cousins from South Carolina and Delaware furnished family traditions that formed the framework for Harry F. Dill's research. John Dill's descendants are followed through several generations to the present day. The text is illustrated with charts, copies of documents, photographs, newspaper, articles, and census entries. Relationships among descendants are illustrated with family group sheets. Related families include: Wofford, Seay, Wood, Burton, McKinney, Taylor, Gray, Hill, Berlin, Coleman, and Hashimoto.
