The Tragic Life of John Beaver, of Fayette County, Tennessee

Michael A. Ports

Introduction

The following article is another installment in the proposed series of articles on the twelve children of Stephen and Nancy (White) Beaver, of Henderson County, Tennessee. For this article, the focus is on their eldest son, John Beaver, his wife, Elizabeth, and their family. The article attempts to place the subjects in some historical context. Additional articles are planned and underway. It is hoped that the following material will be of interest to other researchers as well as members of the family. Of course, it is hoped that others will step forward with comments, corrections, suggestions, in addition to new information.

The life of John Beaver was a tragic one. He was among the early pioneers to venture into West Tennessee with his young family after the Chickasaw Treaty opened the area to settlement. The rich, dark soil of Tipton County must have held much promise for the hopeful, young farmer. But, he probably was not very successful at farming, or at least not successful enough to satisfy his ambitions. After a few years, he started over again in adjacent Fayette County. John passed away soon thereafter. He left her a widow with young children for her to rear. Unfortunately, John left few records to tell his story, and his widow left even fewer records. Thus, much of what can be learned about John and his family must be inferred from the few available records.

The Early Years

4. John Beaver was born circa 1801 in Franklin County, Georgia. He was the eldest son of Stephen and Nancy (White) Beaver.¹ He still was a young boy when his family moved to what later became Lincoln County, Tennessee. There, in the Mulberry Creek neighborhood, he grew to manhood. It is presumed that he attended the local schools and received at least the rudiments of an education. It also is presumed that he learned the art of farming from his father. Perhaps he also learned the skill of cabinetmaking from his father. Based upon the ages of his children, John married sometime after 1820 and brought his young bride to West Tennessee. It also is possible that he met and married Elizabeth in Henderson County. Unfortunately, the maiden name of his wife, Elizabeth, has not been found. From the meager available evidence, it is not possible to determine just where he was living that year.

Because no record of him in Henderson County has survived, it is impossible to know how long he lived there. But, it is known that by 1830, John had moved his family further west into Tipton County.

Moving to West Tennessee

In 1830, the John Beaver household consisted of just seven individuals.²

Naturally, the eldest male is presumed to be John Beaver. The eldest female is presumed to be his wife, Elizabeth, who apparently was older than her husband. One of the two boys was their son, Wilson. One of the three girls was their daughter, Rebecca Ann. The names of the remaining children are unknown. The unidentified children seem to be somewhat too old to be the children of John. Perhaps they were children of Elizabeth from a previous marriage. That presumption is supported by the fact that only Wilson and Rebecca Ann signed the deed relinquishing their claims to their grandfather’s estate. John Beaver did not own any slaves.

John Beaver moved his family to Fayette County sometime before January 1, 1836, when he purchased a tract of land from James C. McLemore of Nashville for $124.³ The 82½-acre tract had been part of the large James Galloway tract of 5,000 acres. Later that same year, John paid his poll tax.⁴ In addition, he was taxed for 82 acres of land, but no slaves. His uncle, Michael Beavers, and Spencer T. Hurt signed the deed as witnesses. John Beaver died later that same year, probably in October. Michael Beaver was appointed by the County Court to administer the estate on November 7, 1836. He filed a $1,200 bond with the court, with John Gullet and John L. Moose as his securities. John L. Moose was his brother-in-law. At the December Term of the County Court, commissioners were appointed:

"to set apart one year's provisions for the widow of John Beavers deceased and made this report as follows: 1000 lbs of pork, 20 barrels corn, 1 barrel flour, 4 bushel salt, 50 lbs coffee, 100 lbs sugar, 75 lbs pickled cotton, 1 lb pepper, 1 lb spices, 1 lb ginger."

It is interesting to note these meager supplies could feed a family for an entire year. Of course, their meager diet was supplemented with fruits and vegetables from the garden and perhaps eggs from the chickens running loose in the barnyard. However, one still is struck by the monotony of their staple diet. The location of John's grave has not been found. If any tombstone ever was erected to mark his final resting place, it has been lost to the vagaries of time and weather.

Widowhood

John's widow probably was the Elizabeth Beaver who was enumerated as the head of household in 1840.

She was a near neighbor of her brother-in-law, Stephen Beaver, as well as her husband's uncle, Michael Beaver, who had administered her husband's estate. She was the right age. Provided one assumes that one son and one daughter had died or married and left home, the ages for the children agree with the ages given in the previous census. Yet, Elizabeth Beaver owned fourteen slaves. According to the tax list, her husband owned no slaves at his death. Was his widow such a success at farming that she could afford to purchase so many slaves in so short a period? Did she inherit the slaves from her parents? Without more definitive information, the questions must remain unanswered. Unfortunately, no further record of Elizabeth has been found. One suspects that she remarried, but no details of such exist.

30. ii. Rebecca Ann, born circa 1828, probably in Henderson County, Tennessee

Conclusion

Unfortunately, very little is known for sure about John Beaver. What few records of him that have survived provide only tantalizing clues about his short and tragic life. Even less is known about his wife, Elizabeth. When and where was she born? Who were her parents? After his death, did she remarry? Did she move away? It too often is the case that the paucity of extant records leaves many questions unanswered. Perhaps one of their descendants holds the old family Bible, letters, or other records that could shed some light on the many unanswered questions. Hopefully, the publication of this article will stimulate an interested reader to step forward with new information or suggestions for further research.

The foregoing article presents all of the public and private records that we have found concerning John Beaver, his wife, Elizabeth, and their children. The author regrets not ever having met any of his cousins from this particular branch of the Beaver family tree. We are indebted to the staff of many public and private institutions for their patience, cooperation, and assistance. Special mention is due the helpful staff at the Tennessee State Library and Archives, Fayette County Courthouse, and the very kind ladies at the Mid-Continent Public Library. Introduction

The following article is the third installment in the continuing series of articles concerning Stephen and Nancy (White) Beaver of Henderson County, Tennessee and their children. Each article presents a summary of all of the records that have been located concerning one of their children, his or her spouse, and their family. The focus now is on their second daughter, her husband, Benjamin Leach, and their family. Hopefully, the article also succeeds in placing the lives of our subjects into some historical perspective. It is hoped that the following material will be of interest to other researchers as well as the direct descendants of the subjects.

Researching the lives of women throughout the American South during the nineteenth century can be problematic. As is often the case in genealogical research during that and earlier periods, women’s lives often are documented only by the records left by the men in their life, namely their fathers, brothers, husbands, and sons. The problem is compounded when the subjects lived in a county where the records were destroyed by fire in 1863 and again in 1895. The present case perhaps is an extreme example, as even her name is unknown. Most of what can be learned about her and her family must be gleaned from the records created either by or for her husband.
The Early Years

3. Unknown Beaver was born circa 1799 in Franklin County, Georgia. Very little is known about this daughter of Stephen and Nancy (White) Beaver. Unfortunately, she is named specifically in no surviving records. It is presumed that she came to Lincoln County, Tennessee with her parents when she still was a young girl. She grew to adulthood there in the Mulberry Creek neighborhood. She married Benjamin Leach, circa 1822, about the same time that her family moved from Lincoln County to Henderson County. Benjamin may have been related to William Leach of Lincoln County. Because no official record of their marriage has been found, it is uncertain whether the couple married prior to or after the move to Henderson County.

Life in Henderson County

On February 23, 1828, the State of Tennessee granted two tracts of land to Benjamin Leach. The first tract contained 12 acres and the second 50 acres. Both tracts, in Range 3, Section 7, Ninth Surveyor's District, were located between the towns of Jack's Corner, Mifflin, and Henderson in the vicinity of the Clark's Creek Primitive Baptist Church.

In 1830, the Benjamin Leach household was comprised of six individuals.

From the census schedule, it is presumed that Benjamin was born circa 1797 and his wife circa 1799 or perhaps early in 1800. It also is presumed that the three young boys were their sons, aged approximately 3, 5, and 7. Benjamin owned one male slave who was between 10 and 24 years of age.

In 1836, Benjamin Leach was taxed for 98 acres of land valued at $580 and one slave valued at $600. The total tax paid was $2.36. The following year, his farm had increased in value to $588, but his slave was valued at only $500. Unfortunately, his tax decreased only to $2.18. From the extant land grants, it is evident that Benjamin Leach and his family lived in the general vicinity of Clark's Creek Baptist Church. A list of the female members belonging to the church dated September 1836 includes the name of Polly Leach. Could she be the unknown daughter of Stephen and Nancy (White) Beaver, who married Benjamin Leach? It is tempting to conclude that she was the Polly Leach, who belonged to the Clark's Creek Church in 1836. Three facts support that view. First, she and her husband lived in the general vicinity of the church. Her brother was an elder and founding member of the church. Third, Stephen and Nancy (White) Beaver had no other daughter named Mary for which Polly is a common nickname. The fact that her husband did not belong to the church argues against it.

In 1840, the Benjamin Leach household contained a total of eleven souls.

From the foregoing, it is concluded that Benjamin and his wife had added three daughters to the family. He owned two male slaves, one between 10 and 24 and one between 24 and 36, and one female slave between 10-and-24-years-old. A total of four persons were engaged in agriculture and two in manufactures and trades. Thus, it seems that Benjamin and his family enjoyed significant economic success during the previous decade.

No further record of Benjamin, his unidentified wife, or their children has been found. Thus, it is presumed that both of them died sometime between 1840 and 1850. It is possible that his widow remarried.

The children of Benjamin and ?? (Beaver) Leach were:
23. i. unknown male, born circa 1823, in Henderson County, Tennessee.
24. ii. unknown male, born circa 1825, in Henderson County, Tennessee.
25. iii. unknown male, born circa 1827, in Henderson County, Tennessee.
27. v. unknown female, born circa 1837, in Henderson County, Tennessee.

Unfortunately, very little has been learned about the unidentified daughter save that she married Benjamin Leach and raised several children. Because the early records of Henderson County were destroyed, very little is known about her husband, Benjamin Leach. Hopefully, other researchers will step forward with new information as well as suggestions for further research.

Patrick McGonigal, Revolutionary Patriot, Tennessee Pioneer

By Vernon Brian Anderson, B.A., M. S., MBA

Early Life

Patrick McGonigal started life under less than ideal circumstances. He was born to Ann Jones and Newman McGonigal circa November 1754 in Augusta Co., VA. Patrick's birth was clearly shown in the Augusta County records as illegitimate. On 20 November 1755, Newman McGonigal stated before the Augusta County Court that Ann Jones, a convict servant woman of John Christian, had made an oath before James Lockhart, gentleman, that Newman McGonigal was the father of her illegitimate child, Patrick McGonigal. The opinion of the court was that the oath was illegal and that Newman McGonigal was to be acquitted. This did not mean that Newman McGonigal was not the father but only that the oath was taken illegally. John Christian made a motion and it was ordered by the court that the illegitimate child be bound by the church wardens of Augusta Parish according to law. On 18 May 1758, John Christian took out an indenture bond for the support, education, and the teaching of a trade to Patrick McGonigal.

Newman McGonigal, the father of Patrick, was first identified by the author in the Augusta Co., VA records as one of those signing a petition in 1753-1754 to stop the sale of liquor from outside the county and encourage the production of liquor in Augusta County in order to keep the money circulation within the county. The other records show that Newman McGonigal witnessed the sale of two pieces of property by James Brown and his wife on 9 October 1754 and that Newman McGonigal was a member of the Augusta County Militia and was paid for patrolling on 25 October 1755. Newman McGonigal disappeared from the records after 1755 and no further trace of him has been found. Since he was a member of the militia, it is possible that he perished in Virginia Governor Dinwiddie’s Sandy Creek Expedition of early 1756. This was an expedition against a Shawnee Indian town supposedly on the Ohio River near the mouth of the Big Sandy.

Military Service

Patrick McGonigal reappeared in the records when he enlisted in December 1776 for three years service in the 10th Regiment of the Virginia Continental Line. From Patrick’s Service Record and the Charles Cameron papers, we know that he was wounded in September 1777. This wound was likely received in the Battle of the Brandywine on 11 September 1777, as the 10th Virginia Regiment was in the middle of the worst fighting on that day.26 Patrick McGonigal and the 10th Virginia Regiment went on to participate in the Battle of Germantown, PA and the Battle of Monmouth, NJ. This regiment was also at Valley Forge, PA during the winter encampment of 1777-1778 and at the Middle Brook, NJ encampment of 1778-1779. The 10th Regiment was reorganized at Middle Brook, NJ on 12 May 1779 as the 6th Virginia Regiment, to consist of nine companies. On 15 May 1779, Patrick McGonigal reenlisted at Middle Brook, NJ for the remainder of the war. The 6th Regiment wintered in Morristown, NJ during the winter of 1779-1780. The regiment was reassigned on 4 December 1779 from the 2nd Virginia Brigade to the Southern Department.27

The Virginia Continentals, which included the 6th Virginia Regiment of the Continental Line, were ordered to Charleston, SC in early 1780. On 7 April 1780, General William Woodford and his 750 Virginia Continentals arrived in Charleston, SC after having marched 505 miles in thirty days.28 The British Army soon laid siege to Charleston, SC. The 6th Regiment of the Virginia Continental Line, along with the rest of the Continental troops, was surrendered on 12 May 1780.29 Article III of the capitulation as presented by Major General Benjamin Lincoln stated “The Continental Troops and Sailors, with their Baggage, shall be conducted to a place agreed on, where they will remain prisoners of war until exchanged. While prisoners, they shall be supplied with good and wholesome provisions, in such quantity as is served out to the troops of his Britanic Majesty.”30 The Continental Troops, including the 6th Virginia

29 Ibid., p. 107.

Regiment with Patrick McGonigal, were "held as prisoners of war and were lost to the Continental Army for the rest of the war." 31

In his official returns, Lincoln counted about 2,200 Continentals, of whom more than 500 were sick or wounded. Added to this were only about 500 reliable militia troops. 32 It is the author's opinion that the Continental prisoners of war, being held by the British, must have been released following the surrender of Cornwallis's forces at Yorktown, VA on 19 October 1781. The British did not leave Charlestown, SC until 14 December 1782 after a preliminary peace treaty was signed in Paris. 33

Virginia to North Carolina Move

On 19 February 1782, records showed Patrick McGonigal back in Augusta County, VA witnessing a deed of sale by William Christian. Other witnesses to this deed of sale were William Williams and Joseph Ray. 34 A number of lawsuits involving Patrick McGonigal took place in 1783 in Augusta Co., VA which must have been about the time of Patrick's move to Caswell County, NC. 35 In 1784, Patrick McGonigal was listed on the Caswell County, NC Tax List. 36

Just because the name is the same does not mean that we have the same Patrick McGonigal in Augusta Co., VA as we do in Caswell Co., NC. This statement carries extra weight when one considers that at least four Patrick McGonigals fought in the Revolutionary War on the side of the Continental Army. A Patrick McGonigal served on the Continental Army side from North Carolina, Virginia, Delaware and Pennsylvania. For years the author tried without success to find a connection for the Patrick McGonigal from New Castle Co., DE to the Caswell Co., NC Patrick McGonigal. The Patrick McGonigal from Pennsylvania served at Valley Forge in the 11th Virginia Regiment and was from the area of Northumberland Co., PA but no connection could be found to the Caswell County, NC Patrick McGonigal. The Patrick McGonigal from North Carolina seemed like a good possibility, but he died circa 1785, and his bounty land went to his heirs. The land was claimed by a Sion Perry in Sumner Co., TN “On waters of middle fork of Station Camp Creek” under Grant No. 1932 and Military Warrant No. 642. Not a trace of a Patrick McGonigal could be found in the Wake County, NC area where I located a Sion Perry in the 1800 U. S. Census of North Carolina. The Patrick McGonigal of Caswell County, NC did yield connections and evidence that connected to the Augusta County, VA Patrick McGonigal.

Major pieces of evidence linking the Patrick McGonigal of Caswell County, NC to the Patrick McGonigal of Augusta Co., VA are: (1) In the 1798 estate settlement of Thomas Brookes, Jr., in Caswell Co., NC, money is owed by Patrick McGonigal and Jonathan Brookes and others. Lyman Chalkley’s, Chronicles of the Scotch-Irish Settlement in Virginia has many listings for both a Thomas Brookes and a Jonathan Brookes. Jonathan Brookes is a brother-in-law to William Christian of Augusta Co., VA and we know that Patrick McGonigal was raised in the household of John Christian in Augusta Co., VA and also that Patrick McGonigal was one of the witnesses to the distribution by William Christian, heir-at-law of John Christian, deceased, and Robert Christian, Sr. or Jr., to John, Gilbert, and Robert Christian, Jr., brothers of William. (2) Patrick McGonigal loaned bond money to Martin Wyrick and Joseph Fryar for them to qualify as estate administrators of the Garrett Strucker Estate in Guilford Co., NC. Patrick McGonigal also bought land from a George Wilson in 1796 in Guilford Co., NC and the deed was witnessed by Martin M. Wyrick and William McElhatten. It was also found that a John Warrick showed up as early as 1768-1769 and a Ludwick/Ludwig Warrock as early as 1769-1772 in the Augusta Co., CA Court Order Books in lawsuits as the plaintiffs. A Ludwick Wirick also served as a witness on a deed of sale from James Critchlow to Daniel Wirick in Guilford Co., NC on 27 April 1793.

3 Patrick McGonigal witnessed several deeds for William and Frances Moss in Caswell Co., NC.

William and Frances Moss were thought to be originally from Virginia and were listed in Southside Virginia Families.

4 Patrick McGonigal was involved in several Augusta Co., VA lawsuits about the time he would have moved to Caswell Co., NC.

The last lawsuit was dismissed in 1785 which is one year after we found Patrick McGonigal on the 1784 Tax List of Caswell Co., NC, and he disappeared from the Augusta Co., VA records after the 1785 lawsuit.

The 1777 Tax List had no mention of Patrick McGonigal, and he was not listed on the 1780 Caswell Co., NC Tax List but was listed in the Caswell Co., NC Tax List for 1784 and also the census of 1790.

Therefore Patrick McGonigal must have arrived in Caswell Co., NC between 1780 and 1784.

On 24 October 1796, Patrick McGonigal bought property in Guilford Co., NC from George Wilson witnessed by Martin M. Wyrick and William McElhatten. Patrick McGonigal then moved to Guilford County, NC with his wife, Barbara, and young children. Children of Patrick and Barbara McGonigle that have been identified so far are: Elizabeth, b. ca 1785; Eli, b. ca 1785; Samuel, b. ca 1789; Floyd, b. ca 1792; Barbara, b. ca 1800. On 4 February 1807, Patrick McGonigal’s daughter, Elizabeth, married William Anderson in Guilford County, NC.

Anderson Connection

William Anderson, the husband of Elizabeth (McConigal) Anderson, is believed to be the son of Nancy Anderson. Nancy Anderson appeared in the records of Guilford Co., NC in 1800 and purchased land in her own name. Nancy was listed in the 1800 census of Guilford Co., NC with her children and was the only Anderson listing with a son the age of William. Identified children in this family are: Elijah, b. ca 1780.

56 The names of Patrick and Barbara McGonigal’s children have been identified due to the unusual McGonigal surname during this period of Colonial and American History, placing the children in the same location or adjacent locations to the parents, migrations with the parents, etc. No Will or Estate Settlement has ever been found for Patrick McGonigal in Cannon County, TN or Rutherford County, TN.

Grainger County, Tennessee Move

In 1807, the McGonigals and Andersons migrated to Grainger County, TN, and they were shown on the 1810 U. S. Census of Grainger County. They settled near the Major Lea family, which was descended from the Lea family of Caswell County, NC via Luke Lea. During the time that Patrick and Barbara McGonigal lived in Grainger County, TN their youngest daughter, Barbara, married a James Simmons on 12 September 1814, and William Anderson served in the Tennessee Militia that was called into service to fight the Red Stick faction of the Creek Indians during the War of 1812. William Anderson would later receive Bounty Land Warrants for this service and his widow would draw a federal pension based on William’s service.

Middle Tennessee Move

The McGonigal, Anderson, and Simmons families all moved to Middle Tennessee in the 1827-1829 period with the McGonigles and Andersons settling in that part of Rutherford County, TN that would become a part of Cannon County, TN formed in 1836. The Simmons family settled in the section of Warren County, TN that would also become a part of Cannon County in 1836. This settlement area is near Carson’s Fork of Stone's River in the general area of Parker's Hill. The McGonigal's son, Eli, lived in this area in about 1812 when he migrated to Middle Tennessee from Guilford County, NC and before he moved on to Illinois in the 1820s.

Leah McGonigal Puzzle

One of the largest puzzles in this research project was a woman by the name of Leah McGonigle who showed up in the Rutherford Co., TN records with a marriage to William Byford on 17 April 1819. Leah McGonigal was accompanied by the following children: William Washington, b. 1810 KY or TN; Patrick Wesley, b. 14 Nov. 1814 TN; Barbara; Isabella, b. 1813; and Martha "Patsy," b. ca 1817. The William Byford family was found in the 1820 Rutherford Co., TN census, but by 1830 they were listed in the Marion Co., AL census. Many of the McGonigal children migrated from Alabama to Itawamba Co., MS by 1840 and then to Lafayette Co., MS by 1850.

The only other adult McGonigal found in the Rutherford Co., TN records during this period was Eli McGonigal, and no divorce records were found to indicate that Eli and Leah were married. Eli McGonigal married Ann Stevens in Rutherford Co., TN on 8 January 1816, started a family, and moved to IL in the 1823-1826 period. The best explanation to this puzzle is that Eli and Leah McGonigal probably had a common-law marriage that did not work out. We know that Eli had been married before 1810, and his wife was named Rachel. She sued for divorce from Eli with the North Carolina legislature in 1810. The case came from Guilford Co., NC, where we can also place our

Patrick McGonigal family until 1807. Patrick and Barbara McGonigal also later moved to that area of Rutherford County where Eli had been living. Additional evidence was provided by a Squire McGonigal, who appears in Lafayette Co., MS in the 1850 census \(^1\) and lived very near Patrick Wesley McGonigal. Squire McGonigal was said to be a half brother to Patrick Wesley McGonigal by Patrick's granddaughter, the late Bessie Estelle McGonagill, who passed away in 1995.\(^2\) Squire McGonigal's birthdate of 1818 fits perfectly for an unidentified male born to Eli and Ann (Stevens) McGonigal in Tennessee.\(^3\) Additional research is planned in this area in an attempt to uncover additional evidence that Eli had been the common-law husband of Leah.\(^4\)

SUNSET YEARS

Patrick McGonigal's death must have occurred about 1837 based on a land grant that was entered on 1 April 1837 which has his name crossed out and his wife's name, Barbara McGonigal, substituted in its place.\(^5\) William Anderson, Patrick McGonigal's son-in-law, was appointed administrator of his estate on 2 September 1839 by the Cannon County Court and Robert Anderson, oldest son of William, and James Simmons, Patrick McGonigal's son-in-law, were the witnesses. Oddly, no record has been found of an inventory or an estate settlement.

Barbara McGonigal, Patrick's widow gave a letter and trust deed to Abraham Gooding for a ten-acre parcel of land on Carson's Fork of Stone's River for thirty dollars in 1838 and 1841. Daniel Finley and Henry Byford witnessed both the letter and trust deed. Barbara McGonigal's death was estimated circa 1841 based on the recording date of the trust deed to Abraham Gooding.

Patrick McGonigal and Barbara McGonigal were buried in Sissom Cemetery on Burt-Burgen Road along with their two daughters, Elizabeth (McGonigal) Anderson and Barbara (McGonigal) Simmons, and their daughters' husbands.

CROCKETT COUNTY, TENNESSEE

In 1845, the General Assembly of Tennessee enacted a law establishing Crockett County. In 1846, the Magistrates of the new county met to organize the new county. The constitutionality of the act was challenged in court, and the county was ruled unconstitutional. A similar law was passed in 1871, and it authorized that the county would be made up of parts Gibson, Dyer, Madison, and Haywood County. The following minutes reflect the organization of Crockett County up to its first non-organizational business. No corrections have been made in the spelling.

R. N. WHITESIDE

HENRY PICKARD'S WILL

In the name of God amen I HENRY PICKARD of the County of Lawrence and State of Tennessee being in my perfect mind and knowing that I am mortal and that it is appointed unto all men once to die do by these presents constitute and ordain this as my last will and testament. 1st of all I resign my soul to God who gave it & my body to the grave to be buried in a Christian manner and in full (not legible) that on the morning of the resurrection my soul & body will be reunited to serve (page 4) God and the Lamb for ever & ever amen. 2nd I give and bequeath unto my well-beloved wife LUCY PICKARD during her widowerhood the whole of the household & kitchen furniture the plantation house and orchard and everything appertaining thereunto with farming utensils and stock of every kind except a colt named Tim my wagon & gear for her benefit to be and remain at her disposal during herwidowhood but should the said LUCY PICKARD marry the whole of the above mentioned property except my plantation shall be sold that is my.
stock of every kind my wagon farming utensils and everything belonging to me except my plantation and colt name Tim and the proceeds to be equally divided among my children and my wife LUCY giving her my wife LUCY a child's part. My plantation at the marriage of my wife LUCY PICKARD shall be equally divided during her natural life, then at her death it is to be the property of my children to be equally divided amongst them. Should my wife LUCY PICKARD never marry at her death my plantation with all my property named herein (page 5) shall be equally divided amongst my children and furthermore my wife LUCY PICKARD is to collect all debts due me and pay all my just debts & should WILLIAM BAILIE live with & work for my wife LUCY PICKARD until he is twenty years old, my wife LUCY shall give him six months schooling a twenty dollar saddle and the above colt named Tim and my wife LUCY shall pay annually unto JANE GIBSON sixteen bushels of corn during her natural life.

In testimony hereof I have hereunto set my name & affixed my seal on this 21st day
December 1841 A.D.

HAMBY-GUNThER

Last evening Miss Genevieve Hamby and Mr. Augustus A. Gunther were united in marriage, the ceremony being celebrated at the residence of Mrs. James Allen, on McGavock Street, in a quiet but beautiful way. Only the near friends of the bride and groom were present to witness the impressive and interesting nuptials. The officiating minister was Rev. James I. Vance, and best man was Dr. J. M. Bass. The bride wore a full bridal toilette of pure white, a tulle veil enveloping her form. She carried a bouquet of bride roses and ferns, and the veil was caught to her hair by a sunburst of diamonds. She was never fairer than on this occasion, the robe and veil of white bringing out her rich dark coloring, which is typically Southern, with beautiful deep eyes, clear olive complexion, and dark hair. She is a most charming and loveable young lady who has endeared herself to a large circle of friends. Mr. Gunther is the southern states manager for Covenant Mutual Insurance Company and is a popular and well-known gentleman. He is a native of East Tennessee.

Gallery Of The Unknown

The photographs shown in this article were found in the attic of the Tennessee Genealogical Society building. There are no names, dates or photographer stamps upon the pictures. If you have any information to share regarding these unidentified photos, please contact us.
These photographs submitted by William R. Bauer, of 823 Calhoun Street, Columbia, South Carolina 29201 were found in his great-grandfather Ryan's home.

These photographs were found by the staff of Henderson Business College at 530 Linden Avenue in Memphis, Tennessee in 1966. The house was acquired by the Memphis Housing Authority as part of the Beale Street Urban Renewal Project and was demolished in November of 1971.

The house and stable, which later became a garage, was built by Charles Roscoe Ryan around 1880, with many of the fixtures and glass being imported from Europe. The top floor of this home was a grand ballroom.

316/530 Linden Avenue, Memphis, Tennessee

At the time of Mrs. Ryan's death in 1897, the Linden Avenue address was 316 Linden Ave., later being changed to 530 Linden Ave.
Charles Roscoe or C. R. Ryan was in the wholesale grocery business in Memphis and was the owner of the C. R. Ryan and Company. He was born in Monticello, Georgia, on January 31, 1845 to Lewis Ryan and Huldah Ann Whitney. His father died when he was very young, and his mother remarried William Newton Kirkpatrick. At the outbreak of the War of Southern Independence, Mr. Kirkpatrick, a lawyer, was provost marshal in Des Arc, Arkansas, where C. R. Ryan enlisted in Company C, 18th Arkansas Infantry. He was captured at Port Hudson, Louisiana in 1863 and paroled several months later. He was later captured at the end of the war by Union forces in West Point, Georgia in April 1865.

After the war, C. R. Ryan worked as a bookkeeper for Spicer and Sharpe, wholesale and retail grocers located at 354/368 Main Street, Provine Block, Memphis, Tennessee. He lived with the James B. Sharpe family where he met his wife, Mary "Mollie" Catherine Logan, the niece of Mrs. Sharpe and Mrs. Spicer, who were sisters. C. R. eventually started his own wholesale grocery business and had four sons and one daughter. He died in 1885 in Manitou, Colorado where he had gone for a respiratory disease. He is buried in Elmwood Cemetery in Memphis. Mrs. Mary C. Ryan’s funeral was held at her residence on January 14, 1897. It is believed that the sons sold the family home after her demise.

It is possible that the photograph is of a later owner of the home on 530 Linden Avenue. The photograph was taken by the Munsell Publishing Company and a signature underneath appears to read – Hermann Paysche.

Thanks to William R. Bauer for taking the time submit the information and photographs.

BAUGH FAMILIES of Logan County, 1817-1880 appears in Kentucky Ancestors, Vol. 40, No. 1. Van Allen Baugh, born in Tennessee on 2 July 1817, was the son of John and Elizabeth Taylor Baugh. John (b. 1774, Va., d. 1855, Ky.), the son of James Baugh, IV, lived in South Carolina before moving to Logan County, Ky. A grandson related that Baugh fell in love with Elizabeth at first sight and the couple was married the second time they were in each other’s presence. Elizabeth (b. S.C., d. 1860, Ky.) was half-Cherokee Indian. John and Elizabeth had eight other children: Moses, Bartlett, Levina, John born in South Carolina; Daniel, Mary, Levi, and George Nelson were born in Kentucky.

Van Allen Baugh married Minerva Cabler and moved to Nashville where he became a successful businessman. Their children were William C., Margaret Myer, Henry C., and Eadwell.

ROBERTSONS OF TENNESSEE REVISITED is an article contained in The Virginia Genealogist, Volume 49, No. 3. Consistency of the Evidence establishes John and Charles Robertson were brothers, born in Bristol Parish, Prince George County, VA. The documents establish that Israel Robertson’s son, Charles, was Col. Charles Robertson of Watauga. They also establish that James Robertson was John Robertson’s son. It establishes with reasonable certainty from the evidence that Gen. James Robertson was Israel Robertson’s grandson and Col. Charles Robertson’s nephew.

Two Former Tennesseans In Religious Leadership Roles

Biographical sketches of former Tennesseans, John A. Stinson and John M. Talley, appeared in the Nashville Banner on 6 Jul 1898 in connection with the international Christian Endeavor convention being held in Nashville. Abstracts of the two sketches follow:

Stinson, president of the Mississippi Christian Endeavor Union, was born in Hardeman Co., Tenn., 27 May 1866. From a family of Scottish-Irish Presbyterians, he was a member and officer in the First Presbyterian Church in Columbus, Miss. His education was attained in the public schools of his native state. His parents were pious and devoted, and he was early taught that “man’s chief end is to glorify God.” Mr. Stinson entered business life at the age of 14 and has since been successful. He was married to Miss Emma Bealle, of Columbus, 4 Sep 1894. Since his Christian Endeavor work began, his wife has been his faithful and efficient helper. Together they began the work of endowing one of the buildings of the Palmer Orphanage, which has met the approval of every convention and society and is now an assured success.

Talley, secretary of the Mississippi Christian Endeavor Union, was born 13 May 1867, near Linton, Davidson Co., Tenn. When five years of age, he moved to Williamson Co., Tenn. and from there to Union City in Obion County where his father, D. B. Talley, now resides. After finishing school, he served an apprenticeship in the shops as a machinist. He entered the pulpit as a regular minister of the gospel under auspices of the Christian Church (Disciples) in October 1893 and has been a successful minister in that church. He is now pastor of six churches and preaches an average of 14 sermons per month. His headquarters and post office address is Hemingway, Miss.

The purpose of this book, by George Leland Summer, is to set forth as much of the history of Newberry County, South Carolina that has not been heretofore published. The opening chapters deal with the county’s formation, early settlers, soldiers, notable citizens, government institutions and social and economic development. Later chapters give biographies, cemetery inscriptions, family reminiscences and folklore. This book has a long section devoted to genealogies of the following families of Newberry County: Anderson, Barre, Boozer, Boyd, Burton, Caldwell, Cannon, Chandler/Gilbert, Chapman, Counts, Cromer, Eichleberger, Epping, Feagle, Floyd, Folk, Gary Gilliam/Gilliam, Glenn, Goggans, Goree, Gray/DeWalt, Griffin, Houseal, Kibler, Kinard, Kuhn, Lake, Langford, Leitner, Lindsey, Lyles, Mayer, Mayes, Nance, O’Neall, Pearson, Pope, Quattlebaum, Ramage, Ruff, Rutherford, Satterwhite, Schumpert, Sheppard, Singley, Stark, Stewart, Suber, Summer, Summers, Wait(s), Waters, Werts, Wicker, Wilson, Wise/Wyse, and Worthington. This book would be a valuable resource for the genealogists whose ancestors came from Newberry County, South Carolina.

The abstracts were originally published in two separate volumes, but they were brought together now in a single volume for the convenience of the user. The abstracting of the wills of Orange County to 1850 was the project of the Genealogical Records Committee of the Davie Poplar Chapter of the N.S.D.A.R., Orange County was formed in 1752 largely from Granville, partly from Bladen and Johnston, and was a large section of central North Carolina. It included part or all of the following present-day counties: Alamance, Caswell, Chatham, Durham, Guilford, Orange, Person, Randolph, Rockingham, and Wake. The abstracts include such information as the name of the testator, names of heirs and executors, references to property, and dates of probate. This book also contains records of 280 marriages not shown in the Orange County marriage bonds. This is an excellent book for descendants of Orange County pioneers.

Although the title of this book is Appomattox County History & Genealogy, fewer than 64 of the 252 pages are devoted to the history of the county. The history portion is well worth checking out though because of the pictures of the early settlers and buildings in the county, as well as the names of the people in the county who served in the Civil War, the two world wars, and the Spanish-American War. This is also the county where General Lee surrendered to General Grant thus ending the Civil War. Appomattox County, Virginia was formed in 1845 from Buckingham, Campbell, Charlotte, and Prince Edward Counties. What makes this book really unique are the detailed genealogies of the people and families who lived in this county in the early years. A small sample of the surnames included are: AGEE, HENDERSON, HUGHES, JOHNSON, JONES, KINNEY, LAWSON, LEWIS, MANN, MARTIN, MITCHELL, MOORE, NASH, O'BRIEN, PAGE, PLUNKETT, REYNOLDS, ROBERTSON, ROGERS, SCRUGGS, SMITH, STANLEY, STEWART, TANNER, TAYLOR, TREN, WALKER, WEBB, WELLS, WHEELER, WILKES, WOODSON, & WRIGHT.

Botetourt County was formed in 1769 from Augusta County. It is the parent county, in part, of Alleghany, Bath, Craig, Fincastle, Montgomery, Roanoke and Rockbridge Counties in Virginia. The authors of this book have taken great care in compiling the genealogies of the forty-eight families including by the careful study of Botetourt County marriages, wills, deeds, and death records from microfilm at the Virginia State Archives, as well as the county records of Botetourt, Roanoke and Rockbridge counties. The result of the authors’ attention to detail has resulted in this wonderful collection of genealogies of early settlers of this county, some of whose ancestors were born in the 18th century. The families included in this volume are: ADAMS, AMMEN, AUSTIN, BANE
BECKNER, BOLTON, BLOUNT, BORDER, BOWYER, BURGER, COFFMAN, CROWDER, CRUSH, DEISHER, DEMPSEY, ETZLER, FELLERS, FINCH, FIREBAUGH, FLAHERTY, GARLAND, GARLAND, HADEN, HANNAH, HOWELL, HYTPES, JOBLING, KESSLER, LAYMAN, LEFTWICH, LINKENHOGER, LUNSFORD, MCFERRAN, NOFTSINGER, OBENSHAIN, SWEETLAND, PECK & DILL, POAGUE, RINEHART, RITCHEY, SAVILLE, SIMPSON, SIZER, SLUSSER, STONER, SIZER, SIZER, SLUSSER, STONER, SWITZER, WILHELM, WOOD, & YOUNG.

FREE AFRICAN-AMERICANS OF NORTH CAROLINA, VIRGINIA AND SOUTH CAROLINA FROM THE COLONIAL PERIOD TO ABOUR 1820, by Paul Heinegg, two volumes, 1355 pp., indexed in volume II, cc. 2005, #9097 cost $89.95 plus $4.00 for first book and $1.50 for each additional book. Order from: Clearfield Company, 3600 Clipper Mill Road, Baltimore, MD 21211 Phone: (410) 837-8271 or (800) 296-6687 or <www.genealogical.com>

This 5th Edition of these volumes are bigger and better even than the prize-winning 3rd Edition which received the prestigious Donald Lines Jacobus Award for the best work of genealogical scholarship published between 1991 and 1994, and for which the North Carolina Genealogical Society received an Award of Excellence in Publishing. The genealogies of the families in these two volumes consist of almost all of the African-Americans, who were free during the colonial period in Virginia and North Carolina and includes some living in South Carolina. Most of these families were descendants of white servants who had children by slaves or free African-Americans. Many of these free African-Americans were landowners. Fifty families in these books are descendants from freed slaves, twenty-nine from Indians, and nineteen from white men who married or had children by free African-American women. The remainder were descendants of white women. It must be remembered that race was not an issue at the time, as long as there were white servants in similar circumstances. During the time period covered, free African-Americans were accepted in some white communities. These books contain detailed genealogies of 600 free black families from Virginia, who migrated to North and South Carolina. The entire list of surnames is not covered here, but a few of them are: ANDERSON, BAKER, BANKS, COPELAND, COX, DUNCAN, EDWARDS, FERRELL, GILBERT, HACKETT, HUGHES, JOHNSON, KNIGHT, LAMB, LANDRUM, MCCOY, MOORE, OWEN, PATTERSON, RAINS, RUSSEL, SIMPSON, STEWART, VAUGHAN, WILLS, WILLIAMS, WOOD, & YOUNG. These volumes are a wonderful and comprehensive source for research of free African-Americans, and no library should be without them.

HISTORICAL COLLECTIONS OF THE GEORGIA CHAPTER, DAUGHTERS OF THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION, VOLUME I, SEVENTEEN GEORGIA COUNTIES, index by Lelia Thornton Gentry, 374 & 66 pp., indexed, papercover, cc. 1926, repr. 2002, #9311 $26.95 plus $4.00 for first book & $1.50 for each additional While this book is entitled Seventeen Georgia Counties, a large portion of it relates to Franklin County. Other counties covered primarily with indexes of wills and marriages are: BALDWIN, BULLOCK, CLARKE, JACKSON, JASPER, JEFFERSON, JONES, LAURENS, LINCOLN, MADISON, MORGAN, PULASKI, PUTNAM, TATNALL & TELFAIR Counties. This book also contains biographical sketches of people buried in the cemetery of St. Paul’s Church in Augusta, Georgia and a list of Revolutionary War soldiers buried in North Carolina. The coverage for Franklin County includes indexes to marriages, wills and administrations, biographies of Revolutionary War soldiers, land grants, names of surveyors, and more. The chapter for each county starts with a short description of the county records covered, which in most cases are some of the oldest and date from the mid-18th to early 19th century. The addition of the index in this book makes it a quick and easy way to find your ancestors if they were in the counties covered.

ABSTRACTS OF THE WILLS AND INVENTORIES OF BATH COUNTY, VIRGINIA 1791-1842, by Jean Rudolph Bruns, repr. 2005, papercover, 282 pp., indexed, Cost: $29.50 plus $4.00 s&h for first book and $1.50 for each additional book. Order from: Clearfield Company, 3600 Clipper Mill Road, Suite 260, Baltimore, MD 21211 Phone: (410) 837-8271 or (800) 296-6687 or <www.genealogical.com>

This book contains abstracts of the oldest surviving wills and inventories of Bath County, Virginia. Bath County was formed from Augusta, Botetourt and Greenbrier Counties in 1791. In turn, Bath is the parent county for parts of Alleghany, County Virginia and Pocahontas County, West Virginia. In addition to the will abstracts there are abstracts of bonds, powers of attorney, estate settlements, articles of agreement and other genealogical related items. Nearly 15,000 early residents of Bath County are included in these records.

HISTORY OF PATRICK AND HENRY COUNTIES, VIRGINIA, by Virginia G. Pedigo and Lewis G. Pedigo, repr. 2002, papercover, 400 pp., indexed, Cost: $28.50 plus $4.00 s&h for the first book and $1.50 for each additional book. Order from: Clearfield Company, 3600 Clipper Mill Road, Suite 260, Baltimore, MD 21211 Phone: (410) 837-8271 or (800) 296-6687 or <www.genealogical.com>

This book begins with a short history of the counties of Patrick and Henry, Virginia. This is followed by Prominent Families of Patrick and Henry Counties. The “Prominent Families” section encompasses the major part of this book. Many of the early settlers are mentioned and in some instances some of their descendants. The family histories of approximately 111 persons are contained therein. If you are looking for ancestors in these counties, this book may be helpful.
FOUNDERS AND PATRIOTS OF AMERICA INDEX, by National Society of Daughters of Founders and Patriots of America, 255 pp., papercover, (1975), repr. 2005 #1345, cost $26.50 plus $4.00 s&h for first book and $1.50 for each additional book. Order from: Clearfield Company, 3600 Clipper Mill Road, Suite 260, Baltimore, MD 21211. Phone: (410) 837-8271 Toll free: (800) 296-6687 e-mail: <sales@genealogical.com>

This index is compiled from the lists in the thirty-four volumes of lineages of members of the National Society of Founders and Patriots. To be a member of the organization, the lineage of members must contain a founder who came to the American Colonies between May 13, 1607 and May 13, 1687, and a patriot ancestor who was in the military or aided in American Independence in the period 1775-1784. For each ancestor listed here, it also lists his birth and death dates, his wife's name, and the state where the founder settled. This book is an excellent source if your ancestors were early settlers of the colonies.

THE ALBEMARLE PARISH VESTRY BOOK, 1742-1786, SURRY AND SUSSEX COUNTIES, VIRGINIA by Virginia Lee Hutcheson Davis and Andrew Wilburn Hogwood, 6x9, 280 pp., indexed, hardcover, 2005, #9875, Cost $38.50 plus $4.00 s&h for first book, and $1.50 for each additional book. Order from: Clearfield Company, 3600 Clipper Mill Road, Suite 260, Baltimore, MD 21211. Phone: (410) 837-8171 Toll free: (800) 296-6687 e-mail: <sales@genealogical.com>

The priceless original records used in preparing this book have survived, almost by a miracle, having been confiscated by Federal troops from the Sussex County Court Clerk's Office and left at a local tavern. Albemarle Parish is descended from James City Parish, the first Parish established in the new world. It includes both the north and south sides of the James River. Surry County was formed in 1652 from the part of James River County, south of the James River. Sussex County was created from Surry County in 1754. These first two parishes were divided when both parishes north of the Blackwater River were united into one parish named Southwark. The parts on the south side of the Blackwater River became Albemarle Parish. The Albemarle Parish Vestry Book is in two parts. Part 1 covers the period 16 November 1742-8 through April 1760. Part II covers the period 12 May 1760 through 20 September 1786. The transcription for this book was made from a photocopy of the restored volumes. Every type of transaction is included in this book, including the will of the first rector, WILLIAM WILLIE. A few of the surnames mentioned are: ANDREWS, BALEY, BRIGGS, CLAIBORNE, DAVIS, FREEMAN, LAWRENCE, GILLAM, HILL, JONES, MASON, PARHAM, RIEVES, ROGERS, STOKES, WALLER, & YARBROUGH. Some of the surnames have more than one spelling. This book is a most valuable new source of information for the genealogist interested in researching the early years of this area.
Memphis-Shelby County, Tennessee: The Early Years, Selected Court and Land Survey Books: 1820 – 1855

This fully indexed volume of more than 1,700 surnames is a compilation of material published in various formats by TGS during the 1980s. It includes abstracts from the first county court minutes, 1820–1824, and selected survey books and maps. It is an excellent single-source for the genealogist or historian researching early Shelby County, Tennessee. Prominent names such as Winchester, Overton, and Alexander are recognizable. The early settlers who bought land and/or were involved in the courts are names you will recognize. Even if you have no early Shelby County ancestors, the court records are entertaining and informative. Its 132 pages are produced on 8½" x 11" paper in a ridged spine softback. Price is $20.00 each plus $4.00 s&h. The following list is the first segment of surnames listed in this informative book. This is the final surname index listing for the book, it includes: Padam, Paelmer, Page, Paine, Paite, Palmer, Pargn, Park, Parker, Parkeson, Parks, Parran, Parren, Parson, Parsons, Pass, Patens, Patrick, Patten, Patterson, Patteson, Pattison, Payne, Pearson, Pease, Pendleton, Penket, Pennington, Percell, Perkeson, Perkins, Perkison, Perrill, Perryman, Person, Persons, Peters, Peterson, Petty, Phillips, Pickens, Picket, Pickett, Pickings, Pickens, Piel, Pierce, Pigg, Piles, Pillow, Pillows, Pinckett, Pinkett, Pitt, Pittman, Pitts, Plummer, Poindexter, Pointees, Polk, Polks, Pollock, Pool, Pope, Porter, Porters, Portlock, Portlocks, Poter, Poters, Potters, Potts, Powel, Powell, Powells, Power, Powers, Price, Prichet, Prichett, Prichette, Priddy, Prist, Pritchard, Pritchett, Prittchette, Proutsman, Pullam, Pulliam, Pusen, Pyate, Quenichet, Quimbey, Quimby, Radecil, Rafter, Rainey, Rallston, Ralph, Ralster, Ralston, Ramsay, Ramsey, Randal, Rande, Randikin, Raster, Resters, Ratcher, Raston, Raulston, Rawings, Rawston, Raybam, Raye, Read, Reading, Reaves, Reavis, Redd, Redett, Reddit, Reddits, Redditt, Redford, Reditt, Redmand, Reed, Reese, Reeves, Reid, Reinhardt, Reinhardt, Reives, Relph, Relphs, Rembert, Rennard, Rester, Resters, Reston, Retcher, Reiter, Retherford, Reyner, Reynold, Reynolds, Rhea, Rhodes, Rice, Richards, Richardson, Richardsonso...

ANSEARCHIN' NEWS
READER SURVEY

The Tennessee Genealogical Society is undergoing some exciting changes -- new officers, new board members, and a new location in the near future. One thing that will not change is the society's dedication to collecting, preserving, and publishing original genealogical material. As we strive to make our quarterly magazine, Ansearchin' News, even more informative and interesting, we would like your comments, opinions, and suggestions, to accomplish this goal. Please take a few minutes to complete the survey and return it to P. O. Box 247, Brunswick, TN 38014-0247 or visit <roolsweb.com/~tnsg/library/location.htm> to fill it out online. Subscribers who respond by February 15, 2006 will be entered into a drawing to win a free membership for calendar year 2006. Of course, your comments and suggestions are always welcome.

Ansearchin' News Policies

Contributions
Every member of TGS is welcome to submit unpublished material of genealogical value. Material from all Tennessee counties, pre-1900, is our priority. This includes diaries, letters, tombstone inscriptions, deeds, church records, military records, etc. If a photo is needed for an article, please send a photocopy. We are a nonprofit organization and are unable to pay for contributions, however, we do acknowledge the contributor and give by-lines.

Queries
Members are entitled to one free query per membership per year. Queries must be 50 words or less and will be edited for length and clarity and published in the order in which received. Please submit queries typed or printed and furnish your name, address and e-mail.

Surname Index File Cards
Members are urged to send vital statistics of ancestors from any locality to be included in our Master Surname File. Please type or print information on a 3x5 index card. Information should include subject's surname, given name, middle name, dates of birth, marriage, death, parents, spouse, children, origin, state and county. Please include your name and address on the back of the card.

Book Reviews
Books will be reviewed in Ansearchin' News if the book is donated to The Tennessee Genealogical Society. After a book is reviewed, it will become part of our library. All books will be reviewed in the order received.

Tennessee Ancestry Certificates
TGS sponsors this program to recognize and honor the settlers who came to Tennessee before 1880. To place your ancestor in this roll of honor, please request an application from Mrs. Phyllis Rothammer, Director of Certificates, at TGS. Upon completion of the application, please return it along with supporting documents or other proof of your ancestor’s residency, along with a $10 application fee. Attractive certificates suitable for framing are issued to each person whose application meets program qualifications. Certificates are inscribed with the prime ancestor’s name, date and place of settlement in Tennessee along with the applicant’s name.

Photo Gallery
In the future, a section of Ansearchin’ News will be provided as a tool in assisting our members with pre-1900 unidentified photos relating to Tennessee. Please send clear front and back photocopies along with any available background information you have. Please advise us of the origin of the photo and any other information that might aid our search. Provide us with your name and address, and if you wish the photocopy returned, include a S. A. S. E.

Letters to The Editor
All letters to the editor should be addressed to Jennye Miller. Please feel free to forward any comments or suggestions. In many instances throughout the quarterly, grammar was left verbatim in order to preserve the character and charm of the era.

Hours
The TGS library is open Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays from 10-2. Visits are free to all members and $5 for nonmembers. We have a large selection of books, microfilm, disks and personal papers, and although we are focused on Tennessee, we also have a large selection of the above data relating to other states. We look forward to seeing you soon.

Volunteering and Donations
TGS is strictly a nonprofit organization. We exist to keep the history of Tennessee and our ancestors alive. Volunteers run every aspect of the society, and if you would like to join the ‘cause,’ please contact us. There is no job too small – remember, Tennessee is the Volunteer State! If you wish to make a donation, please contact us, and remember that all contributions are tax deductible.
