FROM THE EDITOR

Suddenly all my ancestors are behind me.
Be still, they say. Watch and listen.
You are the result of the love of thousands.
--Linda Hogan, “Walking”

As I write today, I have just returned from three days in West Kentucky, visiting with cousins I had never met before. My 79-year-old cousin in Paducah and her husband welcomed me for supper and shared family pictures; she had already sent me documents containing over 300 names on our maternal great-grandmother’s side of the family, and shared addresses of other family members to contact.

After visiting with musician friends in the morning, I drove to Mayfield, where a younger cousin works in a drug store. She took a few minutes off from her busy schedule to give me directions to the cemetery where my grandparents are buried, and told me more about the family of one of my father’s older sisters, who was her grandmother. I drove out to Golo and took pictures of the white clapboard church (built in the 1880’s) and the graveyard, with its iron fence around it, as the sun was going down.

The next morning, I met a spunky 83-year-old lady who looks much younger; she and one of her sons took me riding around the county in a big, comfortable pick-up truck. It was sunny and brisk, and large snowflakes were coming down as we went to cemeteries and farmhouses, admired lovely horses and chicken barns, and crossed Panther Creek, not far from where my father grew up. We went back to her house for a bowl of hot soup before I drove back to Memphis.

And, wonder of wonders, when I checked my e-mail at home, I had heard from yet another cousin, on the other side of the family, also in Mayfield, with several documents on our common relatives. Queries in journals do work—that is how he knew to contact me in Memphis. I have quite a bit for him, too.

On November 1, we celebrate All Saints’ Day and remember the “cloud of witnesses” who have gone before us. How appropriate, as the days darken and winter comes, to feel them around us.

From its beginning in 1954 as Tennessee’s first chartered genealogy society, TNGS has been operated by volunteers. All funds generated have been spent for acquisition and management of the collection. These funds have been generated internally through membership fees, sales of published material and gifts from individuals. The TNGS is a Federally recognized 501(c) 3 educational organization, therefore gifts of money or materials are tax exempt.

The merger with the Germantown Library System frees thousands of dollars in our funds to be allocated to the acquisition of research material and the purchase of equipment to publish research material. The Germantown Library System also budgets for the acquisition of genealogical and historical research material. We are considering several acquisitions for the collection, and your suggestions are solicited.

These funds, combined with your gifts, will make it possible to acquire significant additions to this fine research center. Talk to your Tax Accountant and determine what you can give.

As we schedule events for 2007 we are able to add new services because of our new class room and electronic training devices. The Daughters of the American Revolution, The Sons of the American Revolution, and the Sons of Confederate Veterans are all scheduled to use our facilities for at least two how-to-join sessions in ‘07. Early Shelby County Settlers and The Manakin Huguenot Society will use it for meeting/training sessions. We will consider other ancestral and historical groups as users. We have scheduled training sessions on basic and advance internet research and how to build your web-site. We have begun scheduling speakers for membership meetings and we have some
A BRIEF HISTORY OF GERMANTOWN, TENNESSEE

The city of Germantown, located about sixteen miles east of the Mississippi River, is now a suburb of Memphis. The first settlers came to this area in the 1820’s, settling along the Cherokee Trace on a strip of high ground between the Wolf River and Nonconnah Creek known as Pea Ridge – which also became the name of the community. Town lots were laid out in 1834 by surveyor N.T. German, and the name of the town was changed to Germantown in 1836, perhaps because many German families were settlers in that area. Incorporated in 1841, the Memphis and Charleston Railroad was built through the community in 1852, and the first of several train depots was built at Germantown Road.

An important event during the early days of Germantown was the establishment of Nashoba Plantation between 1825 and 1830. Frances Wright, a wealthy woman of English and Scottish origins, received several federal land grants and purchased additional land for this utopian community, which was to be the home of emancipated slaves and a communal farm. Nashoba Plantation did not last for many years, but the name has survived both as a city street in Germantown and as the temporary name of the community during the years of World War I.

Germantown grew and thrived until the outbreak of the Civil War and the Union occupation of the area. Today, replicas of Howitzer cannons mark the place where 250 Union troops built an earthwork redoubt as part of a series of forts guarding the Memphis and Charleston Railroad during the Civil War. Fort Germantown is located just south of Poplar Pike on Honey Tree Drive, and is listed on the National Register of Historic Places.

After the war and the yellow fever epidemics of the 1860’s and 1870’s, the population dropped to the point that the town temporarily lost its charter. However, people gradually began to return over the next twenty years, and churches, stores and homes were rebuilt. Germantown attracted well-to-do landowners who were looking for a large estate in an attractive rural setting not far from the city and the river. Soon, to quote one writer, “Germantown settled into a peaceful hamlet occupied by more horses than people.”

A sleepy, upscale community through the 1950’s and 1960’s, the population of Germantown has skyrocketed since then, increasing from a few thousand to over 40,000 people in the year 2006. New residents have come from all over the nation and abroad with international companies, and there has been major growth in the business community. The average value of homes is the highest in the suburban Memphis area, and there is a rush to keep pace with the dramatic growth of the schools in this area.

Today a vibrant blend of old and new, the city of Germantown is moving forward with plans for its future. The Tennessee Genealogical Society is excited to be a part of these plans as we move into the former Germantown Public Library/Morgan Woods Children’s Theater building near the Pickering Center in the C.O. Franklin Park, not far from the arena where the annual Germantown Charity Horse Show is held.

This recently renovated facility will be known as the Germantown Community Library, Regional History and Genealogy Center, and will in the near future become an important regional center for genealogical research. The Tennessee Genealogical Society library of over 50,000 books, family histories, microfilms, compact discs and vertical files will now be available for library patrons and members, and the latest in internet access for online research will soon be in place.

Please go to the TNGS website, www.tngs.org. It is full of interesting and informative information. Tina continues to share with us little blurbs of pertinent family information in “articles.” Click on “interactive map.” Vince Hughes, our tech-guy, has created a street map to assist in finding our location. Click on “Click here to locate the Tn Gen Building.” Check the site often for current information about TNGS and the Regional History and Genealogy Center.

Membership dues are again due. This is first year that I can say unequivocally that the bulk of our income will be spent to add value to the membership and not to maintain a repository for the collection. Weather you are an active local member, a subscriber, or an institution you need to “hang around another year to see where this thing of ours is going.” Look at your mailing label on this issue. If the date says anything other that .......2008 then your dues are due. Please send your check for $25.00 ($35.00 for a family) to P.O. Box 381824, Germantown, TN 38183-1824. Thanks for your continued support.

KIRBY FARM: THE BROOKS, KIRBY AND WILLS FAMILIES OF SHELBY COUNTY, TENNESSEE

Twin brothers from the Piedmont region of North Carolina, Joseph Brooks and Wilks Brooks (b. 1785) were among the first settlers in the eastern part of Shelby County, just west of present-day Germantown, Tennessee. Joseph, who had married Jemima Cannon, left North Carolina for the Western District on February 23, 1829, and settled at Big Creek in present-day Shelby County. His brother, Wilks Brooks, and son, Joseph Brooks, came on horseback to the area on October 15, 1834. Wilks had served a term in the state General Assembly, and was a delegate to the North Carolina Constitutional Convention of 1823. He bought a portion of a six hundred and forty-acre land grant from Tignal Jones, assignee of John Rice, in Civil District 11 at Pea Ridge, later known as the Ridgeway area, and started building his plantation home, Woodlawn. On December 4, 1835, his wife, Martha (Patsy) Tucker Brooks, and his family arrived from North Carolina and moved to the plantation, thirteen miles east of Memphis on the State Line Road, on February 20, 1836. “Woodlawn” stands today on the same property but in another site and is listed on the National Register of Historic Places.

Wilks Brooks soon purchased additional property, including the present-day location of Kirby Farm, which in 1838 was owned by Col. Eppy White, Justice of the Peace. This spot was the first polling place and post office at Pea Ridge, which later became known as Germantown. [The property adjoined the Nashoba Plantation of Frances “Fanny” Wright, established in the 1820’s.] Brooks also acquired the land grants of Thomas Harrelson and Henry Harrelson, and of Charles McClung (later sold to Col. Greenlaw).

A devout Baptist, Wilks Brooks donated land for the construction of the Germantown Baptist Church (in its original location, near the railroad station and the Germantown Presbyterian Church). He died on March 6, 1849 and was buried near his plantation home.

Joseph Brooks, oldest son of Wilks and Patsy Brooks, was born in Greenville, North Carolina on March 31, 1819, came west with his father in 1834 and worked with him to build Woodlawn Plantation: the “home, log houses, farm buildings, a country store, miles of fencing and a brick train station.” The plantation overlooked the Cherokee Trace, later known as the Old Plank Road and still later as Poplar Pike. Joseph married Agnes Nelson Dandridge (1828 – 1911) on February 25, 1847 at Bolivar, Tennessee. Her parents, Robert Ambler Dandridge and Ann Overton Goodwin, had come from Richmond, Virginia to Hardeman County.

“Jo bought Germantown city property from Nicey B. Shepherd and F.A. Hurt on which was a cotton gin manufacturing company. The Hurt house was at 7510 North Street and adjoined the Brooks lot. Jo also bought additional adjoining Shelby County farmland from Cogbill, Rutherford, Henderson, [Frazier] Titus, Callis, Plunkett, Hewett and [Robert] Fearn.”

During the Civil War and Federal occupation, a Kansas regiment “used the Brooks home for a hospital, dug breast works on the grounds and plundered the Brooks’ personal belongings (and) their livestock, feed, lumber and wagons. Joseph Brooks strongly urged Agnes to play the piano, hoping the house would not be burned. Once a soldier rode by on his horse and threw fire at the front door. It was quickly put out.”

When Joseph Brooks died on October 20, 1897, a special railroad car was chartered on the Memphis and Charleston Railroad to carry the funeral party from Woodlawn Plantation and Brooks Station to Elmwood Cemetery in Memphis.
Ann Eliza Brooks, the only child of Joseph and Agnes Brooks, was born February 28, 1848. She married John Anderson Kirby, born July 26, 1842, on October 12, 1870 at Woodlawn. John, the son of Anderson Kirby (1796 – 1884) and Rebecca Miller (b. 1797), “enlisted with the Shelby Greys in Company A, 4th Tennessee Infantry Regiment and was mustered in at Germantown May 15, 1861. He saw action at Belmont, Shiloh and Missionary Ridge, where he was captured on November 25, 1863. Imprisoned at Rock Island, Illinois, he was paroled on May 21, 1865 – one of the last surviving members of the Shelby Greys.”

John and Ann Eliza Kirby lived for a short time at 210 Vance Avenue in Memphis, and later at Woodlawn. In 1898, they bought the place now known as Kirby Farms, the Thomas A. Nelson, James Brett and John Louis Ebling home, which had been the property of Wilks Brooks, Ann Eliza’s grandfather, in 1838.

The two children of Ann Eliza Brooks and John Anderson Kirby who reached adulthood were Joseph Brooks Kirby (1877-1950) and Agnes Rebecca Kirby (Mrs. Walter Davis May). Joseph Brooks Kirby conducted the business of the Brooks and Kirby families, working lands of his great-grandfather. On October 12, 1920 he married Dorothy Gordon Walker, daughter of Richard Gordon Walker and Olive Blanche Lyles of Memphis. Both of the daughters of Joseph and Dorothy (Dorothy G. Kirby), 1923 – 2006, and Louise Ann Kirby, b. 1928) were born at the Kirby House on Poplar Pike.

“Joseph Kirby, a third-generation member of the Germantown Baptist Church, attended Sunday School and church every Sunday. He was a member of the Civic Club, the Chickasaw Guards, an early member of the Memphis Country Club and a director of the Commercial and Industrial Bank.”

On March 27, 1947, Dorothy Gordon Kirby married Walter Douglass Wills, Jr. (1915 – 2000). Her sister, Louise Ann Kirby, married William James Ellis of Knoxville. Dot and Walter Wills had one son, Walter D. Wills, III; the Ellis children were W.J. Ellis and Joseph Kirby Ellis.

Walter Douglass Wills, Jr. was the grandson of Edwin Francis Wills and Ida Douglass and the son of Walter Douglass Wills, Sr. (1886 – 1971) and Caroline Haskell Duval (1877 – 1979). The family business was the E.F. Wills Insurance Company. Walter Douglass Wills, Sr. was an active member of First Methodist Church of Memphis, serving on the Board of Stewards from 1910 until his death; he was also a charter member of the Lions Club.

Family members no longer live in the farmhouse, and the suburbs of Memphis and Germantown crowd around it, but this property stands today as a small island of West Tennessee history: an image of nineteenth-century life, lovingly restored by Walter D. Wills, III twenty years ago.
years ago. Civic and historical groups hold meetings there today. The old Brooks home, Woodlawn, was formerly located at 6388 Brooks Manor Cove, at the end of a long driveway leading north to Poplar Pike and the railroad tracks. It was moved to 2000 Old Oak Drive in 1973, where it has been preserved and rebuilt by the family. The house now faces west, with back porch enclosed; additional living areas have been added, and a new back porch uses some of the original columns.

Kirby Farm, Woodlawn, and the families who lived there are an important part of the history of this area. We thank the current generation of descendents for their public-spirited generosity.

Nancy Beaver, Arkansas Planter —Michael A. Ports*

Introduction

The following article is the fifth installment in the series of articles on the twelve children of Stephen and Nancy (White) Beaver of Henderson County, Tennessee. For this article, the focus is on their daughter Nancy, her husband John Milner, and their family. The article attempts to place the subjects in some historical context. Additional articles are planned and underway. It is hoped that the following material will be of interest to other researchers as well as members of the family.

The story of Nancy Beaver is one of pioneering determination, tragedy, and ultimately success. After a brief time in Alabama, the young Nancy and her husband brought their family to southwestern Arkansas. There they began the long and difficult task of carving a large plantation out of the wilderness and raising a family. The tragedy came with the untimely death of her husband. But, that did not deter the plucky widow. She continued her husband’s work, developed their plantation, and lived to enjoy the fruits of their labors as well as her numerous grandchildren.

The Early Years

Nancy Beaver was born August 26, 1803 in Franklin County, Georgia, the daughter of Stephen and Nancy (White) Beaver. Nancy was only about five years old when her family moved to the Mulberry Creek neighborhood in Lincoln County, Tennessee, where she grew into adulthood. Just how and where she met her husband is uncertain. Of course, she may have known him in Lincoln County. While no specific record of her husband has been found in Lincoln County, he may have been related to William Milner, veteran of the War of 1812, who lived nearby. Just as likely, she may have met her husband after moving with her family to Henderson County, Tennessee circa 1823. No record of their marriage has survived; but, based upon the ages of their children, she married John Milner circa 1822. John, the son of John and Elizabeth Milner, was born August 29, 1803 in North Carolina. Thus, both the bride and groom were approximately nineteen years old at their wedding.

Sojourn in Alabama

Soon after their marriage, they moved to Tuscaloosa County, Alabama near his father’s family. In 1830, John Milner’s household consisted of seven souls.

The ages for both John and Nancy agree with other known records. Yet, the number and ages of their children do not. Of course, they could have married earlier than 1822, but that seems unlikely. It also seems unlikely that they had four children all under five years of age. It is presumed that one of the two youngest boys was their son Thomas and the two youngest girls were their daughters Elizabeth and Louisa. Perhaps some of the other children were nephews or nieces. John Milner owned no slaves. On January 12, 1833, John Millender, Junior of Tuscaloosa County sold a tract of land to Daniel Burgin for $500. The tract consisted of the NW¼ of Section 7, Township 21, Range 5 West and contained 61.97 acres. A quarter of a section normally consists of 160 acres, plus or minus a small fraction. Perhaps the court clerk erred in transcribing the original deed into the record book and the tract actually contained 161.97 acres of land. No record has been located indicating how John obtained that tract of land.

On November 21, 1836, John Milener of Bibb County, Alabama sold a tract of land to Samuel N.
Houston for $1,500. The tract of 239.76 acres consisted of the NW¼ of Section 14 and the E½ of the SE¼ of Section 15, both in Township 21, Range 6 West. John signed his name to the deed. His wife Nancy also signed the deed to release her dower rights. Again unfortunately, no record has been found of John ever obtaining title to that land. He probably purchased the land from Robert Woods of Bibb County, who obtained patents on that land in 1823 and 1824. On April 3, 1837, John Milener sold another tract of land to Samuel Houston for $3,000. The tract of just 39.83 acres consisted of the SE¼ of the NW¼ of Section 15, Township 21, Range 5 West. Again, no record has been located of John acquiring that tract of land. Perhaps he never obtained title to it as James Ray obtained a patent for that tract in 1849.

Moving to Arkansas

John Millner moved his family to Saline County, Arkansas in 1837. He purchased two tracts of land there at public sale from Rebecca Collins, the administratrix of the estate of William Collins on December 23, 1837. The E¼ of the SW¼ and W½ of the SE¼ of Section 29, Township 1 South, Range 15 West drew his high bid of $1,000. John Millner first appears on the tax rolls there in 1838. That year he paid taxes on his two tracts of land amounting to 160 acres valued at $640, four slaves valued at $3,000, other personal property valued at $3,300, and one horse. On February 24, 1838, Charles Caldwell sold another tract of land to John Milner for $300. The tract, consisting of the W½ of the SW¼ of Section 29, was adjacent to his other two tracts. That purchase brought his total holdings to 240 acres of land.

Surprisingly, his name does not appear on the tax rolls for 1839. But, on July 1, 1839, John purchased two more tracts of land consisting of the NW¼ of the NW¼ of Section 29 and the SE¼ of the SE¼ of fractional Section 19, all in Township 1 South, Range 15 West. He paid Richard and Mary Brazil $200 for the two tracts, enlarging his total land holdings to 360 acres. On October 11, 1839, John Milner completed the purchase and obtained patents on a tract out of the public lands for sale from the federal government at Little Rock. The tract consisted of the NE¼ of Section 32, Township 1 South, Range 15 West containing 160 acres. On that same date he obtained a patent for another tract consisting of the SE¼ of the NW¼ of Section 29, Township 1 South, Range 15 West of 40 acres. His land holdings then amounted to 560 acres.

Yet, in 1840, John Milner paid the poll tax for himself and property taxes for 600 acres of land worth $1,800, four slaves worth $2,000, five horses worth $300, and ten cattle worth $125. Just why he paid taxes on 40 more acres of land than he owned is uncertain. There are three possible explanations. First, the tax assessor may have erred in calculating the exact quantity of land. Second, John may have purchased another small tract of 40 acres but failed to record the deed. Third, one of the foregoing deeds may have been transcribed incorrectly. Also, on the tax rolls for the first time is Lewis Milner, who paid his poll tax and property taxes for 200 acres of land. In just a few short years, John Milner enjoyed significant success as a planter in Arkansas. His planting operations were profitable enough to pay cash for 560 acres of land. In addition, he had acquired four more slaves.

In 1840, John Milner, a resident of Saline County, headed a household of thirteen individuals.

The oldest male may be his father, John Millner, Sr. The next oldest male probably is John and the oldest female his wife Nancy. It is interesting to note that the listings for the next five oldest children agree precisely with the listing in the previous census. Thus, the census schedule implies that John and Nancy were the parents of ten children all born between about 1823 and 1840! It is presumed that one of the two boys between 10 and 15 was their son Thomas and the two boys between 5 and 10 were their sons James and John. It also is presumed that the two girls between 10 and 15 were their daughters Elizabeth and Louisa. Of course, it is possible that at least some of the unidentified children were nephews, nieces, or other relations.

In addition, John owned seven slaves, two males and five females. On September 1, 1840, John Millner, Sr. sold “a certain negro woman Charity 30 years old” to his son John Milner, Jr. for $600.

Fortune smiled on John and Nancy Milner, at least economically. During the year 1842, they purchased significant additional land. On August 23, 1842, John Millinder, Jr. purchased a single tract of 80 acres from David G. McDaniel and John S. Black as executors of the estate of George A. McDaniel deceased. John paid $200 for the S½ of the SE¼ of fractional Section 30, Township 1 South, Range 15 West. On September 5, 1842, John Milner obtained a patent from the federal government for 40 acres of land. The land consisted of the NE¼ of the NW¼ of Section 32, Township 1 South, Range 15 West. On December 27, 1842, Green B. Hughes and his wife Louisa sold nine more tracts of land to John Millinder, Jr. for $821. The nine tracts were the NE¼, E½ of the NW¼, E½ of the SW¼, E½ of the SE¼, NW¼ of the SE¼, SW¼ of the SE¼ of Section 15, NW¼ and E½ of the NE¼ of Section 14, and SW¼ of the SE¼ of Section 10, all in Township 2 South, Range 15 West and contained 760 acres. For the first time, John did not pay cash. Rather, Mr. Hughes accepted a mortgage for the full purchase price plus interest at ten percent. The three transactions increased his land holdings by 880 acres, bringing the total to 1,440 acres if one accepts the deeds or 1,480 acres if one accepts the tax rolls.

On November 10, 1845, John Milner, Jr. loaned $222.52 to William Brents. In return, William placed 360 acres of land in trust. If he did not pay back the loan with interest before January 1, 1848, then he would forfeit the land to John. Apparently, he satisfied his debt in cash, as John never took title to the land. In 1846, John Milner, Sr. was taxed for 80 acres of land, one horse, and two cattle. Because he paid no poll tax, it may be concluded that he was older than 60 years. His son, John Milner, Jr. paid his poll tax that year. In addition, John, Jr. paid taxes on 560 acres of land worth $1,680, ten slaves worth $3,600, six horses worth $180, and eight cattle worth $40. Based upon that tax record, John may have sold a significant portion of his land, but no deed was recorded to document the sale. Perhaps John was unable to pay off the mortgage and had to relinquish title to his 880 acres of land. On March 11, 1846, John Y. Lindsey sold “a certain negro boy Jack, about 21 years old” to John Milner, Jr. for $500.

John Milner again failed to make the tax rolls in 1847. His father was assessed for 80 acres of land. In 1848, John Jr. was assessed for 600 acres valued at $1,800. He owned twelve slaves assessed at $3,600, six horses assessed at $240, and sixteen cattle assessed at $80. On December 16, 1848, John and Nancy Milner sold 600 acres of land to Comfort Peck and J. R. Richards for $1,800. Unfortunately, the extant deeds are unclear. John had acquired most of the 600 acres in 1837 or 1839. But, there is no record of him having acquired 80 of the 600 acres sold. In any event, that sale probably marks their departure from Saline County. Both John and Nancy signed the deed.

Pioneering in Ouachita County

Soon thereafter, John Milner moved his family to Harrison Township, Ouachita County, Arkansas, where he immediately began to acquire land. John first appears on the tax rolls there in 1849. That year he paid his poll tax and was assessed for 320 acres of land valued at $1,000, fourteen slaves valued at $4,500, two horses valued at $80, five mules valued at $120, and fifteen cattle valued at $90. The 320 acres was comprised of the E½ of Section 27, Township 15 South, Range 20 West. By 1850, he had increased his land holdings to 440 acres assessed at $1,500. He also was assessed for twelve slaves worth $6,000, two horses worth $80, three mules worth $120, and ten cattle worth $50.

In 1850, John Millinder was farming his land in Harrison Township. The 47-year-old native North Carolinian valued his real estate at $2,000. His wife Nancy is listed as 47 years old and born in Georgia. Living with them were their children James, John, Nancy, and William. John owned twenty slaves, ten males and ten females. The six adult men ranged in age from 42 to 21 years. The four boys ranged in age from 8 to 3 years. The six adult females ranged in age from 40 to 18 years. The four girls ranged in age from 8 to 1 year. His farm consisted of 200 acres of improved land and 400 acres of unimproved land and was valued at $1,000. It is unclear why the size and value of his farm does not agree more closely with the county tax rolls. John owned farm implements valued at $430, a substantially higher amount than anyone else in Harrison Township. Perhaps he owned a cotton gin and enjoyed the profits from ginning his neighbors’ cotton. His livestock, valued at $830, consisted of six horses, two mules, ten cows, four oxen, ten cattle, forty-five sheep, and one hundred swine. In the previous year, his farm had produced sixteen hundred bushels of corn, three bales of ginned cotton, one hundred pounds of wool, one thousand bushels of peas and beans, five hundred bushels of sweet potatoes, three hundred pounds of butter, $100 worth of home manufactured goods, and $255 worth of slaughtered animals.

On March 30, 1850, John and Nancy Milliner of Ouachita County sold the last of their property in Saline County to James Richards. They received $300 in cash for the S½ of the SE¼ of fractional Section 30, Township 1 South, Range 15 West containing 80 acres. In 1851, John paid his poll tax and was assessed for 440 acres of land valued at just $1,320. His 440 acres consisted of four tracts of land, the same two tracts for which he was assessed in 1849 and two other tracts. The two other tracts were the SE¼ of the SW¼ of Section 22 and the W½ of the NE¼ of Section 34 both in Township 15 South, Range 20 West. He also was assessed for seventeen slaves valued at $8,500, five horses valued at $200, two mules valued at $80, and fifteen cattle valued at $100.

According to his tombstone, John Milner was born August 29, 1803 and died November 28, 1851. He was buried in the Milner family cemetery, located approximately one mile west of Highway 79 and four miles north of McNeil, Arkansas. His obituary was published in the newspaper.

“Departed this life, very suddenly, on his premises, in Ouachita co., Arkansas, on the evening of the 28th ultimo, brother John Milner, aged 48 years and 4 months. His death was caused by a tree falling on him. His negroes cut down a large oak tree, which fell upon a small pine, breaking it entirely off and then fell upon Bro. Milner, fracturing his scull bone, breaking his right shoulder bone, and dislocating his neck, which killed him so dead that he never struggled. The subject of this notice professed faith in the Son of God, in Bibb co., Ala., and attached himself to the Cumberland Presbyterian church in 1835. He moved from there in the fall of 1837, to Saline co., Arks., where he resided until the fall of 1848, when he moved from there to the place of his departure. The deceased was a man of very industrious habits, and managed his affairs well. He was a consistent and orderly walking christian, was beloved by his family, and esteemed by his neighbors and acquaintances. He has left a dear wife, 8 children, of whom 4 are married, and a large circle of friends to mourn his life.”

Because the Ouachita County Courthouse was destroyed by fire in 1875, no records from the probate of his estate have survived. In 1852, the year after his death, John Milner’s estate is listed on the tax rolls. His land, consisting of the same four tracts, had increased in value to $1,400. The estate was assessed for eighteen slaves worth $9,000, four horses worth $200, three mules worth $150, and twelve cattle worth $80. Later that year, Columbia County was formed from portions of Lafayette, Hempstead, and Ouachita Counties. Harrison Township became part of the new Columbia County.

Widowhood

Before his death, John Milner of Ouachita County began the process of obtaining two land patents from the federal government. But, the official process was not completed until after his death. On November 1, 1852, the government issued a patent to him for the SE¼ of the SW¼ of Section 22, Township 15 South, Range 20 West, containing 40 acres. On the same day, a second patent was issued for the W½ of the NE¼ of Section 34, Township 15 South, Range 20 West, containing 80 acres. It is worth noting that John had paid the taxes on these two tracts since 1850, two years prior to perfecting the title to the two tracts. In 1853, Nancy Milner was assessed for the same four tracts of land then valued at $1,320. In order to make ends meet, Nancy was forced to sell some of her slaves. She paid taxes for eight slaves valued at $3,600, two horses valued at $100, two mules valued at $100, and seven cattle valued at $42.

Perhaps Nancy used the proceeds from the sale of her slaves to purchase additional land, another slave, and more livestock. Perhaps, her fortunes simply had improved. In 1854, Nancy was assessed for 560 acres of land valued at $1,680. She also paid taxes on nine slaves worth $4,500, three horses worth $160, two mules worth $100, and ten cattle worth $60. Nancy Milner does not appear on the tax rolls for 1856. But, by 1857, she was assessed for just 320 acres of land valued at $1,080. She also paid taxes on six slaves valued at $3,000, two horses valued at $100, three mules valued at $150, and twelve cattle valued at $75. By 1859, her economic circumstances had improved to the point that she could purchase more land and slaves. On July 1, 1859, Nancy Milner received a patent for a tract of land in her own name from the federal government. Her tract of land consisted of the E½ of the SW¼ and the NW¼ of the SW¼ of Section 27, Township 15 South, Range 20 West and contained 120 acres. That same year, she was assessed for 800 acres valued at $2,400, twelve slaves valued at $6,000, one horse valued at $60, four mules valued at $200, and twelve cattle valued at $75.

Nancy remained a widow and continued to operate and manage the family plantation. In 1860, Nancy is listed in the census as a “widow farming.” She was 56 years old and born in Georgia. She valued her real estate at $6,400 and her personal property at $22,000. Living with her were two of her children, Nancy and William, and her overseer Franklin Weaver. The widow Nancy owned twenty-one slaves who resided in five slave houses. The ten male slaves ranged in age from 46 to 8 years old. The eleven female slaves ranged in age from 40 years to just 4 months. Her plantation consisted of 200 acres of improved land and 300 acres of unimproved land. She placed a value of $2,500 on her plantation and $100 on the farming implements. Her livestock, consisting of two horses, six mules, five cows, twenty cattle, and forty swine, was valued at $900. The plantation produced one thousand bushels of corn, fifty bales of ginned cotton, seventy-five bushels of peas and beans, five bushels of potatoes, two hundred-fifty bushels of sweet potatoes, and $96 worth of home manufactured goods. Nancy kept some of her personal property hidden from the county tax assessor. That same year, she paid taxes on 800 acres of land valued at $2,400, which grossly understates the amounts recorded on the census schedules. Moreover, she paid taxes on only ten slaves valued at $7,000, six horses valued at $400, and twelve cattle valued at $100.

Economically, the ravages of the Civil War were not kind to the widow. The 1863 tax roll indicates that the value of her 800 acres remained relatively high at $2,400, the value of her eleven slaves had dropped to just $4,400. Moreover, the aftermath of the war was crippling. Her 800 acres were then valued at just $1,200. Of course, her greatest economic assets, her slaves, had been freed. Difficult times continued for her during Reconstruction, but Nancy was not so discouraged that she could not continue to manage her plantation.

By 1870, the widow Nancy was living alone. At 68 years of age, she was still farming. Curiously, Tennessee is listed erroneously as her place of birth. She valued her real estate at $1,500 and her personal property at $1,000. Her plantation, consisting of 300 acres of improved land and 400 acres of unimproved land, was valued at $1,500. Her farm implements were valued at just $25. Her livestock, valued at $300, consisted of one horse, six cows, four oxen, fourteen cattle, fifteen sheep, and thirty swine. The plantation produced one thousand bushels of corn, twenty-one bales of cotton, one hundred bushels of sweet potatoes, and $200 worth of slaughtered products. The total farm production was valued at $3,000.

Nancy died January 23, 1879 and was buried next to her husband in the old family cemetery. According to her tombstone, she was born August 26, 1803. Thus, she was just three days older than her husband. On February 1, 1879, her son Thomas L. Milner filed his application to the county court for letters of administration on her estate. The letters were granted after he posted a $3,000 bond with the court. J. G. Kelso and T. J. Bolger were his sureties. On February 10, 1879, he filed the inventory and appraisement of her estate. In addition to her personal property and $180 cash on hand, her estate included seven promissory notes.

It is presumed that at least some of the aforementioned men, especially Gale Milner, Bob White, and Bill Milner, may have been her former slaves. Gabe Milner, a black man born circa 1847; Robert White, a black man born circa 1847; and, William Milner, a black man born circa 1834, were living nearby in Harrison Township in 1880.

The entire inventory of her estate was appraised at $649.00. The inventory includes typical agricultural products, livestock, implements, and other household and kitchen items. It is presumed that she could read because of the books that she owned.

On March 8, 1879, T. L. Milner filed a sale bill for the personal property of the estate. Then, on May 10, 1880, T. L. Milner filed his first annual account of his administration of the estate. On November 10, 1886, he filed his second and final account for his administration of the estate of his mother. He was charged $2,216.65 from his first annual account. He then was charged for the following:

The early census schedules seem to indicate that John and Nancy were the parents of as many as thirteen children. In 1851, his obituary states that only eight children survived him. Thus it is presumed that as many as five of their children died young. The names of those unfortunate children have not been found.
The children of John and Nancy (Beaver) Milner were:

31. i. unknown son, born circa 1823 in Tuscaloosa County, Alabama.
32. ii. Elizabeth, born circa 1825 in Tuscaloosa County, Alabama. She married Martin F. Fletcher April 4, 1842.
33. iii. Thomas L., born January 10, 1827 in Tuscaloosa County, Alabama. He married Margaret Davis in 1847 probably in Ouachita County, Arkansas.
34. iv. unknown son, born circa 1829 in Tuscaloosa County, Alabama.
35. v. Louisa, born circa 1830 in Tuscaloosa County, Alabama. She married Jesse E. Hays August 27, 1846.
38. viii. unknown daughter, born circa 1835 in Tuscaloosa County, Alabama.
39. ix. unknown son, born circa 1837 in Saline County, Arkansas.
40. x. unknown son, born circa 1839 in Saline County, Arkansas.
41. xi. Hannah E., born circa 1840 in Saline County, Arkansas.
42. xii. Nancy C., born August 31, 1841 in Saline County, Arkansas.
43. xiii. William B., born October 21, 1844 in Saline County, Arkansas.

Conclusion

From the foregoing, it is evident that Nancy Beaver was a pioneering woman determined to fulfill her late husband’s dream of building a successful cotton plantation out of the Arkansas wilderness. Her husband John began the process, but died in a tragic accident with his dream only partly accomplished. But, the widow Nancy did not despair. Instead, she worked hard, raised her children, managed the plantation, and saw it grow to become one of the largest and most successful cotton plantations in the county. Nancy was the mother of as many as thirteen children, seven of whom survived, married, and produced grandchildren to Nancy’s delight.

This presents all of the public and private records that we have found concerning Nancy Beaver, her husband John Milner, and their children. We are indebted to the staff of many public and private institutions for their patience, cooperation, and assistance. Special mention is due the helpful staff at the Tennessee State Library and Archives, Alabama Department of Archives and History, Arkansas History Commission, Henderson County Courthouse, Tuscaloosa County Courthouse, Saline County Courthouse, Ouachita County Courthouse, Columbia County Courthouse, and the very kind ladies at the Little Rock Public Library and Mid-Continent Public Library. Also, many thanks are due to our cousins Orpha Jewel Weaver, Billy B. Lassiter, and John B. Milner who generously shared their research with us. Hopefully, others will step forward with new information as well as suggestions for further research.

J.W. MOORE

WILLIE WILCOX a minor eleven years old on the 31 of October next his father being dead and it appearing to the satisfaction [of the court] that the mother was unable to take care of said minor and that it was her wish that said WILLIE R. WILCOX be apprenticed to J.W. MOORE in the sum of five hundred dollars with H.S. WYSE and J.C. BEST as his surties. Conditions for the faithful performance and requirements towards the said apprenticed according to the law on his arrival of twenty one years of age to give him the additional sum of fifty dollars, saddle, bridle and horse worth one hundred and fifty dollars and one suit of clothes which bond was severally acknowledged in open court approved and ordered to be recorded.

State of Tennessee, Crockett County

Indenture of the apprenticeship between the State of Tennessee and by order of the county court of said county on one part and JAMES W. MOORE on the other part witnesseth that whereas it has been made to appear to the satisfaction of the court that WM.R. WILCOX a minor eleven years old on the 31st of October next has no father living and his mother is unable to support and maintain him and desires that he be apprenticed to JAMES W. MOORE therefore the State of Tennessee by said county court the estate of WM. R. WILCOX being too small to support or maintain him doth hereby bind him the said WILLIAM R. WILCOX to JAMES W. MOORE until he shall attain the age of twenty one years to learn the trade of and business of a farmer and state afore said covenants with JAMES W. MOORE that the said WILLIE R. WILCOX shall serve him faithfully and correctly ____ himself during the term of the apprenticeship and the said JAMES W. MOORE doth covenant with the state that he will provide WILLIAM R. WILCOX diet, clothing and accommodations fit and necessary and teach or cause to be taught to read and write and cipher as far as the fule of and at the expiration of the apprenticeship, pay him the said WILLIAM R. WILCOX the sume of fifty dollars $50.00 and furnish him with a horse bridle and saddle worth one hunmdred and fifty dollars $150.00 and with one suit of clothes this the 2nd day of April 1872.

The commissioners appointed into the _______ of changing the public road leading by HASED RAGAN and intersecting the Trenten Road near JOEL NUNN’S Reprt that the said road be discontinued from the said RAGANS to the said Trenten Road and that the said road opened out and traveled by way of J.F. BABB and THOMAS LAYMANS and intersecting said Trenten Road at JAMES BROWN’S. It is therefore ordered by the court that said change be made and that the same is hereby declared to be a public road and that lands be assigned to work on same ordered by the court that HENRY BABB, R.T.S. AVERY.

K.T. WILLIAMS, JOHN BABB and WM ROBERTS be appointed a jury Viss to report to present term of this court as to the propriety of changing the said from F.P. HALLS to Quincy so as to run the same from F.P. HALLS northward about two hundred yards to R.T.S. AVERY’S line thence west to Quincy and report as to whether said change will injure the public or any private person. The undersign Jury of Viss appointed to report as to the change of road from F.P. HALLS to Quincy and whether said change would not injure the public or any private interest beg leave to report that said change would not injure the public or any private interest and would be as good a road and pass over better ground than the present route. They therefore all recommend the change of said road so as to run from said HALLS yard gate northward by his garden to R.T.S. AVERY’S south boundry line than along a cross fence through some woods intersecting the Dyers Burg Road some two hundred and fifty yards from Tharp’s Cross Roads. It is therefore ordered by the court that the change be made as above specified. Provided the said HALL puts the proposed dress road in a condition so it can be received by the present overseer.
On motion this County Court of Crockett County cheerfully certify that C.A. GOODLAW is twenty one years of age and is of good moral character and that a copy of this order issue to C.A. GOODLAW.

Health Pedigrees

Health pedigrees are fast becoming an important thing to do in one’s own family. People who are not particularly interested in Genealogy are finding themselves documenting their family for medical reasons. Here are some tips in organizing a health pedigree.

Most health officials recommend a 3-generation pedigree documenting as many health issues as possible. Include:

- Generation 1: Self, spouse, children and their families
- Generation 2: Parents, siblings and their families
- Generation 3: Grandparents, siblings and their families

Information you should document:
- Full names, birth, marriage, divorce, remarriages, deaths
- Ethnic Backgrounds
- Height & Weight
- Average amount they drank/smoke/drugs

Health problems:
- Headaches, asthma, colds, allergies, heart attacks, diabetes, high blood pressure, cancers, strokes, miscarriages, depression, suicide, High cholesterol, major surgeries. Note any other health issues that were not mentioned.

Try to date the events.

Death: Try to find out what caused the medical problem. If they died from a stroke, was it due to a blood clot? High blood pressure? Bleeding in the brain? Retain a death certificate that states the cause of death.

Knowing medical issues shown in family members does not mean you will definitely get this illness/disease. It is a guide for your medical checkups to aid in early intervention if you are prone to get the illness/disease. Geneticist say family medical histories should be documented and stored in a safe place as they are just as important as birth and marriage documents and wills.

Keep all medical records updated and share the information with family members. Make copies to take with you when you go to the physician.

News from The Christian Endeavor Evangel, Memphis

A weekly bulletin and newsletter published by the Christian Endeavor Society of the Linden Street Christian Church. The Christian Endeavor Evangel also included news from the Mississippi Avenue Christian Church and the Third Christian Church. Fifteen volumes of the Evangel, dating from 1903 to 1917, are available on microfilm in the Tennessee State Archives thanks to A. Owen Guy, Associate Pastor at Lindenwood Christian Church in Memphis.

Some items from these early years (continued from Vol. 53 #1 and Vol. 53#2):

December 27, 1903

We are glad to see Miss Ermine Baxter again in her place at church after several weeks absence.

Bro. and Sister Sheffer had two good dinners Christmas. They dined at Bro. J.H. Smith’s in the evening and Bro. O.M. Peck’s at noon.

The beautiful violin solo by Mrs. Arthur Falls at the Christian Endeavor meeting last Sunday was one of the most distinctly artistic effects ever heard in our church.

January 3, 1904

Linden Ave.

Dr. H.L. Farris is entertaining his brother, J.R. Farris, of Lexington, KY. Bro. Farris will occupy Bro. Sheffer’s pulpit at tonight’s service.

Miss Ave. Church

Mrs. F.E. Reynolds and daughter Miss Fanna [Reynolds] of Athens, Ala. are visiting Brother Toof’s family during the holidays.

Mrs. Reynolds is a very zealous and faithful member of the Christian Church at Athens.

Third Church

Bro. J.E. Gorsuch has returned from Crocket Mills, where he spent Christmas.

January 24, 1904

Miss Jessie Partee and Miss Etta Partee have returned from a visit to relatives in St. Louis.

L.E. Glass has gone to Mississippi for a two weeks hunting trip.

Bro. Tom Gale and daughter, Mrs. A. Gale Horne, left Monday for an extended Southern trip.

January 31, 1904

Mrs. Jennie Beauchamp, a member of the Christian Church in Little Rock, is visiting Mrs. Emma A. Browne at 289 Lauderdale street.
Miss Jessie Moore delightfully entertained about thirty guests Tuesday evening at her home on Union avenue. The hours were pleasantly passed with unique guessing contests, and at its conclusion delicious refreshments were served. It was a leap year party, and an amusing feature was an auction sale of the young men. As a warning to the girls, the announcement is made that Horace Smith and Oakley Gale “have been taken.”

February 7, 1904
Bro. W.H. Bates and wife returned last Sunday from a cruise on the gulf. They were the guests of Mr. Robert Galloway, on his new yacht.

Sister Nina Smith and Miss Myrtle Moore have been on the sick list for the past week.

A “Want Column” has been suggested for the Evangel, for the benefit of some bachelors who want a girl.

February 14, 1904
Judge and Mrs. T.J. Latham will go this week on a visit to their ranch in Texas.

Miss Pearl Schulz, who has been the guest of Miss Emma Carr, at her home on Calhoun street, has returned to her home in Oakland, Miss.

February 21, 1904
On Tuesday night, February 23, “under auspices of Christian Endeavor” the oratorio “Bethlehem” by George Root was presented under the direction of Mr. Heber Coleman. Soloists included “Messrs. Ben Carr, Geo. Matthews and Edwin Browne” as the Magi, and Miss Laura Gish, soprano, as an angel. Miss Leone Manker and Max Zimmerman performed organ solos between the three parts of the oratorio.

Third Church
A social will be given Thursday evening at the residence of Mrs. Wm. Middleton, 155 Fifth Street. It is for the benefit of the new carpet fund.

Bro. Shaddack, the president, will lead the Endeavor meeting tonight. Mrs. Ella Hoff and Miss May Burton will serve on the welcoming committee.

February 28, 1904
Another immense audience greeted the choir Tuesday night at the second rendition of the oratorio “Bethlehem.” These entertainments are greatly enjoyed. The next one they will give will be “Ruth.”

Third Church
Little Miss Amy Brown is selling tickets for the entertainment for the Leath Orphan House and as she is working for a prize, church members should secure their tickets from her. The “War of Flowers” will be given March 11 and 12 at the Lyceum. These entertainments are always high class, and the cause deserves the patronage of all church people.

March 6, 1904
Two confessions were made Sunday morning at the close of Brother Sheffer’s strong sermon. Miss Edith Bunau, of 786 Rayburn Ave. and Mr. Kenneth Bell, of 44 Beale St. They were baptized Wednesday night and will be cordially welcomed into the church.

The death of Mrs. E.W. Curd is recorded with much sorrow. The funeral was conducted by Bro. Sheffer last Sunday afternoon. She was the mother of Mrs. E.L. Barclay and grandmother to Miss May Barclay, of the Endeavor Society.

March 20, 1904
Miss Ave. Church
Bro. J.H. Roulhac occupied Bro. Riddell’s pulpit last Sunday morning. He is visiting his son, Bro. K.L. Roulhac, on Alston Avenue.

Linden Ave. Church
New Endeavor members (first quarter) were: Active: Mr. and Mrs. Ben H. Carr, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Mack, Mr. and Mrs. George L. Frank, Dr. and Mrs. L. Green, Miss Edith Burnau, A.Y. Allen, Kenneth Bell, G.A. Macon, C.B. Blackburn. Associate: Lucien D. Smith, J.B. Clark, Miss Inez Rogers, Edwin Smith. Honorary: Mrs. McLefresh, Mrs. Nina Smith, Miss Rutledge.

April 10, 1904
Miss Mattie Burgess, of Indianapolis, will be the guest of Mrs. Battle Brown and Miss Grace Too of during her stay in the city.
The Easter meeting was unusually helpful. It was lead [sic] by Mrs. Battle Brown and was an attractive Meeting. A pretty idea was having the lesson read by several of the younger members. It was read in rotation by Miss Zula Robertson, Miss May Barkley, Miss Mary Smith, Grover Connelly and Robert Gray.

April 17, 1904
Work on the oratorio “Ruth” is progressing most favorably. It is a work of the highest musical merit and promises to be a greater success than “Bethlehem,” the rendition of which placed our choir at the head of one of the best choirs in the South.
An interesting feature of our choir work lately is found in the organization of a male quartette by the four Browne brothers – Messrs. Harris, Walter, Arthur and Edwin Browne. They will rehearse regularly under Mr. Coleman’s direction, and will be heard frequently in the choir.

April 24, 1904
Miss Clara Finne gave a magnificent rendition of the sacred song, “From Gloom to Glory” last Sunday morning.
A beautiful duet was given at Endeavor meeting Sunday evening by Mrs. Kate Hainer and Mrs. Victor R. Smith.
We regret very much that our accommodating and congenial organist and friend, Mr. Max Zimmerman, had to give up his position at our organ on account of other business engagements. Max is a fine Christian character and is one of us. We hope to see him with us often.

Miss Martha Trudeau has been secured to take charge of our organ. She is a finished musician and we are glad to welcome her in our midst.

May 8, 1904
Third St. Church
The Endeavor Society has elected new officers for the year. They are as follows: President, Miss Nannie Norvell; Vice-President, Miss Lillie Scheibler; Secretary, Miss Irma Ikerd; Treasurer, Mrs. Root.

Linden St. Church
The oratorio “Ruth” which will be given by the Choir on Tuesday night, May 24, was composed by Alfred R. Gaul, who also wrote “The Holy City.” It is a work of surpassing beauty, and its rendition by our splendid choir will be a notable event in musical circles. [editor’s note: Under the direction of Heber Coleman, the soloists were: Ruth – Miss Nellie Lunn; Naomi – Mrs. Eugene Holmes; Orpah – Mrs. L.C. Tindall; and Boaz – Mr. R.A. Neville.]

May 22, 1904
Mr. Max Zimmerman left for St. Louis where he will play in one of the bands at the World’s Fair.
An article under Department News:
Despite the inclement looking weather on last Tuesday morning, it was a bright and happy company of Endeavorers and members of the choir (from old Linden Street Church) and Miss Grace Toof’s class from Mississippi Avenue fifty-four strong, which completely filled two large wagonettes, and drove to “Graceland” for a day’s outing.
The above mentioned place is a most ideal spot for a day’s outing...they proceeded in various and numerous ways to enjoy the hospitality of a Southern Farm.
One of the most interesting features of the day was the first – the strawberry picking. Every one was provided with a box and permitted to enter the strawberry patch. It is needless to say that many boxes were never filled.
[these events were followed by a business meeting, a baseball game, and dinner]

June 5, 1904
Miss. Ave. Church
Mr. and Mrs. S.C. Toof and Miss Grace Toof spent several days of last week in St. Louis seeing the sights of the great Fair.

July 3, 1904

Linden Street

Splendid music was furnished at Endeavor Sunday night by a choir composed of Mrs. Victor R. Smith, Miss Effie Key, Mr. F.H. Cappa and Mr. Os ville Finné. The special feature of the evening was the rendition of ‘Lead Kindly Light’ by Mrs. Smith and Bro. Cappa.

Sunday morning Mr. Hiram Cherry Partee took membership with the Linden Street congregation. His sister, Miss Etta Partee, made the good confession and was baptized Wednesday night. Mr. Partee is cordially received and it is a special pleasure to welcome Miss Partee.

July 10, 1904

Linden Street

Prof. Heber Coleman left last Sunday night for a month’s visit to St. Louis and other western cities.

Mr. and Mrs. D.R. Farris took membership with the congregation Sunday night. They were married last week at Bowling Green, Ky. Their residence is 1391 Overton Avenue.

Miss. Ave. Church

Mr. and Mrs. A.M. Wooten, Miss Grace Toof, Misses Lillian and Victoria Wallace [and Mr. Joe Wallace] left Friday for the Fair.

The meeting conducted by Bro. W.E. Ellis, of Nashville, has just closed at Collierville and was very successful. Bro. Ellis is a former pastor of Linden Street Church.

July 17, 1904

Third Church

Judge John T. Moss filled the pulpit last Sunday morning in the absence of Bro. Gorsuch, and Bro. Riddell occupied it at night. Both preached excellent sermons and the church feels very grateful to them for their willing service.
The hand of fellowship and welcome was extended Sunday night to Miss Olin Hunt, Miss Lea Sample, Miss Greer and Mr. W.E. Campbell, all of whom were baptized recently.

Mrs. Battle Brown and children and Miss Myrtle Kennedy will leave about the first of the month for Ocean Grove, N.J. where they will spend several weeks.

JOHN WESLEY ROGERS, Sr. was born about 1802 in South Carolina and, according to probate records, died during 1857 in Itawamba County, MS. He married Missiniah Nail on September 4, 1833 in Lowndes Co. MS. The daughter of Benjamin Nail, she was born in 1813 in Robertson Co. TN. Children of John Wesley Rogers and Missiniah included Ellen "Ella," John Wesley, James R. Elmira, Margaret, Franklin, Martha Jane and Sarah A. "Sallie." Information on his estate records may be found in the quarterly journal of Itawamba County, Mississippi history and genealogy, Itawamba Settlers, Vol. 26 #2.

ZACHEUS HORN FAMILY of Itawamba – Between 1811 and 1815, Zacheus Horn appears on the tax lists for White County, Tennessee, along with his father Richard Horn, brother Richard, and other Horns named Stephen, David, Sherod and Thomas. During 1815 his father recorded a will there. Fifteen years later Zacheus appears on the 1830 census of Franklin County, TN, married with three small children. In 1836 he was on the tax rolls for Itawamba, and appears there in 1840, 1850 and 1860 census records. The 1850 census shows his wife's name as Jane and children as Susan, James, Henry, Mary, Eliza Minerva, Margaret, Harriet and Letha; the first three were born in Tennessee. The article in Itawamba Settlers, Vol. 26 #2 contains additional information on his military service, his death in the mid-1860's, and the children.

ALLEN CEMETERY – Eliba Allen was an early settler of Itawamba County who served on the first Board of Police in 1836. He was born 10 Nov 1799 in Giles County, TN, the son of Nathaniel Nelson Graves Allen (born 7 Feb 1755 in NC) and Celia Bloodworth (born 22 Sept 1775 in NC). Prior to moving to Mississippi, Eliba married Nancy Walden. Their children included Elizabeth, Parilee, Ann Tankersley, Mary Ellen, Telitha Cumi, Martha, Susan Horn and Catherine Nanney. The Allen Cemetery is located on land Eliba purchased in Itawamba County and contains several unmarked graves, including members of the Allen and Johnson families. Eliba and his wife are not buried there, since they had moved to Lavaca County, Texas before the Civil War. The lone monument today is that of Belz Jane Mahan, who died in 1853. (in Itawamba Settlers, Vol. 26 #2)

THOMAS CASEY was born about 1850 in County Galway, Ireland, the son of Martin Casey and Margaret Mulligan. Upon his arrival in America, he settled in Memphis, Tennessee, where he started his own wholesale liquor business. He married Jennie C. Chambers (1857 – 1928) in Memphis in 1879, and they had at least four children: Martin (died as a child) Estelle (married John F. Dickson), Virginia (married Joseph A. Gardner) and Margaret. Thomas’ parents and his known siblings (Stephen, Martin, Teresa, and Margaret) lived in Fort Worth and are buried there. Thomas died at the age of 41 on June 19, 1891 in French Lick Springs, where he had gone for his health. He is buried in Calvary Cemetery, Memphis. See article, “Martin Casey, a Builder of Fort Worth” in the Fort Worth Genealogical Society’s quarterly journal, Footprints, Vol. 49 #2.

ISAAC CURRY, SR. and his wife, Rhoda (Gresham) migrated between 1824 and 1826 from Jefferson County to Lincoln County, Tennessee where his sons John and James had previously settled, perhaps as early as 1810. The twelve children of Isaac and Rhoda in order of birth were: John, Thomas, Anne, James, Catherine, Elizabeth, Nathan, Isaac, Lebanon, George, Israel, and Margaret. Israel died in 1809 at age 3 years. Thomas migrated to Indiana with his uncle Israel Curry before Isaac, Sr. removed to Lincoln County. Some other families allied to the Curry family (Snow, Ellis, Dallas/Dellis, Cobb, Archer, Riggs, and Medkiff/Midcalf) from Jefferson County also migrated to Lincoln and surrounding counties.

James Curry (II), the brother of Isaac, Sr. removed from Pittsylvania County, Virginia about 1817 and settled in Maury County, Tenn. Nancy (Gresham) Curry, widow of Nathan Curry, and her children, and her brother Laban Gresham also left about the same time and appear to have settled in Maury and Lawrence Counties.

The article “From Walden Ridge and Chickamauga to Wiregrass, Suwannee and Beyond” appears in Huxford Genealogical Society, Inc. Magazine, Volume XXXIII, No. 2, Homerville, Georgia. The article also contains additional information on family members, census records, land and court records.

NEEDHAM FAMILY – Some Tennessee Needhams can trace their lineage back to Christopher Needham, who received a land grant of 1,000 acres for transporting himself, his wife Jane, their two sons, Edward and Thomas, and six servants from England to America in 1651. Some of their descendants moved to Randolph County, North Carolina and some eventually into Tennessee which included the following:

Bailey Needham was born about 1771, Guilford County, North Carolina, died 1838, and his will was proved 9 Jan 1839 in Henderson, County, Tennessee. He married about 1794. His children were: Isaac, who probably married Suzanne Addeman, 1 Dec 1814, Maury County, Tennessee; John; Martha (Patsy) who probably married David Eddleston 25 Jan 1821, Maury County, TN; Enoch, unknown child; Samuel; Sarah; William Bailey; Suzanne who probably married Jacob Miller 1 Jan 1816, Maury County, Tenn.; and Felix Baley and Lewis Needham appear on the 1811 tax list for Maury County.

Garner Needham born about 1776, Guilford County, NC died 1852, Hardeman County, TN. He married about 1800. His will was dated 24
Feb 1852, and probated April 1852.

Descendants listed in the chart lived in Alabama.

THE GILL FAMILY – John Taylor ‘J. T.’ Gill and Mary Jane ‘Jennie’ Hudiburg were married at the Hardin County courthouse in Savannah, Tennessee on March 12, 1886.

Josephine Gill (nee Burdie) did not get to see her eldest son marry. She died March 19, 1883 and is buried in the Bethlehem cemetery. Their second child, Blanche Gill, was born March 13, 1889. The birth certificate shows J. T. was studying to be a lawyer. Between 1892 and 1893, J. T. and Jennie moved to Waxahachie, Texas, where their last child, a daughter, Irene was born on August 14, 1894.

J. T. and Jennie divorced on March 6, 1923. According to family gossip, J. T. ran off with his secretary, Nattie Elizabeth Bowlin (or Nolan) from Farris, Texas. They were married a year later and lived the remained of their lives in Harlingen, Cameron County, Texas.

“The Gill Family” is published in Searchers & Researchers, Ellis County, Texas, Volume XXIX, Issue 2.

AFRICAN-AMERICAN HISTORY IN ELLIS COUNTY – (in the same publication) The list which follows has been extracted from the 1910 U.S. Census of the colored population in Waxahachie born in Tennessee and their year of birth: Henry Mudd, 1876; Garfield Nelson, 1886; Vivian Nuckles, 1899, female; Basil Oliphant, 1880; Isom Oliphant, 1857; Lena Oliphant, 1878, female; Caroline Osborn, 1831, female; Dallan Patrick, 1875; Scott Patrick, 1849; Joseph Potts, 1864; Matilda Reagor, year not shown, female; Ollie Reed, 1892.

WILLIAM F. CLINE was born in Kentucky, the son of Aaron Cline. His family moved back and forth between Hickman and Fulton Counties of Kentucky and Obion County, Tennessee. The 1850 Census of Obion County lists the family as Aaron, 44, a farmer, 2d wife, Mary Tickell (whom he married on May 17, 1849 in Fulton County, KY), son William 19, a farmer, daughter Jane, 15; James, 14, Mary, 12, Albert, 6, George, 3, and Susan, 2. All the children were born in KY except Jane who was born in TN. The family is listed on the 1860 Hickman County, Kentucky census with children Sarah J., 22. (Most likely Jane from the 1850 Census), Albert, 14, Susan F., 13, Joel B., 11 born in TN; Victoria, 6, born in TN, Ellen M., 2, born in KY.

William ‘Billy’ Cline married his stepmother’s sister, Saphronia Tickle who was born in 1833 at Sparta, TN and died around...
1871 in Fulton or Hickman County. They had four sons and two daughters all born in Hickman County, KY, who lived to adulthood and later died in New Madrid or Scott Counties, Missouri.

William F. Cline was listed in the Adjutant General’s Report of the Roll of Company I, Seventh Regiment Infantry of the Confederate Army. William died in 1878 or 1879.

Hasten Forrest Nunley (In the same publication) was born near McMinnville in Warren County, Tennessee on September 4, 1874, the son of George W. Nunley and Ann Rogers Nunley. When Forrest was eight, the family moved to Graves County, Kentucky, and later to Dyersburg, Tennessee.

On March 13, 1899, George Nunley married the former Miss Nannie Jane Hendley, the daughter of Joe Hendley and Mittie Berry Hendley. The Nunleys had four children. Mr. Nunley’s sorghum molasses was in great demand in Kentucky, Missouri, and Tennessee.

Former Arkansas Governor Elisha Baxter was born in Rutherford County, Tennessee, on September 1, 1827. He received a limited education, and declined an appointment to West Point. After studying law, he was admitted to the bar in 1856. He served in the Arkansas Senate from 1854 to 1856, and from 1858 to 1860.

At the outbreak of the Civil War, he refused to fight and fled to Missouri, where he was captured by Confederate General John Marmaduke. He was later taken to Little Rock and incarcerated in a filthy prison for five months. The article “The Escape” appears in The Melting Pot, Volume XXIX, published by the Genealogical Society, Hot Springs, Arkansas. The article also covers his appointment as chief justice of the Arkansas Supreme Court and his term as Arkansas 10th governor.

After leaving public office he returned to his farm near Batesville, Arkansas and practiced law until his death on May 31, 1899. He is buried at the Oak Lawn Cemetery.

Ouachita Township - Enoch Gillham, 10/1872; Phillip P. Gillham, Jr., 04/1875; William A J Gillham, 10/1854; Robert Cunningham, 10/1830; Henry S. Smith, 10/1870; Joseph Houser 10/1845; Thomas F. Seaton, 01/1870; John E. Cockrell, 12/1862; Albert C. Ussery, 12/1848; and John Wheeler. The article lists all residents and includes other household members born in Tennessee.

Professor R. F. Moore, a native of Grainger County, Tennessee was chosen to fill the office of county superintendent of public schools in Tarrant County, Texas. Information from the Fort Worth Daily Gazette, August 17, 1887, published in Footprints, Volume 49, No. 3, the quarterly journal of the Fort Worth Genealogical Society. Professor Moore began teaching school at the age of twenty. He taught eleven years in Tarrant County, instructing at Padenville, Double Springs, and at Keller.

William G. Veal (In the same publication) circuit preacher and businessman, was born 1831 near Knoxville, Tenn. By 1853 he had settled in Hopkins County, Texas. He served during the Civil War as a captain in Bass’s Twentieth Texas Cavalry Regiment – Parson’s Brigade. After the war he resumed his church activities. In 1875 he moved to Dallas County where charges were filed against him for improper conduct with a woman living there. He was vindicated of the charges but three years later he was arrested on similar charges in Ellis County and was suspended indefinitely from the Methodist Church. Two months before his death he received death threats. A newspaper article at the time of his death reported he was shot and killed on October 25, 1892, by Dr. R. H. Jones of Dallas to avenge his wife. Dr. Jones was convicted of first degree murder and sentenced to life in prison. William is buried in Trinity Cemetery in Dallas. His only survivor was his wife.

The FREEMAN FAMILY of White County, Tennessee, North Carolina and Virginia is mentioned in “Background of a Freeman Family”, published in the Bulletin of the Genealogical Society of Old Tryon County, North Carolina. William Freeman, born about 1784, married Elizabeth Campbell. They were living in White County in 1831. The article contains a letter dated April 24, 1831, from the couple to his parents Benjamin and Catherine Freeman of Rutherford County, North Carolina. The article traces this family line back to John Freeman, who on 24 October 1701 received a land patent for 200 acres in Charles City County, Virginia based on the transport of six persons.

“Fayette County, Tennessee Marriages with ties to Monroe County, Arkansas” appears in Tri-County Genealogy, Volume 21, No. 3, Marvell, Arkansas. The first date is the date the license was issued and perhaps also the date of the marriage ceremony. The second date, in parentheses, is the date recorded if the license was returned.

BOOK REVIEWS

This updated and revised edition of Ancestral Trails covers the newest methods of online research, along with advice for traditional genealogical research on British ancestors. As in the previous edition, the researcher is given an overall picture of every class of record in every repository and library in Britain, and these sources are described in detail. This book is a complete guide to British genealogy, covering topics from (1) an introduction to genealogical research to (33) web sites for the family historians.

Most genealogists make use of the federal census records, but some are not aware of the many other sources available at the state and county level. This book covers all 62 counties of the state of New York, listing all of the official records and substitutes available for each county and including online links. Maps of county boundaries from 1683 through 1915 to the present are also included in this valuable book for all researchers of family in New York State.

GETTING STARTED IN GENEALOGY ONLINE by William Dollarhide. Published 2006 by Genealogical Publishing Co. Inc. 64 pages, paperbound. $12.95.

This book begins discussing such basic topics as family interviews and organizing material at hand; it continues, explaining the use of census records, cemetery records and Social Security death records and how to find them online. The author lists resource centers in each state, with websites, and includes master forms to use in documenting your genealogical findings. A good work for the researcher just starting online, and a useful reference for the more seasoned genealogist.

In March of 1776, all men living in the state of New Hampshire were required to sign up to defend the cause of the Colonies and to report those who did not enroll – who were then to be disarmed. The result was a census of most adult males living in New Hampshire at the time. Information from a few towns is missing, returns for Exeter are not complete, and men already away in the Army were not listed by some towns. There is an index of towns included. The book is arranged alphabetically by surname, and over 9,000 names are included in this very good early “census” of New Hampshire.

Your ancestors from Poland may have been of many different nationalities, and could have been Russians, Austrians, Carpathians, Slavs, Prussians, Balts, Scots or even Gypsies. The author includes information on each of these ethnic groups to help the researcher find the appropriate church records, civil records, archives and libraries, as well as research services. There are guides to Polish names, numbers, dates and other often-used terms and phrases. Polish vital records are covered, as well as instructions on writing to churches, civil records offices and institutions to find records. I would highly recommend this book for anyone doing research on Polish ancestors.

INDEX TO VIRGINIA ESTATES 1800 – 1865, VOLUME 7 by Wesley Peppenger, Compiler, Virginia Genealogical Society. Published 2006 by the Virginia Genealogical Society. 674 pages, cloth cover. $40.00.

This is the seventh volume in a series of indexes to will books from various counties or cities of Virginia during the period 1800 – 1865. The counties covered in this volume are Amelia, Brunswick, Cumberland, Goochland, Lunenberg, Mecklenburg, Nottoway, Powhatan and Prince Edward.

COMPACT DISCS FROM GENEALOGICAL PUBLISHING CO. INC.

Editor’s note: To view these CD’s, you must have a CD-ROM drive and must use version 4.0 or higher of Family Archives Viewer (available as a free download at www.genealogical.com/content) or Family Tree Maker for Windows.

Most persecuted French Protestants fled before or just after the Edict of Nantes in 1685, and some came to the new American colonies of New Amsterdam, Massachusetts, New Jersey, South Carolina and Virginia. Locating the records of these early settlers is now easier, with material from sixteen major reference works dealing with the Huguenots in America included on this compact disc. Particularly useful are Family Names of Huguenot Refugees to America and History of the Huguenot Emigration to America. Surnames, places and events are indexed, and copies of the text may be printed easily.

The information from fourteen sources is included on this compact disc, naming about 165,000 early settlers of the state of Tennessee who were listed in traditional records, cemetery records, indexes of births and deaths, biographical sketches, family histories, probate records, census records and military pension lists. You may find your ancestor who came to Washington or Greene County from North Carolina about 1800 here!
CD: EARLY OHIO SETTLERS.
This compact disc contains data on thousands of the first Ohio settlers, beginning as early as 1787 when the Northwest Territory was opened up for settlement, and continuing through 1803, when Ohio became a state. Sources include marriage records, cemetery inscriptions, genealogies, census records and tax lists, newspaper abstracts and birth and death indexes. An easy-to-use reference source, carefully indexed.

CD: FAMILY ARCHIVES: VIRGINIA MILITARY RECORDS:
COLONIAL WARS, REVOLUTIONARY WAR, WAR OF 1812.
This compact disc includes the contents of several books previously published by Genealogical Publishing Co. (Virginia Colonial Soldiers, Historical Register of Virginians in the Revolutionary War and Muster Rolls and Payrolls of Virginia Militia in the War of 1812). Over 275,000 members of the Virginia militia are indexed. In some instances the entire military career of a soldier is shown, from date enlisted, rank, battles, mustering out, age, date and place of birth, occupation and sometimes the names of spouse and children. If your ancestor in Virginia was involved in these wars, this is the CD to obtain.

CD: FAMILY ARCHIVES: LOYALISTS IN THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION.
Almost one-third of the Colonial population were “Tories,” loyal to the British crown. These Loyalists were from all classes and in all occupations. This CD includes material from thirteen volumes originally published or reprinted by Genealogical Publishing Co. Inc., compiled from land and pension records, orderly books, diaries, recruitment lists, muster rolls, pay lists and biographies. Information provided includes names, country or place of origin, occupation, names of family members and friends, location and value of confiscated property, civilian service, military service, claims for compensation, character witness statements and other details. This is a most comprehensive source for finding your Loyalist ancestor.

CD: FAMILY ARCHIVES: PENNSYLVANIA COLONIAL RECORDS, 1600’s – 1800’s.
This is a most important CD for the researcher, since neither the state nor the individual counties in Pennsylvania had a system for collecting vital information before the late 1800’s. This CD contains ten books originally published or reprinted by Genealogical Publishing Co. Inc.
including newspaper abstracts, naturalization records, land and court records, and family histories with the names of about 200,000 people who lived in Pennsylvania during the Colonial and Revolutionary War years. Other sources are Benjamin Franklin's Pennsylvania Gazette, land records compiled by William Penn's Commissioners of Property, indexes of the minutes of the Provincial Council and the Supreme Executive Council, and a list of German immigrants who arrived in Pennsylvania between 1727 and 1808. There are also genealogies of Colonial and Revolutionary families beginning with the first settlers, with a direct line of descent to family members who lived in the late 19th and early 20th centuries. This is an excellent resource of data from the early years of Pennsylvania.

CD: FAMILY ARCHIVES: COLONIAL NEW JERSEY SOURCE RECORDS, 1600's – 1800's

The pages of nine New Jersey volumes published by Genealogical Publishing Co, Inc. are photocopied for this compact disc, including New Jersey Marriage Records 1665 -1800 and Patents and Deeds and other Records of New Jersey 1664- 1703, originally published as part of the official archives of New Jersey, and the three-volume set of New Jersey Index of Wills and Inventories, etc. in the Office of the Secretary of State. There are 185,000 entries under the twenty-one present-day counties of New Jersey, and information on about 330,000 people in a collection of church, court, marriage, land, military and probate records. Since New Jersey census schedules from the years 1790 through 1820 are missing, this CD with convenient electronic index is an important resource for all researchers.

Tennessee Ancestry Certificate Program

The Tennessee Genealogical Society sponsors this program to recognize and honor the early settlers who helped shape the great state of Tennessee. Persons wishing to place their ancestors in this roll of honor are invited to submit an application with supporting documents or other evidence that proves their prime ancestor lived in Tennessee or the area that became Tennessee before 1880. Family charts or computer printouts are not considered sufficient proof.

Attractive hand-lettered certificates suitable for framing are issued each person whose application meets program qualifications. The certificates are inscribed with the prime ancestor’s name, when and where he or she settled in Tennessee, and the applicant’s name.

The application form for the certificate can be printed at our web site www.tngs.org or via snail mail from TNGS.

Contributions

Every member of TGS is welcome to submit unpublished material of genealogical value. Material from all Tennessee counties, pre-1900, is our priority. This includes diaries, letters, tombstone inscriptions, deeds, church records, military records, etc. If a photo is needed for an article, please send a photocopy.

We are a nonprofit organization and are unable to pay for contributions; however, we do acknowledge the contributor and give by-lines.

Queries

Members are entitled to one free query each year and may place additional queries for $3 each. (Nonmembers pay $5 each.) All queries must be related to Tennessee and should be 50 words or less; see current issue for correct form. Please submit queries typed or printed and furnish your name, address and telephone number or e-mail address.

Surname Index File Cards

Members are urged to send vital statistics of ancestors from any locality to be included in our Master Surname File. Please type or print information on a 3x5 index card. Information should include subject’s surname, given name, middle name, dates of birth, marriage, death, parents, spouse, children, origin, state and county. Please include name, address and e-mail address on the back of the card.

Book Reviews

Books will be reviewed in Ansearchin’ News if the book is donated to The Tennessee Genealogical Society. After a book is reviewed, it will become part of our library. All books will be reviewed in the order received.

Tennessee Ancestry Certificates

TGS sponsors this program to recognize and honor the settlers who came to Tennessee before 1880. To place your ancestors in this roll of honor, please request an application from Mrs. Kathryn T. Dickenson, Director of Certificates, at www.tngs.org or the address at the end of this page. Upon completion of the application, please return it along with supporting documents or other proof of your ancestor’s residency, along with a $10 application fee. Attractive certificates suitable for framing are issued to each person whose application meets program qualifications. Certificates are inscribed with the prime ancestor’s name, date and place of settlement in Tennessee along with the applicant’s name. NOTE: TGS has published two volumes of Tennessee Settlers and Their Descendants compiled from information contained in these applications, and will publish a third volume when adequate numbers of additonal applications are received.

Photo Gallery

In the future, Ansearchin’ News will publish pre-1900 unidentified photos relating to Tennessee. Please send clear front and back photocopies along with any available background information you have. Advise us of the origin of the photo and any other information that might aid our search. Provide us with your name and address, and if you wish the photocopy returned, include a self-addressed stamped envelope.

Letters to The Editor

All letters to the editor should be addressed to Ann Kendall Ray. Please feel free to forward any comments or suggestions. In many instances throughout the quarterly, grammar and spelling are left verbatim in order to preserve the character and charm of the era.

Volunteering and Donations

TGS is strictly a nonprofit organization. We exist to keep the history of Tennessee and our ancestors alive. Volunteers run every aspect of the society, and if you would like to join the ‘cause,’ please contact us. There is no job too small — remember, Tennessee is the Volunteer State! If you wish to make a donation, please contact us, and remember that all contributions are tax deductible.
