THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Beginners often proceed slowly and hesitantly - a trifle timidly, perhaps. We have discovered already that such may not be the case with the newly elected officers of the Memphis Genealogical Society. Our able predecessors have set the pace; we find ourselves diligently striving to maintain it. Our ambitious aim for these next two years is to make the delights and rewards of genealogical research of our members even more enjoyable because of our planned program of providing instruction for the novice and original source material for all.

First, let us thank Mrs. L. B. Gardiner and Mrs. I. G. Duncan for making their homes and extensive libraries available to our Study Group on November 16th and December 14, 1959, respectively. On January 18, 1960, at the Leader Federal Building on Poplar Avenue, officers were elected for 1960-61, as follows: Mrs. L. D. Bejach, President; Mrs. James B. Cartwright, Vice-President; Mrs. G. C. Moore, Rec. Sec.; Mrs. Edward M. Standifer, Cor. Sec.; Mrs. Roy Gilley, Treas.; Mrs. I.G. Duncan, Research Director; Mrs. Hope Brooks, Librarian. Mrs. Berry B. Brooks, organizing president, Mr. Donald Spencer, and Mrs. Frank Basler, all experienced genealogists, will serve as advisers.

Interesting reports were made by outgoing officers. Mrs. Harry O'Hara, retiring president, noted that during the past two years, membership has grown from 88 in early 1958 to 472 in January 1960. Credit for the increase is due Mrs. L. B. Gardiner and her enthusiastic assistants, - Mrs. O'Hara being deserving of special mention. Mrs. Roy Gilley, Treasurer, presented a detailed review of income and expenses. Her statistics were placed on large charts which were spread across one wall of the meeting room - making our financial income and outgo clear even to some folks we know who may sometimes find figures somewhat dull. Mrs. Charles G. Young, our dedicated and most able retiring Librarian, brought us up to date on the accomplishments of her Committee. The Society will always be grateful for her work and for her assistance in helping us to "grow up". At a later time we hope to say more about the books and microfilms acquired by the Society and now deposited in the Reference Department of Cossitt Library in Memphis. Thank you, Mrs. Young! Now, you see some of the reasons why the new officers must indeed extend their efforts to keep pace and show progress.

On January 8th and 9th Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Gardiner, Mrs. Harry O'Hara, Mrs. James B. Cartwright, Mrs. I. G. Duncan, Mrs. J. D. Young and Mrs. L. D. Bejach attended the 3rd Annual Genealogical Institute under auspices of Louisiana Genealogical and Historical Society and held on the campus of Louisiana State University. The sessions were informative and the associations pleasant. All returned with refreshing new ideas and perhaps inspired to "go and do likewise".

ANNOUNCEMENT: Hold open the date March 18, 1960. Mr. Laurence Gardiner, with the cooperation of Cossitt Library and certain "learned" members of this Society, will begin a series of classes for beginners and "intermediates" in genealogy. Please notify Mr. Gardiner by post-card, please, if interested. Details announced later.

OVER THE EDITOR'S DESK

Before your new Editor takes off her hat and coat, and while they are removing the word President from her door and substituting that of Editor, please get out your 1959 copies of "Ansearchin" News. You should have four copies - - Vol. VI - Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, plus the Year Book. Change the last issue (Vol. VI, No. 4) to read October instead of July. That little error made us all blush!

Your new Editor is a fledgling, not only in the field of genealogy, but also in that of journalism. However, she feels that with the continued cooperation of the membership and the assistance of an excellent group of advisors and helpers, the publication cannot help but grow. The following members of the Memphis Society have been asked to assist in the compilation of each bulletin:

Mrs. Laurence B. Gardiner, originator and Editor of "Ansearchin" News for the past six years, will serve as an Advisor. Although Mrs. Gardiner will be busy with her many duties such as being one of nine persons appointed by the Governor to serve on the State Civil War Centennial Commission; State President, D. A. C.; President, Mary Latham Chapter, U.D.C., and offices in other organizations, she will be close by to lend a helping hand.

Mrs. Reginald Tolar will have the title of Technical Advisor. It is her job to dot our i's and cross our t's and hunt for that elusive creature - the error. Mrs. Tolar is an English major with a B.A. from the University of Mississippi.

The newly appointed Director of Research, Mrs. I. G. Duncan (a former President of this Society), has sent in the first contribution from her office. Mrs. Duncan secured the new series - "Bedford County, Tennessee Tax List - 1812" through the cooperation of Mr. Robert Quarles, Jr., State Archivist. She has been assured of the continued cooperation of both Mr. Quarles and Dr. Robert H. White, our State Historian, in contributing valuable and as yet unpublished material that will assist us in the field of Tennessee Research.

Although the Treasurer usually just collects the dues and pays the bills, our Treasurer, Mrs. Charles R. Gilley, plays an important part in "Ansearchin" News by keeping such accurate records of our far-flung membership. She is also on hand to help with the task of assembling the bulletins each quarter.

Another member, our immediate past Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. R. C. McKittrick, has the important job of keeping the Editor supplied with correctly addressed envelopes for each mailing plus being present to put her quota of the bulletins together and checking to see that each person will be mailed one.

We will list other officers and assistants and tell of their work in the April issue. All work, with the exception of stencil cutting and printing, is done on a voluntary basis and it takes a group "dedicated to the cause" to undertake such a large task.

NEWS FROM OUR FELLOW PUBLISHERS

We were "Proud as punch" to find that both "Ansearchin" News and "North Carolina Land Grants in Tennessee - 1778-1791" written by two of our members - Mrs. Lillian Johnson Gardiner and Mrs. Betty Goff Cook Cartwright, had been favorably reviewed in the December 1959 issue of the NATIONAL GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY QUARTERLY. We sincerely appreciate the two articles and will strive to be worthy of more such reviews. All who read the National Quarterly whole-heartedly endorse it as a valuable aid to research.

The GENEALOGICAL FORUM OF PORTLAND, OREGON, now 13 years old, has completed their 1959-60 Year Book containing a roster of officers and committees, general information, schedule of meetings, exchanges both National and International and an index to charts turned in by members - price $1.00. Address: 5404 N.E. Halsey, Portland 13, Oregon.

A special delivery on January 5, 1960 informed us that the GENEALOGIST'S WEEKLY QUERY EXCHANGE of Greeley, Iowa is back on the job. Illness and moving has caused them quite a delay. We wish them the very best of luck in 1960!

The Genealogical Society of Montana, 250 Eleventh St., West, Billings, Montana, does not publish a regular bulletin, but will publish the 1960 edition of GOLDEN GRAINS OF RESEARCH in April of this year. They will publish your surlines (all of them) free, if they are submitted in the following manner: Use a 3 x 5 inch card allowing enough room in the center of the bottom of the card for a hole to be punched. Start at the top of the card and list your information in this order:

LAST NAME, FIRST NAME (Nickname or Title)

b. birth date and place

d. death date and place

m. marriage date and place

s. husband or wife's name

p. fathers and mothers full name

c. childrens names (optional)

Date submitted

Your name and

Address

If your information reaches them too late for the April issue they will save it for the 1960 Fall edition.

The ever widening interest in genealogy is evident in the growing list of new publications by Societies throughout the United States. We welcome the following new exchanges:

OUR HERITAGE - Amor Patriae - the new publication of the San Antonio Genealogical and Historical Society, P. O. #### ANNOUNCING NEW FAMILY BOOKS

Just received - a copy of LIFE AND TIMES OF DAVID SMITH - PATRIOT, PIONEER AND INDIAN FIGHTER by May Wilson McBee, River Road, Greenwood, Mississippi, 85 pages, hard back printed book. Mrs. McBee in her Preface says, "The practice of having each ancestor really live in his era and locale is largely responsible for this LIFE AND TIMES. But perhaps not enough consideration has been given the fact that FATE moved my subject quite often on the checkboard of LIFE, and in long frequent 'jumps'. This created scattered backgrounds and a variety of people. The saga of David Smith begins on the battlefield of Culloden Moor in the Scottish Highlands, then on to the PeeDee Country of North Carolina, on to King's Mountain and Fort Panmur at the Natchez, and to Horseshoe Bend with Andrew Jackson". The book is interestingly written and fully documented.

Mrs. Bonnie S. Ball, Haysi, Virginia a member of our Society sent a copy of her RED TRAILS AND WHITE - The Mysterious Life of Caty Sage - for our library collection. It is a true story of a family of frontiersmen in the Virginia backwoods of the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries, and centers on the tragic disappearance of young Caty Sage. How Caty is found and the history of that period give us a vivid picture of that turbulent era. A copy may be purchased for $2.75 from the author.

Our Society also wishes to thank Mr. Francis C. Millspaugh, 52 Millett Road, Swampscott, Massachusetts, for the 312 page, beautifully bound copy of MILLSPAUGH - MILLSPAW family history. Mr. Millspaugh takes the family back to Matthias (Mathias, Matys, Mattice) who was an immigrant from Germany and is first mentioned in the record of the Reformed Dutch Church of Montgomery, Orange County, New York, October 22, 1734. Completely indexed.

ALDERMANS IN AMERICA is a genealogy of a large part of the Alderman family in America, especially of those descended from William Alderman of Connecticut, who married Mary Case in 1679, she having been a granddaughter of William (d. 1640) and Agnes Spencer. Full cloth binding, gold stamped, 729 pages and is $15.00 a copy from: William A. Parker, 1522 Jarvis St., Raleigh, North Carolina.

A few copies of the limited edition of MARTIN DIAL AND RELATED FAMILIES are still available from: Hastings Harrison, 4316 W. Potomac Ave., Dallas 5, Texas. Make check of $10.00 payable to Dial Family Book Fund. The book consists of 250 pages including complete index of some 5000 names.

OUR KIN is a book of 1678 pages of history and genealogy with some 200 pictures. One line goes back 32 generations. Some of the lines most mentioned include the Anderson, Bush, Covington, Easley, Griffith, Holland, Kinney, Manning, Owen, and Wellborn families. Write for more details of content or send $20.00 to Mr. W. H. Manning, Jr., P. O. Box 382, Barnwell, South Carolina.

THE DUNAWAYS OF VIRGINIA is a handsome volume containing 156 pages and 21 photographs. The index contains over 1700 names. May be ordered from: Dunaway Family Research, Box 665, Martinburg, West Virginia - $10.00 per copy.

POTPOURRI - genealogical tidbits gathered from here and there:

One of the newest members of the Memphis Society, Mrs. A. R. Fischer, 167 N. Hollywood, sent us a beautifully typewritten copy of a complete index which she had compiled of the 1850 Census of Albemarle Co., Virginia. Mrs. Fischer has alphabetized the surnames and listed the film page numbers. The list will be bound and presented to the library. Thanks!

New York Quaker Records may be obtained by writing to the Religious Society of Friends, 221 East 15th St., New York 3, New York.

Mrs. Richard Y. Thorpe, 2846 Sugartree Road, Nashville 12, Tennessee, writes that back in the Fall she walked past the front of a Salvage Store in downtown Nashville and was shocked to see three tombstones stacked one on top of the other. The salesman told her they are bought for steps, foundations, retaining walls, and even terraces and patios.

The top stone was the only one Mrs. Thorpe could read and it carried this inscription: J.B.T. - John Bauden Thomas, Co. A., 55 Tenn. Inf., CSA 1844-1896.

Mrs. Thorpe feels that something should be done by groups such as ours to discourage the desecration of country grave-yards by thieves and money hungry persons.

Please add to Giles County, Tennessee Marriages the following two weddings:

John D. Howard to Eliza J. Ragsdale by S. H. Brown, M.G. Nov. 25, 1859
R. H. Ragsdale to Ann L. Howard by Thos. Hanna, J.P., Dec. 23, 1867

This information was sent by Mrs. Blake R. Van Leer, 1856 Colland Dr., N.W., Atlanta, Georgia. Mrs. Van Leer also said in her note that Eliza and R. H. were brother and sister and that another Ragsdale record has the marriage of Samuel Ragsdale to Elizabeth Crockett - 1820, Giles County, Tennessee.

We have heard from several of our globe trotting members and all tell of fascinating adventures on their treks about the world. Our newly elected President, Mrs. L. D. Bejach, and another Memphis member, Mrs. Walter K. Page, toured the Continent and the British Isles last Fall; Mrs. Berry B. Brooks, our organizing President, thrilled us with tales of her extended tour of the Balkan countries, an Hellenic cruise and eleven weeks solo flights to sixteen countries (six of them firsts for this seasoned traveler); Earle and Billie McKellar (Mr. and Mrs. E. P. of San Diego, California) sent us Christmas greetings and a Happy New Year from "at sea" aboard the MSTs "Gaffey"; and Blair Jones of Pell City, Alabama sent the Diary of their trip to Europe, Israel, Nazareth, Italy, Spain and many more wonderful sounding places. We are sure that many more of our members traveled in strange lands but we have just not had word of it.

INDEX TO: EXPENDITURES FOR REMOVAL OF CHICKASAW INDIANS

R. 65) (Washington, 1843), Between March 2, 1833 and January 1, 1843" as indexed by Mrs. W. Gill Bonner, 21750 Berg Road, Southfield, Michigan. Mrs. Bonner states that there are as many as ten references to some of the names and that she will copy all references for each name for as many as 3 names for $1.00.

RESEARCH IN GEORGIA

Excerpts taken from a paper given by Mrs. James B. Cartwright at the October 19, 1959 meeting of the Memphis Genealogical Society.

GEORGIA - land of peaches, goobers, and crackers, bounded on the north by North Carolina and Tennessee, northeast by South Carolina and the Atlantic Ocean, South by Florida and on the west by Alabama, last of the thirteen original colonies to be established, named for George II, King of England, by General James Edward Oglethorpe when he received the Charter to found the colony in June 1732.

GEORGIA - battleground of three wars: the Revolution, the War of 1812, and the War Between the States.

GEORGIA - crossroads in the stream of migration funneling westward from the seaboard into the newly opened lands made peaceful by treaties with the Indians.

GEORGIA - mild in climate, with a broad coastal plain, a higher but still fertile plateau called the Piedmont, and only a small area made less accessible by the Southern ends of the Appalachian Mountain chain.

Let us take a closer look at the past history of this State through which so many of our ancestors passed either on their way into Texas and farther West through Mississippi, or others who turned northward through Tennessee before venturing westward.

Georgia was founded by General Oglethorpe and a band of benevolent men bent primarily on providing a refuge for the religiously persecuted people of Europe and the worthy indigent of England. Let us settle here the misconception that all the early settlers of Georgia were debtors freed from the English prisons. Salzburgers (German Lutherans), Moravians, Italians, Portuguese, Jews and many Scottish along with the English were early settlers. And the use of the word worthy sheds a somewhat different light on the type of Englishmen who accompanied Oglethorpe and were a part of the 161 who landed at Yamacraw Bluff on February 12, 1733 to found the city of Savannah in the State of Georgia. Savannah Jewry was unique in that it was the only Jewish community to arrive within a month of the founding of a colony and immediately form a congregation. The Charter from King George granted the colony the land within their North and South Boundaries from the Atlantic to the Pacific Ocean, but Oglethorpe adopted the wise policy of purchasing all lands from the Indians. Until the Revolutionary War there were no serious clashes between the old and the new Georgians. The fact that the Colony would serve as an excellent buffer between the Carolinas and the encroachments of the Spanish in Florida and the French in Louisiana had greatly influenced the English King to favor Oglethorpe's request for a Charter. The colony was a strategic success, but not so economically. The Trustees required the settlers to plant mulberry trees for the culture of silkworms, wine grapes, hemp, and to grow medical plants, for all of which England was dependent on from foreign countries. Slaves were prohibited until 1749 when the need for labor became so apparent that the Trustees removed their ban. In 1752 the Trustees surrendered their Charter and Georgia became a Crown Colony. A period of prosperity immediately followed, and the main tide of immigration from Virginia and the Carolinas began at this time. Because of their prosperity Georgians were led to revolt against the British mainly through sympathy with the other colonies rather than because of their own grievances. Loyalist sentiment was strong in Georgia, especially in the coastal areas where a profitable trade with England existed. Many skirmishes took place between the Tories and the Patriots. These Loyalists as the British sympathizers were called, later lost their land through confiscation, many fled to Nassau and Bermuda, or returned to England.

Representatives from Georgia went to the Continental Congress, and the Georgia signers of the Declaration of Independence were Button Gwinnett, Lyman Hall, and George Walton. Savannah was captured by the British in 1778, Augusta fell in 1779. Augusta was retaken by Gen. Elijah Clarke following the Battle of Kettle Creek, but after the defeat of the Americans, and the French before Savannah, and the fall of Charleston, S. C. in 1780, most of Georgia was overrun by the British. British forces were not withdrawn until July of 1782. On January 2, 1788 a convention at Augusta ratified the Constitution of the United States and Georgia was admitted as the fourth State of the Union.

After the Revolution, Georgia claimed all the land from the Carolinas south to latitude 30°21'39", the Florida border, and West to the Mississippi River. The so called "Yazoo Frauds" marked the beginning of a bitter struggle with the Federal Government over title to these western lands. In 1795 the Georgia Legislature had granted for $500,000 territory comprising almost all of Mississippi and half of Alabama to four land Companies. Georgia rescinded the Grant the next year, but the Federal Government pronounced the claim invalid and set up a Territorial Government over the area in 1800. In 1802 Georgia ceded the disputed land to the government, giving up all claim. The Federal Government, in return agreed to pay Georgia the sum of $1,250,000 and was, at Federal expense, to extinguish all Indian titles to land in the State of Georgia. The United States government was dilatory, and it was 1838 before all the Cherokee lands were evacuated.

Georgians participated in the War of 1812 mainly in General Andrew Jackson's campaign against the Indian allies of the British. A large force of volunteers also was sent to the Mexican War.

Georgia seceded from the Union on January 19, 1861. Alexander H. Stephens of Georgia became Vice-President of the Confederacy. Georgia sent 94 Regiments and 34 Battalions into the War Between the States, and was a principal source of food and supplies for Southern armies. It was this economic importance which led to General William T. Sherman's campaign and march from Atlanta to the sea, in which the loss of property and records in the state was disastrous. Reconstruction marked the change from food growing to the production of cotton in many areas. On the whole the Reconstruction period was one of moderation in Georgia, but the state was not wholly free of the "carpetbaggers" until 1877. In the Spanish American War Georgia furnished more volunteers in proportion to population than did any other state.

Now against this background of history, let us discuss actual genealogical research in the State of Georgia. Do not despair immediately if the trail leads to Georgia. Research in Georgia can be just as rewarding or just as frustrating as research in any other state can be. Georgia's genealogical ledger has many assets and liabilities. To be positive first, the greatest asset is the capable, enthusiastic, Director of the Georgia Department of Archives and History in Atlanta, Mrs. Mary Givens Bryan. Mrs. Bryan is not only acutely interested in preserving the vital, all important State and County records of Georgia, but she has concerned herself actively with making these records ever more available and useful to the researcher in family history. Many a State Archivist so jealously guards his records and papers, that they are unknown to and inaccessible to the average researcher. Mrs. Bryan's long range program of conservation envelopes the microfilming of the records of all Georgia counties set up prior to 1833. These records are brought into Atlanta where they are microfilmed, laminated, and indexed if one is needed and then they are returned to the County. The microfilm record is available at the Department of Archives and History in Atlanta. Two photographers from the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints (Mormon) have recently been participating in the microfilm project on a cooperative basis since the Georgia Legislature's appropriation did not provide funds enough for the speed of work which Mrs. Bryan wished. Currently about 25 of the 48 pre-1833 Counties have been completed. Some records have also been gathered from Counties of later date where there have been destructive fires. Mrs. Bryan has taken an active part in working for Legislation necessary to implement her program for record preservation, and for the appropriation of funds for a modern fireproof Archives Building to replace the present obsolete and inadequate quarters on Peachtree Street. When Mrs. Bryan's long range program is completed there can be no complete loss of early county records through fire as has been the case so often in the past.

This leads us to the debit side of the ledger. General Sherman's "scorched earth" has long ago "greened up", but Sherman will always remain the symbol of vandalism to any genealogical sleuth whose trail dead-ends in a burned county. There are many of these counties whose records have been destroyed, by either one, or a series of fires, in cases, of course, some of the records were saved. To add to the already gloomy picture is the disheartening fact that the first three Federal Census reports for Georgia 1790, 1800 and 1810 were destroyed when the British troops captured Washington during the 1812 conflict. This is what is not there.

The following are some of the records which are available and which help, somewhat, to compensate for the loss of so many vital records. In the Archives in Atlanta there is an index to all the Land Grants, including the Head-right, Bounty and Purchase Grants from Colonial days. These give the County of residence, and the County in which the land was surveyed, the number of acres and the year. Of very special value, next, is the Land Lottery of 1805. Let me settle here the confusion over this date. This Lottery has been referred to also as the Lottery of 1803. Authority for the Lottery was given in the Georgia Legislative Act of May 11, 1803, but the drawing was not held until 1805. Mrs. Bryan calls this the Lottery of 1805. This list of drawers was unique in that for the only time in any of the Georgia Lotteries, the name of every person eligible to draw was listed. This list is well indexed in Atlanta but has never been published. The second Lottery, known as the Lottery of 1807 is also referred to as the Lottery of 1806. The Act authorizing it was dated June 26, 1806, but the drawing took place in 1807. This Lottery, also is well indexed but unpublished. These two Lotteries provide an excellent substitute for the 1800, and the 1810 Census reports. Unfortunately this second lottery listed only the successful drawers, and not everyone eligible. All following Lottery lists contained only the names of the successful drawers. Other Lotteries were held in the years 1820, 1821, 1827, and 1832. Bounty Land Warrants had been satisfied mostly in the counties of Franklin and Washington, the 1805 Lottery distributed land in Baldwin, Wayne and Wilkinson, the 1807 in the counties of Baldwin and Wilkinson. The entire subject of Georgia's Land Grants and Lotteries has been very concisely treated by Mrs. Bryan in an article entitled "Land Grants in Georgia" which appeared in March 1956 issue of the National Genealogical Society Quarterly pages 1-7. In this article are summarized the very important facts about each Lottery, including Authority, Year of Drawing, Counties, Size of Land Lots, Grant Fee, and Persons Entitled to Draw. Resumes entitled: Bounty Grants, Head-Right Grants, and Grants by Purchase are also included. Mimeographed copies are available from the Georgia Department of Archives and History without charge.

Another substitute for the missing Census records may be found in the County Tax Lists for the early years wherever these have survived. The Georgia Chapters of the Daughters of the American Revolution have long been active in the collection and preservation of the genealogical and historical records of their State, and it was through a D.A.R. sponsored Legislative bill that the Department of Archives and History was founded in 1918. Their activities have resulted in the accumulation of approximately 2000 volumes housed in the Georgia Department of Archives and History. A catalogue of this collection was published in 1956 and is available from the Department. It contains 232 pages, listing alphabetically family names, the Counties of Georgia, and the States other than Georgia from which records were copied, and indicates in each case the type of records which have been copied. This book is a paperback entitled "Catalogue of the Georgia Society, D.A.R. Library in the Georgia Department of Archives and History". It's cost is $1.00. Also available from the Department of Archives and History, is Hall's map of 1838 at a cost of $1.00 also. This map is of particular use because it shows the "present and original Counties and Land Districts". The genealogy of the County is of tremendous aid in showing where to seek the earliest records for a particular locality.

Mention should also be made here of the retirement in 1958 of Mr. Alex M. Hitz. Mrs. Pat Bryant has been appointed Deputy Surveyor General in his place, and all queries regarding land transactions at the State level should be addressed to her.

The published books on Georgia have purposely not been touched upon. The perusal of the card catalogue of any good genealogical library will at once show the wealth of published histories of Georgia counties, and the like.

The purpose of this paper has been to give a background of history of Georgia, a quick summary of very helpful records available for the most part in Atlanta, and indirectly, a greater appreciation for those fortunate states which have not suffered the loss of records which has been the fate of Georgia.

Be aware that, even where loss of records has been severe there are often substitutes, round about ways to prove a lineage, and always the bright hope that someday, somewhere, someone will find a long lost family record which will open new lines, and introduce you to new ancestors long cut off from you because of incomplete official records.

Note: For records in England and Wales you may write the following places:

Locating Parish Registers: The Society of Genealogist, 37 Harrington Gardens, London, S. W. has a large collection of the registers. Some libraries in the States have printed copies and some few have microfilm.

Public Records: The Public Record Office has many types of court records and a searcher is necessary for research in this office.

Marriages before 1837: The London Diocesan Registry, Faculty Office of the Archbishop of Canterbury and the Office of the Vicar General are at No. 1 The Sanctuary, London, S. W. 1.

Birth, Marriage and Death: If date is after 1837 you may write to General Register Office, Somerset House, London, W. C. 2, England. Before this date the registration was made in an established church or some non-conformist church records. There are some 1400 parishes in England and Wales so it would be necessary to know just what parish you wanted to search. Some parish registers have been transcribed.
