THE PRESIDENT'S LETTER

It has been suggested that perhaps our neophyte genealogists would appreciate some helpful suggestions for vacation Ancestor Searching. Therefore, I would like to suggest that you write the courthouse, Library or Archives where you plan to do research, well in advance, for hours and days they will be open during the summer months. Even though you may have a brochure stating that they are open every week day from 9 till 5, often they fail to state that they close at noon every Saturday during the months of July and August. Also, some of the courthouses in rural communities close every Wednesday or Thursday at noon during the summer and are open all day Saturday. The change of hours can prove very frustrating when your time is limited.

If you plan to work in a State Archives, you should inquire about printed guides and other material that they have for distribution, so you can study them before your arrival. I hardly recommend the "Guide to the Use of Genealogical Material in the Tennessee State Library and Archives" for research in Tennessee. This guide can be ordered from the Tennessee Library and Archives, Seventh Street North, Nashville, Tennessee. The price is 25 cents. Also, the "Guide to Genealogical Records in the National Archives", if you are going to Washington, D.C. this summer. The price is 50 cents and the address is: Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C.

The Postmasters of small communities are unusually cooperative in locating people that live in their area and many times will locate their descendants for you.

ALWAYS ENCLOSE A SELF ADDRESSED STAMPED ENVELOPE!!

This is a must if you expect or desire an answer to your request.

Our Editor informs me that the Abstract of Wills from Haywood County in West Tennessee will be started next quarter. Many members are anxiously awaiting this information, and may it contain just the names each of you are looking for!

Our members who attend the study sessions find many interesting things in the homes of our various hostesses. At the May meeting, Mrs. Robert Louis Cox, 626 McConnell, introduced us to the interesting study of geology and mineralogy. Being a good wife, and desiring to justly reward her genealogically patient husband, Lucile has enthusiastically adopted his hobby and has become a lapidist, and is Secretary of the Memphis Geological Society as well as Secretary of the Memphis Genealogical Society.

Mrs. Thomas L. Robinson, 2115 Hallwood Drive, was our charming hostess for June. Peggy is an artist whose paintings find a rapid sale, and it was very difficult to search for ancestors, as our eyes would wander from the books to her gorgeous pictures. Thank you, Peggy and Lucile, for your gracious hospitality.

Many of our members have enjoyed the splendid articles in "Echoes" and "The East Tennessee Historical Magazine" by Polly Anna Creekmore of the Lawson McGhee Library, located at 217 Market Street, Knoxville, Tennessee. This made meeting her in person, when she attended the Library Conference in Memphis, an enjoyable occasion. We shall look forward to more of her genealogical material and hope to visit the Lawson McGhee Library soon. The East Tennessee Historical Society sponsored a one day Genealogical Conference on Tuesday, July 20, 1965. It was conducted by Mr. and Mrs. George Everton of Logan, Utah. Mr. and Mrs. Everton conducted a similar Conference for the Memphis Genealogical Society last December.

May each of you have a very enjoyable and a most genealogically profitable summer.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Bunyan Webb

NOTES FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Last quarter we announced the reprinting of the first six volumes of "ANSEARCHIN" NEWS late this year or early in 1966. The first issue of "ANSEARCHIN" NEWS was published early in 1954. It and many of the later issues were originally printed from mimeograph stencils which have long ago shredded from being run again and again. This time, we decided to prepare a completely new edition. All items of one kind for the six years will be combined into one section or article. We estimate there will be over seventy pages of queries, and some of those early queries were fabulous. Some even contain complete Bible records. The new edition will have offset printing and will be indexed. The original issues contained the first pages of our compilation of Shelby County, Tennessee, Marriage Bonds, 1819-1850, as a supplement. These will not be included in this second edition as they are now available in a separate book. The price of the second edition has been adjusted downward accordingly. We estimated that the first six years of "ANSEARCHIN" originally sold for $14.00. Without the marriage bonds, we have announced a prepublication price of $9.00 and a price of $10.00 after January 1, 1966. The response to our announcement has been very pleasing to us. If you want a copy, please order it soon, so we will have a good idea of how many copies we should have printed.

One of our members, Mrs. George C. Lewis, 812 Summit Grove Ave., Bryn Mawr, Pennsylvania 19010, advises us of an error in "Tennesseans, Residents of Kentucky in 1850", last quarter, page 96. Mrs. Lewis says the entry for Knox County, Kentucky, No. 195, James M. Moss, should be Rufus M. Moss, the grandfather of Mrs. Lewis. We appreciate your writing us.

We also have a correction on Query No. 65-8. Mr. Claude B. Carter, 313 E. Washington Street, Kosciusko, Mississippi, advises us that No. 65-8 appeared as coming from Mrs. Claude B. Carter, and should have appeared as Mr. Claude B. Carter. Mr. Carter is a bachelor. We are sorry to have made this mistake, sir.

We wish to thank Mr. W. M. Redditt, Jr., Post Office Box 1222, Shreveport, Louisiana for presenting us with a copy of his new book THE REDDITT FAMILIES. The book contains the story of David Redditt, 1789-1843, and his wife Mildred J. Moore of North Carolina, Tennessee and Mississippi, and all of their known descendants. A second section is devoted to William Redditt whose records appear in North Carolina as early as 1713 and later in Chowan and Bertie counties. His will was proved in Bertie County in 1739. A third section has been compiled on Alexander Terrence Redditt, born about 1760, who moved from Bertie County to Beaufort County about 1784. The fourth section tells of other Redditt men for whom there is very little information, and data about a few collateral lines. The book contains about 200 pages and has a complete index. Price, $4.00.

We are most grateful to our member Mrs. James O. Maddux, P. O. Box 71, Spring City, Tennessee 37381, for a gift of her first book MEIGS COUNTY, TENNESSEE - 1850 CENSUS, 99 pages with a complete surname index. Goodspeed's sketch of Meigs County is also included as a preface. Data are arranged by house and family number, and pages are printed on one side only. Order at $6.00, postpaid.

We appreciate the interest of Mrs. Horace J. Kittrell, 7244 West Lake Drive, Dallas, Texas, for compiling AN ADDITIONAL INDEX TO NORTH CAROLINA LAND GRANTS IN TENNESSEE, 1778-1791. Mrs. Kittrell has contributed her index to us for publication, and it is presented in full on later pages of this quarter's issue.

MARTIN CHRISTOPHER RANDLEMAN, HIS KIN AND HEIRS, 1754-1964, has been compiled by Billee Snead Webb, and is available at $7.50 per copy, postpaid. The volume contains over 600 pages of material on the Randleman-Rendleman family with special emphasis on the families of three Revolutionary soldiers in Illinois, North Carolina, and states to the west. It may be ordered from Randleman, 2372 Brussels, North Bend,

The BISHOP FAMILIES IN AMERICA are proposing to start publication of a GENEALOGICAL AND HISTORICAL PERIODICAL, 32 pages monthly, subscription rate $7.50 per year. The compilers report data on some 25,000 descendants of eleven persons of the name who were in New England by 1650. A loose leaf form is planned so that additional data may be added as obtained. If this sounds interesting to you, write Ira E. Bishop, 18013 Armitage Ct., Homewood, Illinois 60430.

One of our new members, Mrs. Marie T. Greer, reports that she is the editor of a column called "Ancestor Seeker" in THE SABINE INDEX, a weekly newspaper, P.O. Box 955, Many, Louisiana 71449. She has been releasing early marriages of Sabine Parish from Book 1 of the records, and welcomes all Bible and cemetery records for publication.

Johnson's Book Store, 718 Third Avenue, West Point, Georgia, advertises PINE LOG AND GREEK REVIVAL by William H. Davidson, $15.70. This book is an architectural, historical and genealogical survey of homes in the three county area around West Point: Troup County and Harris County, Georgia, and Chambers County, Alabama, 400 pages, over 400 photographs, size 9 x 11 inches.

Mrs. Hazel R. Collins Ivison, 5704 Fairwood Drive, Mobile, Alabama 36609, announces that her book THESE SACRED PLACES will be published by July 30, 1965, $6.50. Mrs. Ivison has compiled over 3,000 tombstone records from Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana and Mississippi, and says that most of these cemeteries are in out of the way, forgotten or deserted places.

Miss Maud Potter, Route 1, Box 246, Mars Hill, North Carolina 28754, has a recently published family history, THE WILLISES OF VIRGINIA, a genealogical account of the descendants of Col. Francis Willis of Gloucester County, Col. Henry Willis of Fredericksburg, and William Willis of Southside Craney Creek. The price is $10.00.

WHO'S YOUR HOOSIER ANCESTOR? by Willard Heiss, is the title of a column that appears every Sunday in THE INDIANAPOLIS TIMES, Dept. B., 214 W. Maryland St., Indianapolis, Indiana 46206. Queries to the column must show an Indiana connection and all known dates and locations should be given. Both questions and answers appear in the column. We have just received copies of two booklets containing a reprint of the columns for 1963 and 1964. They sell for $1.00 each! A real bargain! The queries and answers pertain to countless families throughout the eastern part of the United States.

The Genealogical Publishing Co., 521-23 St. Paul Place, Baltimore, Maryland 21202, sent us a thick envelope of book announcements. A GENEALOGICAL DICTIONARY OF THE FIRST SETTLERS OF NEW ENGLAND by James Savage, 4 volumes, 2560 pages, $50.00; J.R.B. Hathaway's NORTH CAROLINA HISTORICAL AND GENEALOGICAL REGISTER, 3 volumes, 1760 pages, $37.50; and WISCONSIN HISTORICAL COLLECTIONS, edited by Draper and Thwaites, 21 volumes, $50.00, are three sets advertised. Also sent were pamphlets listing general subjects: reprints of ship passenger lists; American local history; early Pennsylvania records; reprints of Virginia local histories and basic genealogical reference books; Colonial and Revolutionary American history; British reference books; and published source records of Colonial Virginia.

Charles C. and Virginia W. Alexander, 903 Myers Avenue, Columbia, Tennessee 38401, have published a new book ALEXANDER KIN, dealing primarily with the seven Alexander brothers who came to Maryland, Delaware and Pennsylvania in the 17th Century, and whose descendants migrated to North Carolina and Tennessee. The book is fully indexed, 175 pages, offset printing, $8.50 per copy.

The Stamford Genealogical Society, 7 Fourth Street, Stamford, Connecticut 06905, is advertising 6 reels of microfilm containing various Connecticut records. They are: Reel 1, Stamford Town Meeting Records, 1640-1806, and Stamford Births, Marriages and Deaths, 1641-1852, $10.40; Reel 2, Connecticut Cemeteries, 1673-1911, and Headstone

Inscriptions of Stamford Cemeteries, $10.40; Reel 3, Abstracts of Stamford Church Records, Abstracts of Darien, Connecticut, Church Records, and an 1872 Directory of the Town of Stamford, $8.80; Reel 4, Abstracts of Records and Tombstones of the Town of Greenwich, Connecticut, $6.40; Reel 5, Abstract of Probate Records, Fairfield County, Connecticut, 1648-1750 and 1704-1757. $6.40; and Reel 6, Abstract of Probate Records, District of Stamford, Fairfield County, Connecticut, 1729-1802 and 1803-1848, $6.40.

Just before last quarter was published, Mr. Hugh B. Johnston, Jr., wrote us about his new book HISTORY OF JOHNS(T)ONS (p.52), and also sent us some of his columns "I'm Thinking", from THE EVENING TELEGRAM (p. 53). We asked him to contribute articles to us, and have received a draft titled "North Carolinians In Tennessee". It is a gem! See it on later pages.

Mrs. Ernest Hutcherson repeats her success of last quarter with the next installment of the Roane County Chancery Records. There are some wonderful genealogical records in that court. Mrs. Hutcherson has sent us a copy of her new book POPULATION SCHEDULES OF THE U.S. CENSUS FOR 1830 AND 1840, RHEA COUNTY, TENNESSEE, 47 pages, indexed, and listing not only the heads of households but also the number of persons, male and female, in each age bracket in the household. Microfilms of census schedules are very fine, but an indexed book is so much easier to search. A copy costs $3.00.

The Genealogical Book Co., 521-23 St. Paul Place, Baltimore, Maryland 21202, sent us a catalog "Genealogical Miscellany No. 6," which contains extremely interesting news of some 62 books of records from Maryland, Virginia, North and South Carolina, Kentucky, Missouri, Alabama and New York. Also offered was EARLY 18TH CENTURY PALATINE EMIGRATION by Walter Allen Knittle, 320 pages, indexed, $10.00, containing five ship lists and four other important lists of Palatine emigrants.

Borderland Books, Anchorage, Kentucky, has announced the publication of SOME PRE-1800 KENTUCKY TAX LISTS FOR THE COUNTIES OF FAYETTE - 1788, MASON (Later Floyd) - 1790, MERCER - 1789, WASHINGTON - 1792, compiled by Levi Todd and others. These tax lists are of value because most pre-date the first official census of the state and generally, cover territories larger than the present-day county areas. 28 pages, $2.00 per copy.

Mr. Adam S. Eterovich, Editor, Balkan and Eastern European American Genealogical and Historical Society, 4843 Mission Street, San Francisco, California, is introducing a semi-annual research bulletin, $3.00 per year, pertaining to people from Albania, Yugoslavia, Greece, Bulgaria, Rumania, Poland, Russia, Ukrania, Prussia, Austria, Finland, Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania, Turkey, Hungary and Czechoslovakia. He comments that between 1820 and 1910, approximately twenty-five percent of the Europeans entering the United States were from those countries, but there is very little recorded work on these nationalities in libraries. The bulletin is national in scope and coverage.

A genealogy of the LYLE, MURRELL, NANCE AND MORTON FAMILIES of Virginia and Tennessee, has been compiled by Mrs. Gladys Bracy, 5128 Wilmar Drive, Nashville, Tennessee. It contains 67 pages of Bible records, County records, old family correspondence and some biography, and it is indexed, $7.50.

One of our faithful Hawaii members, Mr. Lennis B. Hoops, asks that we advise all of his "Tennessee cousins" that his new address is P.O. Box 162, Farmington, New Mexico 87401.

The Genealogical Book Co., 521-23 St. Paul Place, Baltimore, Maryland 21202, sent a catalogue of books on IRISH HISTORY AND GENEALOGY. It lists some 63 books and two maps, one historical and the other genealogical. A $10.00 purchase entitles the purchaser to one map free, or may be purchased for $2.50 each.

ANCESTORS ARE WHERE YOU FIND THEM

(Abstracted by Mrs. L. D. Bejach, 43 Belleair Drive, Memphis, Tennessee 38104)

From Vol. II, No. 2, Orange County, California, Genealogical Society Quarterly, p. 9: THE KING FAMILY is an extensive account of a family who came to this country in the 17th Century, settling in Maryland, migrating to Pennsylvania and points south and west after serving in the Revolution, a branch of which took up residence about 1780 in the Holston Country in what is now Sullivan County, Tennessee. Edward King and wife Elizabeth Nichols brought their children with them, and this account follows the line through Thomas who married Susan Ann Sharp, both of whom are buried in Sullivan County, Tennessee. All persons searching for Tennessee Kings will be interested in knowing that the article is contributed by Mrs. Annabelle S. Rogers, 1400 Mayfield Road, Apt. 57-K, Seal Beach, California 90740. Mrs. Rogers gives no authorities in this account, but states that the King Family Bible records were printed in O.C.C.G.S. Quarterly, March 1965.

SCHOOL DAYS IN '86 REVIEWED is the headline on an article published in the Collier-ville Herald some months ago by Mr. Alfred Holden of Germantown, Tennessee. (The "clipper" failed to include the date line.) An accompanying photograph of very young people with their teachers has the following legend: The faculty and student body of "Miss Holden's Seminary", in the year 1886 is tentatively identified as follows: Miss Willie Wilson, Jimmy Northcross, Maury Leake, Walter Canada, Virginus "Buddy" Leake, Hugh Bedford, Clyde Schraeder, Wilson Northcross, Wallace Wilson, Henry Holden, Florine Webber, Elizabeth Humphreys, Edna Webber, Evie Cartwright, Pearle Lyle, Ella Belle Harris, Fanny Sale, Jackie Sale, May Morris, Minnie Harris, Miss Betty Baker, teacher, Alfred Humphreys (some of the boys told him they would all make faces, so he made one), Harry Mangum, Milton Wall, Ida Applewhite, Helen Mangum, ? Webber, Nettie Cartwright, Mittie Scott, Frenchie Morris, Irma Harrell, May Knox, Mrs. Eloise Holden, music teacher, Miss Charl Field, Miss Eddy King, Miss Anna Holden, principal, Miss Irene Crutcher, Miss Ludie Lacey.

The compiler found two tattered pages, torn from a Bible, folded and placed back in same - handwriting by various hands, ink faded - in a second hand furniture dealer's store in Memphis, Tennessee, this summer. The records follow, but will be happy to reproduce for interested readers, or to send originals if only one applies.

THE BIBLE OF JOHN GLEN

Contributed by Miss Milburn Divine, 800½ West Locust St., Johnson City, Tennessee

John Glen owned land in Botetourt, Roanoke, Craig and Montgomery counties, Virginia. His last home was "Glenwood" and called the "Old Mansion", on 3,000 acres east of Christiansburg. Only the foundations and fragments of white marble tombstones now attest to Glen occupancy. His will is recorded in Christiansburg. John Glen had twin sisters named Elizabeth and Agnes, who made more than one trek back to Northern Ireland. Each trip, according to him, caused too much packing and fuss and feathers, and he told them, "In this modern day and age only a reticule is needed to cross the Atlantic Ocean."

John Glen's son Robert died Jan. 24, 1867 and was buried at Tabo Church, Missouri. He was a graduate of Princeton and Transylvania and was a Presbyterian minister. He was minister of Old Red Brick Presbyterian Church in Christiansburg, Virginia, preached at Old Glade Springs Presbyterian Church, Glade Springs, Washington County, Virginia in 1840, and then went to Tazewell, Tennessee. He also preached in Jonesboro, Tennessee, about 1827. In 1852, he moved to Lafayette County, Missouri, where he had charge of Tabo Church. About 1859, he moved to a farm near Warrensburg, Johnson County, Missouri. His last visit to Christiansburg, Virginia, was in 1866. He outlived two wives and seven of his eight children.

John Glen was married to Sara Abernathy 2 May 1782.

AN ADDITIONAL INDEX TO
NORTH CAROLINA LAND GRANTS IN TENNESSEE, 1778-1791

In 1959, two of our members, Betty Goff Cook Cartwright and Lillian Johnson Gardiner, published NORTH CAROLINA LAND GRANTS IN TENNESSEE, 1778-1791. This valuable book of grants is the only substitute for the 1790 Census of the part of North Carolina that became Tennessee in 1796.

Mrs. Horace J. Kittrell, 7244 West Lake Drive, Dallas, Texas, searched its pages for an ancestor known to have been in the area, but failed to find him in the Index. She did find one of his kinsmen, and upon reading the information about the kinsman, found that the kinsman's property "adjoined" that of the ancestor for whom she was searching. This led her to a detailed study of the land descriptions and to the discovery of many more names of land owners and/or settlers who could also be included in the 1790 census substitute. She has prepared the following additional index and contributed it to us for publication. The list includes only surnames in some places. These were from the names of a "Creek" or "Branch" or "Fork", and indicate that particular person was at one time associated with the area.

THE EAKIN FAMILY

(Compiled by Dr. Benjamin L. Burdette, Shelbyville, Tennessee)

Dr. Burdette, at the request of his friend Mr. Deery Eakin, has prepared a short history of the Eakin family of Bedford County, Tennessee. We wish to thank both of these gentlemen for their kindness in allowing "ANSEARCHIN'" NEWS to publish this history, and Mr. Blair Jones of Pell City, Alabama, for providing us with a copy of the manuscript.

EXCERPTS FROM MEMOIRS OF FAMILY MEMBERS WHO CAME FROM IRELAND
TO SHELBYVILLE, BEDFORD COUNTY, TENNESSEE, IN THE YEAR 1822,

SUPPLEMENTED BY

RECORDS FROM THE DEED BOOKS OF BEDFORD COUNTY, TENNESSEE, AND INSCRIPTIONS FROM GRAVE STONES IN THE EAKIN-COWAN SECTION OF THE OLD SHELBYVILLE CEMETERY IN SHELBYVILLE, TENNESSEE.

John Eakin, the first.

John Eakin was the son of David Eakin of Scotland. He was a linen merchant and resided in Waterside, in Londonderry, Ireland. He was the father of a son, also named John Eakin, and a daughter, Mary Eakin.

From the recollection of his grandson Alexander Eakin: "My grandfather, John Eakin, was a resident of Waterside, Londonderry, Ireland. He was in the linen business part of his life. He had one daughter named Mary who married James Lindsay of the above place. My grandfather died at my father's in the year 1815 in his 84th year, and he was buried at a place called Enoch Loch Churchyard. My grandmother I do not recollect."

From the recollection of Mrs. Eliza McClelland, a sister of Alexander Eakin. The following was dictated by her in the year 1880: "My father's only sister, Mary Lindsay, had three daughters. One, Ann Lindsay, married a Mr. Dunn and lived near Dungivin. They died childless. The second, Mary or Molly Lindsay, married a Mr. Roseborough. They had four daughters and lived at Waterside. The third, Sallie Lindsay, married Robert Murrill and had six children: four sons, (a) James, (b) John, (c) Thomas, (d) Lindsay Murrill; and two daughters, (e) Margaret and (f) Ann Murrill. They came over to this country and settled near Cincinnati, Ohio, but afterwards removed to Tennessee where their descendants now live.

(a) James Murrill married a daughter of Dr. Alfred Dashiell who for a long time was pastor of the Presbyterian Church in Shelbyville.

(b) John Murrill died unmarried.

(c) Thomas Murrill married in Ohio and died years ago.

(d) Lindsay Murrill lives in Jackson, Tennessee. I do not know if he ever married.

My grandfather Rodgers' (on Mrs. McClelland's mother's side) second daughter, Mrs. McCreery (whose mother was Fannie Brown) came over to America and settled in New York. She had five sons, (1) John, (2) Thomas, (3) Rob, (4) Francis, (5) Boresford, all of whom were merchants. John is still living in New York in Brooklyn; Thomas and "Berry" in South Carolina; Francis died. Their only daughter, Margaret, married in South Carolina.

Mrs. Wallace (first daughter of Grandfather Rodgers) had one daughter, Fanny. They remained in Ireland.

John Lindsay, after my mother's death, married a Miss Buchanan, a fine woman. They had three sons, (a) Thomas, (b) James and (c) William Lindsay, and one daughter (d) Elizabeth, for whom I am named. (The husband of Mary Eakin, daughter of John and Jane (Rodgers) Eakin, was James Lindsay.)

- (a) Thomas Lindsay married a Miss Christy, an elegant lady, a daughter of an Episcopal clergyman. They lived at Waterside.
- (b) James Lindsay died.
- (c) William Lindsay came to America.
- (d) Elizabeth (Eliza) Lindsay married a Mr. McKay who lived near Derry. She had a family, but I do not know if any of them came to America.

Mr. Thomas Lindsay furnished my brother John Eakin with money to come to America. Brother Thomas Eakin went to Ireland in 1843 and paid all the debts with interest. My mother always called my brother John the "Joseph" of the family."

Note: Miss Laura Cowan of Shelbyville has the deed to the farm purchased in Coolafinney, also letters from Mr. Moore, the Presbyterian preacher, including their Church letters. Mr. Moore occupied the old Eakin home, a very pretty cottage, as a Manse.

More from the recollections of Alexander Eakin: "My grandfather on my mother's side was named Rogers. He was also in the Linen trade, purchasing for the "Bleaching Greens." My grandmother Rogers was Jennie Ramage. I never saw either of them as my mother was left very young an orphan and was raised by a stepmother Fannie Brown, whom I have seen and who was a most elegant woman. She had four children, two sons and two daughters. One of her daughters was Mrs. Wallace and one Mrs. McCreery. My half uncles Thomas and Alexander Rogers were nice men. I have seen both of them.

Thomas Rogers was a Surgeon in the British Army, and Alex Rogers was a Purser in the British Navy. Neither ever married and are long since dead.

I forgot to say my mother had two full brothers, Ross and William Rogers. The former came to this country and settled near Norfolk, Virginia. We have made inquiry but never found him. My mother said she had letters from him after he came to this country, saying he had procured a large quantity on James River, Virginia.

The other brother, William Rogers, emigrated to Scotland, where all our ancestors came from. All of true "Blue Stocking Presbyterian Stock!"."

John Eakin, the second.

John Eakin was born about the year 1761 in Waterside, Ireland. He died in the year 1825. He married Jane Rodgers or Rogers of Ireland. She died in the year 1846, aged 76 years. The date of her death was taken from the grave marker, the inscription almost illegible. She was born in the County of Derry, Ireland. She and her husband John Eakin are buried in vaults in the South East section of the Eakin-Cowan Plot of the old cemetery in Shelbyville. At the age of twenty-five, John Eakin left Waterside, Ireland, to make his home in Muff, a village about five miles south of Londonderry, Ireland. Here he learned the tanning business and established a tannery at Coola. The name of Muff in later years was changed to Eglinton.

For political reasons or overtaxation, John Eakin determined to move to America. In May 1822, the family left Ireland; John Eakin and his wife Jane (Rogers) Eakin, and seven of their children: Alexander, William, Mary, Jane, Thomas, Sarah, and Eliza, in all nine persons. William, a son of John Eakin, in his Memoirs, gave an interesting account of the long voyage to St. John, New Brunswick, to Philadelphia, overland to Pittsburg, down the Ohio River to the Cumberland, to Nashville, and to Bedford County, Tennessee. The family arrived in Bedford County in December 1822. They settled on a farm nine miles south of Shelbyville in the vicinity of Flat Creek Village.

Here John Eakin and his sons established another tannery which was operated until sometime after his death in 1825. By 1828 or a while thereafter, the firm of Eakin Brothers had so expanded in their business as to take in all the Eakin brothers. Advised by their mother, the farm and the tannery near the village of Flat Creek were sold.

John and Jane (Rogers) Eakin had five sons and six daughters. The table below does not present them in order of their birth.

- (1) John Eakin. His wife was Lucretia Pearson.
- (2) Alexander Eakin. His wife was Margaret Deery.
- (3) Spencer Eakin. He died unmarried.
- (4) William Eakin. His wife was Felicia Grundy.
- (5) Thomas Eakin. His wife was a daughter of Henry Ewing of Philadelphia.
- (6) Ann (also called Nancy) Eakin. Her husband was a Mr. Nevins.
- (7) Sarah Eakin. Her first husband was Benjamin Strickler.
Her second husband was William Guy Cowan.
- (8) Jane Eakin. Her husband was John W. Cowan.
- (9) Mary Eakin. She died unmarried.
- (10) Eliza Eakin. Her husband was James Irwin McClelland.
- (11) Isabella Eakin. She died in infancy or early childhood.

Of this large Eakin family and in-laws, the following are buried in the Eakin-Cowan Section of the Old Town Shelbyville Cemetery: John Eakin and his wife, Jane Rodgers Eakin; Alexander Eakin and his wife, Margaret Deery Eakin; Spencer Eakin; John Eakin and his wife Lucretia Pearson Eakin; Sarah Eakin and her husband William Guy Cowan, (her first husband is buried in an enclosure just south of the Eakin-Cowan enclosure) Jane Eakin and her husband, John W. Cowan; Mary Eakin; Ann Eakin, whose husband was a Mr. Nevins; and Eliza Eakin and her husband, James Irwin McClelland. William Eakin and his family, and Thomas Eakin and his family are not buried in Shelbyville.

- (1) John Eakin, son of John Eakin and Jane Rodgers Eakin.

The following data are from a newspaper article, the paper's name, date and the writer being unknown:

"John Eakin, the acknowledged head of this large family in Shelbyville, came from Ireland direct to Shelbyville in the year of 1817. He became a clerk for James Deery, Shelbyville's first merchant. He remained with him long enough to learn the merchandising business and then went into business for himself.

Success followed him and in 1819 induced his brother, Spencer, then in Ireland, to come to America and join him in business. Later he induced his other brothers to do likewise. With them they organized the firm of John Eakin and Co. They erected a store on the southeast corner of the public square which for years was known as the "Eakin Corner". The John Eakin and Co. established retail stores in several places in Middle Tennessee and North Alabama and in the 1830's established a wholesale store in Nashville. John Eakin was the head of the Eakin Bros. business adventures until his death in 1849.

At his death, he left a widow and a large family of children, but with the exception of Mrs. Sarah Spencer of Murfreesboro, Tennessee, and Messrs. Charles and George Eakin of St. Louis, Missouri, all are now dead (per newspaper date). John R., William S., Argyle P., and Emmett A. Eakin lived to maturity and dying, left families, but none of them alive resided in Shelbyville, excepting J. Hill Eakin, only son of Argyle, who resides in Nashville.

The wife of John Eakin and the mother of his many children survived him many years and died in Shelbyville. Her maiden name Lucretia Pearson, a plain country girl of the Flat Creek Community of this County, but belonging to one of the oldest and best families. It should be mentioned too that John Eakin and his great wealth were the prime movers in the building of the N.C. St. R.R. to Shelbyville."

In the mid area of the enclosed Eakin-Cowan plot in the old Shelbyville, Tennessee, cemetery, there is a large shaft monument to Alexander Eakin came with his father and mother and their children to Bedford County, Tennessee, in the year 1822. Soon thereafter he entered the merchandising business of the Eakin Bros. Co. and established a store in Fayetteville, Tennessee, returning later to Shelbyville. (The above from family records.) From a Newspaper write-up about the Eakin family is the following about Alexander Eakin.

"Alexander Eakin who was a brother of John Eakin, died here and left surviving him his widow, Margaret Eakin, and two Sons and two Daughters, viz.: James D. Eakin, who died in New York, a year since; Spencer Eakin, who resides in Nashville, Tennessee; Emma Eakin, who became Mrs. E. H. Ewing of Nashville. (It is believed to be to Alex Moorman, a classmate of mine who died sometime in the late 1880s or very early in the 1890s. He is remembered as a fine school mate and play mate. His passing was grievous, to those so close to him in school.)

(3) Spencer Eakin, son of John and Jane (Rodgers) Eakin.

The following was copied from his vault in the southeast enclosure of the Eakin-Cowan plot in the old cemetery in Shelbyville:

Spencer Eakin
Born in Muff, County of Derry, Ireland
Emigrated to Tennessee in the Year of 1819
Died June 27, 1840.

Much of the inscription on his vault is illegible. The following was deciphered: "... died while on a visit to his mother in Shelbyville, aged 40, an enterprising merchant of Nashville, Tennessee." Family records his death due to a stroke of paralysis. He was the purchasing agent for the Eakin Bros. Wholesale House in Nashville. For that firm he made the first visit to Eastern markets in the year 1836. His passing was a great loss to his firm. Family records state that in the late 1830's, John Eakin, Spencer's brother, who was head of the Eakin firm, was having to spend much time away from business and was spending it at "Oakland", a palatial brick residence he had built on his farm about two miles north of Shelbyville. In later years, this place became known as the Peacock Place. Spencer Eakin never married. In later years, many Eakin sons were named for him.

(4) William Eakin, son of John and Jane (Rodgers) Eakin.

William Eakin was born in Londonderry County, Ireland, in 1810. He came to Bedford County with his father, mother, and several of his brothers and sisters in 1822. After the family tannery business was sold in 1828, William was taken into the mercantile business which by then had become known in Middle Tennessee as Eakin Bros. Mercantile Co. William sold goods in Shelbyville from 1830 to 1836. In 1830, a destructive tornado struck Shelbyville and destroyed the Eakin store which William operated, and he being in the store at the time of the storm, barely escaped with his life. About 1836, the Eakin Bros. Co. established a wholesale business in Nashville. William's brother, Spencer, was in charge until 1840, when he died, and William became manager. In 1842, William married Miss Felicia Grundy. She was the daughter of Felix Grundy. They built their home on Cedar Street in Nashville and resided there until their deaths. William Eakin died at Mammoth Cave, Kentucky, August 8, 1849. Two children are recorded: Felix Eakin, born in 1842, died in 1846; and Jane Eakin, born 1845.

(5) Thomas Eakin, son of John and Jane (Rodgers) Eakin.

Thomas Eakin also came with his parents from Ireland in 1822, remained on their farm at Flat Creek for a short time, and was taken into the Eakin Bros. firm. He managed the Shelbyville store for a while, became associated with the wholesale business in Nashville, and later became a banker in New York. He married the daughter of Henry Ewing of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. They had no sons.

The following was copied from the newspaper WESTERN UNION, published in Nashville, Tennessee, May 7, 1874, after the death of Thomas Eakin.

"A meeting of merchants of Nashville held in regard to the death of a former citizen of Nashville, Mr. Thomas Eakin of New York, to draft resolutions. A native of Ireland, in early life, in 1822, came to Shelbyville, Tennessee, in 1836 removed to Nashville in partnership with his brothers in wholesale merchandising, a large business in Nashville and Middle Tennessee and having many stores. In 1854, he moved to New York for banking, his success there was great. He was a true and trustworthy banker, his office was a home to all Tennesseans, his friendship ever a sacred memory, kind, candid, and truthful; a man of principle. The public has sustained a great loss in the death of this active, useful, and virtuous citizen." A copy to be sent to his family.

(6) Ann Eakin, daughter of John and Jane (Rodgers) Eakin.

Ann Eakin was more often called Nancy in Ireland. The undated newspaper article states: "Still another sister of John Eakins, Mrs. Ann Nevins. She and her children have long since been dead." From family records it was made known that Nancy or Ann Eakin, when John Eakin and his family moved to America in 1822, was married and elected to remain in Ireland. After the death of her family, it was evident that she came to Shelbyville, Tennessee, to be with her people. She is buried in the first tomb of the five vaults from the entrance of the southeast enclosure of the Eakin-Cowan burial ground in the Shelbyville cemetery. Her husband and children apparently died in Ireland.

(7) Sarah Eakin, daughter of John and Jane (Rodgers) Eakin.

The undated newspaper article states: "Another sister married Benjamin Strickler in the year 1825, after his death became the wife of W. G. Cowan, a merchant here. Her Strickler children are all dead with the exception of Miss Christine Strickler. One of her children married Hon. Henry Cooper, at one time U. S. Senator from Tennessee; another daughter married Adams G. Adama of Nashville; her sons, John and Alexander Strickler, died unmarried. By George Cowan (I believe it should have read William Guy Cowan), her last husband, there were two children, one of these, Alexander Cowan, is a well known Presbyterian Minister near Nashville; her other child, Felicia Cowan, married the late Albert Frierson of this place, who died leaving three children, viz; Mrs. R. Sandusky, Mrs. R. W. Clark, and Dr. W. G. Frierson. Mrs. Frierson, herself, has been dead some years.

Monuments in the W. G. Cowan lot of the Shelbyville cemetery are:

(8) Jane Eakin.

Jane Eakin is recorded in the family records as a daughter of John and Jane (Rodgers) Eakin, and came from Ireland with her parents in 1822. There is no account in the family records of her marriage. The undated newspaper article refers to John Eakin and that he had "sisters who long resided in Shelbyville and who died here. One of these married John M. Cowan, a merchant here, and she left three daughters at her death. Viz: Mrs. Mary Lipscomb, Laura Cowan, The Third daughter was not mentioned."

The Cemetery contains the following headstones:

(9) Mary Eakin, daughter of John and Jane (Rodgers) Eakin.

In the southwest enclosure of the Eakin-Cowan section of the old Shelbyville cemetery, there are five vaults in a row. Going into the enclosure, the second vault from the entrance is to

Sister Mary Eakin
Died June 25, 1853
Aged 61 years.

Deed books of Bedford County, Tennessee, and markings on her vault in the graveyard definitely prove that Mary Eakin was never married, though this fact is not recorded in the Eakin Family records seen. The Deed Books referred to are: Book L.L., Page 118 in the 1840's and Book P.P., Page 300, 1847.

(10) Eliza M. Eakin, daughter of John and Jane (Rodgers) Eakin.

From the memoirs of her brother, William Eakin: "The Eakins also had a cash store in Shelbyville, managed by William McClelland, who later married Eliza Eakin."

Eliza Eakin's grave stone records the name of her husband as being James Irwin McClelland instead of William McClelland as found in family records.

The aforementioned newspaper article has the following: "Another sister of John Eakin and his brothers married James McClelland and resided in Huntsville, Alabama, for several years, but after the death of her husband, returned to Shelbyville and here died, leaving one daughter who is now married to Joseph Ransom of Murfreesboro, Tennessee." Eliza was the last of the Eakin children to die.

All of which will be sold unusually low for CASH. October 4, 1839.

The Eakin Bros. had two stores in Shelbyville: one for credit, the other for cash. It seems from the above that John and William Eakin ran the credit store and Thomas the cash store.

In 1810, the town of Shelbyville was surveyed and divided into 135 town lots. Until the Civil War, town lots were rarely bounded when sold, but deeded by lot number only. The following references are of deeds of purchases or sale of town lots by members of the Eakin family. They are recorded in the Register's office of Bedford County.

ROANE COUNTY, TENNESSEE, CHANCERY RECORDS

(Abstracted by Mrs. Ernest Hutcherson, P. O. Box 154, Rockwood, Tennessee 37854)

Pages 23 through part of 51: Christopher Hanes & Jacob Harmon VS John W. Houseley, Williston Talbot & Parry Talbot.

To file their bill 10 April 1820 in "The Supreme Court of Errors and Appeals for the Second Circuit in the State of Tennessee holden in Knoxville (Knox County)," the complainants made bond with John Hill and James Tucker, Junr. their security.

(The case is so lengthy that only a resume is given, with no attempt to explain its many involvements.)

In their bill, Christopher Hanes and Jacob Harmon were of Jefferson County, Tennessee, when they became the security, 2 Nov. 1818, for John W. Houseley of Mossey Creek in the same county for a note on the Bank of Tennessee. Houseley gave them a mortgage on all of his household furniture, a "logg distillery", stock of hogs and cattle. On 2 Jan. 1819, Houseley gave a note to Williston Talbot of Knox County, secured by the same property. A foreclosure was executed by Benjamin Thornburg, Esquire, J. P. for Jefferson County on 11 Jan. 1819; execution was put into the hands of Parry (spelled Perry some of the time) Talbot, deputy sheriff of same county. Williston Talbot bought 30 head of hogs at the sale which ensued. Hanes and Harmon made plea that all these persons be named as defendants in the case.

In Williston (spelled thus from this point) Talbot's answer he says that about 1815 or 1816, John W. Houseley made a contract with Christopher Hanes. Houseley had leased land from Hanes, had made large improvements, clearing land and building houses; they had made a new agreement, Houseley giving his improvement to Hanes and commencing a distillery at the place called the Iron Works. Houseley contracted debts; Williston Talbot had paid one to Moses Hodges for him and others to John Hill, Nath Cox, Aaron Newman and John Thornburg, for which Houseley had given him notes. At one time Talbot had in his hands a large sum of money belonging to Houseley, which he had received for produce he had taken to "Orleans". At another time Houseley had bought a negro from John Anthony of Knoxville for Hanes, paid for him out of his own money.

Williston Talbot swore to his statement before Benjamin Thornburg, J.P. for Jefferson County, 28 June 1820.

On the same day, before the same J.P., John W. Houseley made his answer. For several years he had resided on landed estate of said Hanes on Mossey Creek, was in the business of boating down the river and had made considerable profits for himself, most of which he had applied to the improvements.

After adding a distillery near 30 feet square and well furnished, a tavern and a saw-mill, having cleared 40 or 50 acres of land, well worth $1000., on Hanes proposal he had surrendered up to him his lease. Hanes paid $180 on the improvements for him to Wm. Brazelton; had paid no more. Hanes bought a judgment against him from Isaac Newman of Jefferson County and also levied on the property named in the mortgage, that part which had not already been taken for debts; George Hickie bought the distillery for $37, for which he had been offered $750 by Major Massengill.

John W. Houseley had a family; his labour of near five years had been swept from him together with a considerable property he took with him to the place when he made his first establishment at the Iron Works.

John White was called the son-in-law of Christopher Hanes, and later a John White's heirs were mentioned.

After the answers of the defendants in the bill, several "Exhibits" are recorded, the mortgage, notes, receipts, etc. One receipt is for $200, from John Houseley by the hands of his wife, headed "Mossey Creek 28 July 1814". A note, dated 19 May 1815, from Houseley, Harmon and Hanes to William Massengill for $115., a credit on same note written, "Robert Massengill - Feb. 26 1816 Cr." for $50, 7 June 1825, came on this cause for final hearing. The court decreed that all the notes, mortgages, etc. be reviewed and find who owed whom.

To the Honorable the Judges of the Superior Court of Errors and Appeals setting at Knoxville for the Second Circuit. (This is also a case which started at Knoxville and was transferred to Chancery Court in Roane County.)

Joseph Park Complainant...Orator Joseph Park of County of Davidson and town of Nashville, that some time previous to 1809 he contracted to convey to Julius Conner.... land...640 acres in County of Hawkins (Tenn.) on the South side of Holston...(description of land)...for $1100....Conner paid until reduced to $510.94...18 Oct. 1809 Conner made a note for balance to Park. Andrew Galbreath witnessed the note. Conner was then in occupation of the land....not having paid note on 14 Aug. 1810....he assigned said bond for title to Robert Nall of Hawkins County....Nall took possession of land and had enjoyed possession ever since. (Both Conner and Nall refuse to pay the balance.) Signed P. M. Miller, Attorney.

Exhibit A - 18 Oct. 1809, the contract wherein Joseph Park sold to Julius Conner, the land with note against it.

16 Aug. 1810 the assignment of the obligation to Robert Nall, by Conner. Wm. Paine witnessed it.

7 June 1825, before Jacob Peck, Esquire, the bill of complaint was heard and an order was made to sell the land unless Robert Nall paid the note against it before the first Monday in December next. Complainant had filed his bill with the Clerk and Master of the Chancery Court in Roane County, Tennessee.
