"ANSEARCHIN'" NEWS is the official publication of the Tennessee Genealogical Society. Published quarterly. Annual subscription $7.00. All subscriptions begin with the first issue of the year. All subscribers are requested to send queries for free publication. Every effort will be made to publish accurate material, however, The Tennessee Genealogical Society, "ANSEARCHIN'" NEWS or the editor can assume responsibility for errors on the part of the contributors. Proved errors will be published. Books donated to our library will be reviewed in the earliest possible issue of the quarterly. Contributions of all types of genealogical information will be accepted. All material for publication is subject to editing to conserve space. We publish previously unpublished Tennessee connected data, preferably with most dates pre-Civil War. Publishable and nonpublishable contributions are put on file in our library for the use of our members.

NOTES FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

We hope you all were very lucky this summer in finding lots of records regarding your ancestors. Nothing is quite so thrilling as finding just the record you are searching for, perhaps just the one you have been looking for for many months. Keep an eye on the Book Reviews because there are so many books being reprinted from very old out of print volumes, books that many of us really would like to have but, so far, had not been able to obtain a copy. Also, many census records are being published. We all know just how important census records can be because they put a person in a certain place at a certain time. One such census record has just been published:

1810 CENSUS OF CALDWELL COUNTY, KENTUCKY typed, indexed and published by Don Simmons. Lists males and females by age groups: 0/10 - 10/16 - 16/26 - 26/45 - above 45. Contains 20 pages. This is a welcome addition to our library, because so many of us here in Tennessee have ancestors that either came from or went to Kentucky. Some of us have ancestors that did both. Order from: Simmons Historical Publications, Melber, KY 42069. Price $2.00.

NEWS AND NOTES FROM OTHER PUBLICATIONS

TAP ROOTS. Quarterly of the Genealogical Society of East Alabama, Inc., Hurtsboro, ALA 36860. Published July, October, January and April. Beginning with first issue of Volume 15 (1977/1978) dues will be $10.00 per yr. Following format of last issue containing annual index for each volume, #4 of Vol. 14 (1976/1977) also offers family cemeteries of Cummings, Shippey and Culpepper, all in GA and Ivey-Mitchell Cemetery of Russell Co., ALA; Original Landowners - present Lee Co.; Marriage Records (Book 5 cont.) of Tallapoosa Co., ALA 1835-1880.

Buland, 1100 East Teresea, Salpulp, OK 74066. As with most family associations, their publications are a great source of information for researchers of that "one" surname and allied lines. The Chestnut Tree is no exception. Vol. 2, #2, April 1977, lists Chastains (all spellings) found in the following: Index to Tennessee Confederate Pension Applications and Roster (from Tennessean in the Civil War); Buried in Christian Co., MO. 1830 Census of East Tennessee and Middle Tennessee; The Chastain Families of Manakin Town in Virginia (continuing).

For membership, $5.00 per yr including receipt of quarterly and newsletter, make check payable to Mrs. Danny J. Young, Rt 1, Centertown, MO 65023. Although a number of the 44 pages of this first issue of Volume I consist of Society News, the By-laws, index, etc., the sample of genealogical material filling the remaining pages makes you anxious for the next issue. One such item is a 5 page listing of those who died in the mid-Missouri area between April 1831 and December 1840 and on whom a Notice of A Letter of Administration was advertised in the Jefferson Republican. Another, from the same source, is a list of Delinquent Tax Debtors in Cole Co., MO, yr 1831. Among others are Early Laws of Missouri, which contain a surprising amount of genealogical material, Bible records and queries.

FAMILY PUZZLERS. Heritage Papers, Danielsville, GA 30633. Printed weekly, subscription price is $15.00 per yr. Although we enjoy reading each issue all the way through, not only for the genealogical problems and answers, but for the announcements, helpful hints, etc., we often have to skim through hurriedly and perhaps overlook something important. NOW there is a surname index in each issue. How lucky can you get? Thank you, Family Puzzlers.

Also in this issue are (continuing) Marriage Book 2, Montgomery Co.; Forbes Bivouac #21, Clarksville, TN; McReynolds Funeral Home Records. New articles are 1841 "Census" Montgomery Co. Districts 8-12; Minute Book 1, Montgomery Co.; Misc. and Queries. FAMILY TREETALK. Quarterly of the Muskegon County Genealogical Society of Michigan, c/o Hackley Library, 316 W. Webster, Muskegon, MI 49440. For further information on membership, dues, etc., please write the society. Although the complimentary copies we have just received are not current (June, Sept. & Dec. 1975), we find the material offered most interesting. The main item is the Holston Township Cemetery Records. Even though the burial dates cover the period of Jan. 1917-Feb. 1925 and Apr. 1925-Jul. 1933, there is quite a bit of earlier genealogical information included, as the majority of the deceased listed were born in mid and late 1800's. For example: "Carrie Welton, widowed; b 27 Jan 1838 in York State; d 26 Jan 1817 - housewife. Father, Geo Chapman, b York State; mother Betsey Davidson, b York State. THE DRAPER MANUSCRIPTS

Perhaps one of the most neglected sources available for researchers interested in the genealogy of the Old Southwest, especially Tennessee and Kentucky, during the last half of the Eighteenth and the first half of the Nineteenth century is the Lyman C. Draper collection.

Born on the New York frontier in 1815, Draper grew up hearing of the heroic deeds of his frontier ancestors, and it disturbed him that so little was written about the patriots of the West who had served so admirably during the American Revolution and the numerous Indian Wars. After attending college in Ohio, Draper at the age of twenty-three, decided to devote his life to writing the history of the people of the West. He envisioned a monumental work that would contain extensive detailed biographical sketches of frontiersmen as well as other historical studies of the decisive battles of the region. In order to ensure the accuracy of his writings, Draper spent a lifetime collecting historical materials. This task sent him on extensive journeys into the West, especially Tennessee and Kentucky where he visited with numerous elderly Revolutionary War veterans. During these visits Draper took extensive notes not only on the veterans' war years, but also on their families and their lives on the frontier. Oftentimes, veterans and their descendants upon learning of Draper's forthcoming books readily gave him valuable family documents, including papers relating to war service. From 1838 through 1863 Draper estimated that he traveled 41,000 miles "in quest of border historical facts and documents". Before his death in 1891 he had traveled more than 60,000 miles. In addition to his travel, he gathered much of his information by mail. In fact, Draper became so dependent on the United States Postal service for his work, that he used the political influence of a friend to secure a free franking privilege while serving as a newspaper editor in Pontotoc, Mississippi in 1840-1842.

Although Draper lived and collected historical material until 1891, he was never able to write his Magnum opus. Like many others who have cultivated an intense interest in history and genealogy, he enjoyed collecting and organizing historical information, but could not often bring himself to complete the written work. He often wrote a few short biographies for Appleton's Cyclopaedia, and he completed one full work entitled, King's Mountain and Its Heroes: History of the Battle of King's Mountain, October 7, 1780 and the Events which Led To It. (1881) However, he did not utilize other materials which he had collected, such as the Boone, Clark, Preston, Sumter and other papers or those dealing with the Frontier Wars, Tennessee, Kentucky, Virginia and other states of the Old Southwest.

Since Draper's death his collection has been used by numerous historians who are writing about the same region that Draper admired so greatly. The collection was willed to the Wisconsin State Historical Society. In the past few years it has been microfilmed and is now available in most universities and large public libraries.

Although the collection should prove useful to many genealogists, it has received little attention in the past because of the lack of indexing or any type of finding aids. Calendars have long been available for the Preston and Virginia Papers, the Kentucky Papers and the Tennessee and King's Mountain Papers. These Calendars for the papers were prepared to aid the researcher, but one must remember that they are not indexes to the collection. The purpose of a calendar is to arrange the documents pertaining to one subject in chronological order. It also briefly describes each article. As an example, the first document, King's Mountain Papers is dated June 14, 1742, pertaining to a land grant in Prince George County, Maryland and the last dated document listed an obituary of November 16, 1916, incorporated after Draper's death. Included in this calendar are letters from John F. Watkins of Memphis, Tennessee, on April 14, 1874. Written in this letter is a wealth of genealogical information on the Cleveland family. However, only by turning to the microfilm does one learn the particulars of the family. The calendar gives you only a clue; the genealogists must use this clue to search more deeply for the information which he or she seeks. Fortunately, each of the calendars is indexed, but remember that this index only includes the names of the persons listed in the published calendar and not all of the names mentioned in the collection.

Like so many other genealogy sources, the Draper Papers require a lot of time to research. Because of the calendars, the Preston, Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee and King's Mountain papers and manuscripts are at least more accessible than the other materials in the collection. The calendars help place the historical document or personal letter to Draper in the proper time sequence. Furthermore, the brief description of each of the papers gives valuable clues as to what may be of use to you. Naturally, the more you know about the line you are searching, the more you will be able to successfully use the collection. Since the papers contain a wealth of information in a time period when so many other sources have been destroyed or lost, I believe the Draper papers are well worth the time it will take to research them.

HENDERSON COUNTY, TENNESSEE CEMETERY INSCRIPTIONS, Volume I, II and III. Forward by William L. Barry. 1976. Soft Backs. Over 706 pages in the three volumes. Indexed. Order from: Henderson County Cemetery Project, c/o Mrs. Robbie Wallace, County Court House, Lexington, TN 38351. $10.00 for the three volumes.

These volumes have been a tremendous task undertaken by Mrs. Robbie Wallace and many different groups of workers and individuals. All these people are to be congratulated on a job well-done. Mr. Barry thinks this work is exceptionally accurate and the most complete ever published in Tennessee. Included is every cemetery known to be in Henderson County, with the possible exception of some very small burial places and a few isolated graves. This was truly a labor of love taking two years in the preparation. Two congressmen lying 50 feet of one another, soldiers of all our wars since the Revolution, teachers, scientists and professional men of moderate success are found among these graves. Cemeteries are indexed in Volume I and the surname index is in Volume III.

Over 72 pages. Indexed. Order from Polyanthos, Inc., P.O. Drawer 51359, New Orleans, LA 70151. $12.50.

The War of 1812, thought of in terms of the capture and burning of Washington, the attempt to reduce the forts around Baltimore, the battles on the Canadian border and the sea fights, the "Constitution" and, of course, the battle of New Orleans. In Alabama and Georgia the Creek Nation had been pushed from all sides. Georgia, the Gulf Coast, the Mississippi River settlements from the west and the settlements in Tennessee were drawing a noose about the Creek Nation of Indians ably led by the halfbreed, Wm. Weatherford and Peter McQueen, rose and attacked wherever they could find an exposed homestead, plantation or local fort. On Aug. 30, 1813, some 750 Creek Warriors caught the fort at Mim's plantation off guard and captured the fort killing some 247-553 people. The Fort Mims massacre was the worst of these depredations suffered by the frontiersmen. Claims against the losses suffered by settlers in the counties of Clark, Baldwin, Washington, Mobile and Monroe in Mississippi Territory taken from the records of the National House of Representatives found in the National Archives are presented by the compiler.

The data is arranged alphabetically by name and is grouped by county. The officer's rank, date of commission, company and regiment is given. The information should aid in tracing commissioned officers of the Tennessee Militia as well as for Tennesseans who served in campaigns outside of the state, such as: Doherty's march toward New Orleans in 1803; Jackson's campaign to Natchez in 1812-13; the Creek Wars; the battles against Great Brittan on the Gulf Coast in 1814-15 and the war against the Seminole Indians in FLA. Part 3 is devoted to unidentified Bowen records: Census, marriage, cemetery, land, will and Bible. A wealth of information on this family is packed between the covers of this book.

ARLINGTON COUNTY VIRGINIA, A HISTORY by C. B. Rose, Jr. 1976. Hard backs. Over 274 pages. Indexed. Order from the Arlington Historical Society, Box 402, Arlington, VA 22210. $7.50.

Gelealogists will look for Arlington County, Virginia records, census, etc. under the heading of Alexander County for the date 1801-1920, and Arlington County after 1920. The Virginia General Assembly changed the name to honor Gen. Robert E. Lee. The first county of the Colony of Virginia which contained present Arlington was Northumberland followed by Stafford, Prince William and Fairfax. Arlington (Alexander) was a part of Fairfax until 1801. The history of land tenure and legislation for the county must be sought in the records of these counties for the period 1648-1801. The author has given a comprehensive, although compact, history of this county which is rich in the story of the Colony and State of Virginia. Most interesting to read, well arranged and compiled.

PETER DICKS AND HIS DESCENDANTS. Compiled by Forrest A. Dicks. 1977. Soft backs. Over 80 pages. Indexed. Order from the author, Broadlands, ILL 61816. $3.50.

James Dicks was a flaxdresser who was born in Chester Co., ENG, whose date of birth, death and parents are unknown. James Dick bought from William Penn 250 acres of land in Chester Co., PA 3-3-1681. He sold these acres 3 yrs. later to his son, Peter, who was still living in ENG. Peter's wife was Ester Maddock. The Dicks were Quakers, as were most of the others who lived in Chester Co., PA. This caused some of the family along with other Quakers who had moved to NC to later remove to Orange County, ILL. Peter was the father of seven children: Hannah, Elizabeth, Sarah, Esther, Deborah, Nathan and Peter. Numerous allied lines in the Dicks lineage.

HISTORY OF CHATTAHOOCHEE COUNTY, GEORGIA. Compiled by N. K. Rogers. 1933. Reprinted. 1976. Hard backs. Over 405 pages. Indexed. Order from The Southern Historical Press, c/o Rev. Silas Emmett Lucas, Jr., P. O. Box 738, Easley, SC 29640. $20.00.

Chattahoochee Co. was formed in 1854 from Muscogee and Marion Counties. The county was only seven years old when the Civil War broke out and is characterized as a "Gulf County". However, it is in south central GA and borders ALA with the Chattahoochee River separating the two states. The story of the county is well done and interestingly told. Many names are listed: Soldiers of the wars, by companies; marriages from 1854 to 1889; abstracts of wills and many pages of family genealogies, including photos. Presents a good source for finding your ancestor to be a bank official, court clerk or in a Georgia Militia.

THE 1832 GOLD LOTTERY OF GEORGIA. Copyrighted by the Rev. Silas Emmett Lucas, Jr. 1976. Hard backs. Over 596 pages. Alphabetized by counties. Order from The Southern Historical Press, c/o Rev. Silas Emmett Lucas, Jr., P. O. Box 738, Easley, SC 29640. $35.00.

The last, or 1832 Land Lottery of GA, made available for distribution and settlement that part of the Cherokee Indian Nation which was in GA. Other parts of the Nation were in ALA, TN, NC and earlier SC. The Nation, in GA was generally north of the Chattahoochee River in the northwest and north central parts of the state. Gold has been mined in the Allegheny Mts. VA to their tips in GA and ALA. Along the eastern and eastern edge of the the "Nation" gold was found. This gold containing portion of the Nation was divided into 40 acre gold land lots while the rest of the Nation was surveyed into 160 acre land lots. This book lists those who drew 40 acre "gold" lots in the 1832 lottery. The list of the fortunate drawers in said lottery is well worth reading.

OAKLAND CEMETERY, TRENTON, GIBSON COUNTY, TENNESSEE

Contributed by Betsy F. West

I visited Oakland Cemetery on May 30, 1977. It is well-kept, large and shaded by huge oak trees that must have been large when a battle of the War Between the States was fought on these ridges and ravines. The cemetery is divided by a paved road meandering from east to west. On the south side are mostly "modern" monuments, dating from the late 19th Century to this year. There are records of these plats in City Hall, and this section is called "The New Cemetery" by Trenton citizens.

On the north side of the main road is "The Old Cemetery". The oldest section lies on the brow of a ridge across which the battle was fought. There are C.S.A. markers on many graves, and a row of seven or eight of these markers with no further monument. A local citizen said that she recalled many more such markers which are no longer there.

I copied as many stones as time allowed, choosing first those which were oldest, most endangered or broken. When a modern date was included, it was because a member of the family was more recently buried in the family plot. This is by no means a complete survey - simply all I could get in a day's time. Also, in order to save space and time, I have omitted such familiar phrases as "Sacred to the memory of". In a few cases, phrases were copied if they indicated some family situation of genealogical value.

The earliest burial I found was a small box tomb above ground. The inscription was:

ELVA L. HARRIS, infant daughter of B. F. and S. E. HARRIS

Born Aug 2, 1817 - Died July 22, 1818

Nearby was a large flat slab. The inscription read:

MIRIAM EASTHAM, Relict first of Col. JOEL LEWIS; next of Col RALPH CRABB

Born Feb 5, 1769 - Died Feb 7, 1846

I was told this lady was a widow of two Revolutionary soldiers.

Lying overturned beside this slab was a large shaft, two sides of which are inscribed. There is an inscription on the side next to the slab, but it was too hidden to be read. The inscription reads:

ELLA AUGUSTA LEWIS Born Jan 7, 1801 - Married Dec 11, 1821 WILLIAM E.

LEA - DIED Nov 20, 1849.

The second side says:

SARAH ANN HARPER LEA Born Sep 16, 1833 - Died Mar 1, 1850

Other inscriptions, arranged in family groups, where possible, follow. Remember, some more recent stones may not have been copied, particularly if their condition was so good it didn't seem threatened by time and weather.

(One shaft engraved on each of four sides)

"APPREHEND THE VILLIAN" About three years ago I was married to a young man who said his name was James Dunnagan. After living to gether in a tranquil state for about 12 months, he absconded without giving me the least inimation of his designs. What makes his conduct the more inexcusable is this, there never had any difference taken place between us. I have since learnt that his true name is John Dunnagan and that he has and does still reside near Nashville. He has written to me several times since and declared his true name to be John Dunnagan and that he had another wife before he married me. He has, I am informed, married another woman in Tennessee. Dunnagan is about 5 ft. 11 inches, well made, with blue eyes, a joint is cut off his middle finger on his left hand. He dresses well and has an air of gentility in his appearance. He is a blacksmith by trade, as well as, shoe and bootmaker. There will be proof sufficient in Tennessee to convict this abandoned villian as a certain Mr. James Pickle, who intends to reside near Nashville saw us married. The gentleman of Nashville and vicinity will, it is hoped, use some exertion to find him out.

Nancy Dunnagan

North Carlina, Orange County, near Hillsbough. March 21, 1814 Twenty-five cents reward. Runaway, an apprentice boy named Eli Littleton. About 18 years of age, dark complexion, dark eyes, dark hair, about five feet four inches high. All persons are forewarned from harboring or dealing with said boy as the law will be strictly enforced against such.

Daniel Hausbrough

ABSTRACTS OF ILLINOIS BIOGRAPHIES

Contributed by Elizabeth R. Nichols (Mrs. J. E.)

In 1887, The Goodspeed Publishing Company of Chicago, published their first edition of HISTORY OF GALLATIN, SALINE, HAMILTON, FRANKLIN AND WILLIAMSON COUNTIES (of) ILLINOIS, which contains histories and biographies of the five named counties. In 1976, Unigraphic, Inc., Evansville, IND, published a reproduction of the original edition. The abstracted biographies which follow show some connection with Tennessee in the life of the subject. Because these are abstract and are not complete quotes, the researcher should refer to the original book for complete information. Abbreviations used are as follows:

B. - Born
 D. - Died
 M. - Married

PTS. - Parents
 SIB. - Sibling
